The twenty-fifth annual convention of American Institute of Architects opened in Boston, Mass., on the 28th of October, and adjourned upon the 30th. One of the main features of the occasion was the reading of a paper on the "Government Buildings of the United States," by James H. Windrim, Director of Public Works, of Philadelphia, Pa. Another matter received some attention, being the relation between architect and contractor, the giving and acceptance of contracts under present system. Culver & Hudson, architects, 234 W. Fourth Street, Williamsport, Pa., have just completed plans for a church to be erected by the Erie Avenue Baptist congregation, comprising Sunday school and class rooms, pastor's room, library and main audience room, with a seating capacity of 800. The structure will be built of native brick, with a liberal use of cut stone, and cover a ground area of 72 x 102. The entire building will be heated by steam from local plant and lighted by electricity. Estimated cost, $25,000.—The Lycoming Opera House Co. have revised plans of office portion of their new building, now in course of erection, and previously mentioned. The revision calls for two additional stories, making in all a five-story structure, exclusive of basement. A high-speed hydraulic elevator has also been added on account of the increased height.—Drawings are now on boards for extensive alterations and improvements to the Wire Buckle Suspender Co.'s building, 45 W. Third Street, consisting of an entire rearrangement of store rooms and new street front of 52 feet, to be built of tooled Indiana lime-stone, and quite elaborate in ornamentation. Large plate glass show windows will also be introduced. All the above improvements are confined to Williamsport. The same architects have also under way plans for a summer cottage, to be erected at Minnequa, Pa., for Dr. H. C. Dana, of Philadelphia, Pa. The exterior will be of ornate design, with shingles, plaster and open timber work. Heat supplied from open grates and hot-air furnace in cellar. Good plumbing and modern conveniences will be included in the work.—Plans are also about completed for a residence for Geo. S. Shimer, Milton, Pa., and contemplate a three-story house, to be built of pressed brick and Portage red stone, with slate and tile roof. The interior will be finished in hard woods and fitted with every convenience, including electric bells, hot-water heat, lavatories, bath and toilet rooms in tile, combined gas and electric light, frescoing, plain and stained glass, dumb waiter, cement work in basement, best plumbing, etc.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

W. Steele & Son, contractors, 506 Walnut St., will at once begin work of putting in new walls to factory at Jasper and York streets, these to be of brick.

Woelfel & Schmunk will at once begin the erection of eight two-story brick houses, north side of Tioga, west of Eighth Street. These are to have all modern conveniences.

It is said that the purchase of property at Marcus Hook is intended as a site for a refinery, in which the Reading Railroad Co. and a number of Pittsburg capitalists are interested.

George F. Payne & Co., 401 South Juniper Street, will build a large coal shed, 22 x 148 feet on Pennsylvania Avenue, west of Nineteenth Street, to be of stone, brick, iron and frame work.

J. R. Sichel, 5418 Haverford Avenue, is to begin work at once upon eight two-story houses on Westminster Avenue, west of Fifty-fourth Street. All to be of press brick, stone trimmings, and best modern conveniences.

John Stafford, 1606 Susquehanna Avenue, will at once begin the erection of seventy houses, two and three stories high, on east and west sides of Dover Street, north of Columbia Avenue. All to be of brick, with stone trimmings, and best of modern conveniences.

A contribution has been received, amounting to $6000, from Mrs. Charles E. Coulson, to erect a separate building for the purposes of an operating department at the Methodist Episcopal Hospital. The structure will be erected as a memorial to the donor's husband, and will bear his name.

William C. Mackie, carpenter, of Chestnut Hill, has received the contract to erect the new Calvary P. E. Church at Manheim and Pulaski Avenues, Germantown, and will begin work at once. The plans have been fully described in previous issues of this journal. The cost will be about $50,000.

Joseph Bird, contractor, will make an alteration and addition to the Windsor Hotel, Filbert street, above Twelfth. As indicated in our issue of the 21st inst., it is intended to put in a new front, utilize the side ones, and entirely refit the interior, with rooms furnished with all modern conveniences, electric wiring, best of plumbing, steam heat, etc.

The transfer of the entire market property at Twelfth and Market Streets to the Reading Terminal has been consummated, and is now under control of that organization. They intend to complete entirely the space between Filbert and Arch Streets before any move will be made upon the main structure, which has been fully described in a previous issue.

Charles McCaul, contractor, 20 North Eleventh Street, will at once begin the erection of an immense boiler house, 54x119 feet, upon the grounds of the Mount Airy Deaf and Dumb Institution. Ten boilers of great capacity and power will be placed, as well as radiating supply pipes and machinery. It will also be supplied with electric work and modern appliances.

At a meeting of City Council's Committee on Police and Prisons, a short time since, Prison Inspector Robbins explained to the Committee the need of introducing an improved system of lighting in Moyamensing Prison. It was recommended that electric lights be supplied, and $15,000 was estimated as being the cost of a plant sufficient to light the cell corridors. The Committee decided to allow the item.

The Penn Canoe Club was formed at the Colonnade Hotel on the evening of October 30th, under very favorable auspices, and at once passed resolutions asking admission into the Schuylkill Navy. It is also the intention of this club to erect at an early day a house for their especial accommodation. The officers are: M. D. Welt, Commodore; C. H. Elliott, Vice; Dr. T. W. Buckingham, Secretary.

The Pennsylvania R. R. have resolved to at once begin the erection of quite a large addition to what is known as "Castle Garden," at the foot of Washington Avenue. The structure will be an extension of the above building to Pier 53, and placed entirely under one roof, so as to make the handling of emigrants and their luggage more convenient for the U. S. authorities. This has been done at the request of the Surveyor's office, through whose department the most important work of examination must pass.

A number of the residents of Germantown Avenue are preparing a petition to Councils asking that body to open Midvale Avenue from Ridge Avenue across the Park and the Schuylkill River to Fifty-second Street Station in West Philadelphia. It is proposed to erect a double-decked bridge across the river near Chamounix, past the Country Club house, Gentlemen's Driving Park, Belmont and George's Hill. It is understood to be in favor, and likely to pass both chambers when put to a vote.

W. J. McCahan & Co., sugar refiners, located one square south of the immense plant of Claus Spreckels & Co., are about organizing a company with a capital of $3,000,000, for the purpose of erecting another great plant upon the ground occupied by their present refinery, extending from Ot-ego street east to the Delaware River, and with facilities for shipment upon both the P. R. R. and the B. & O. R. R. New buildings are contemplated, the number of which has not been fixed upon, but sufficient has developed to say that it will be second to no other in the product of sugar. No plans have been ordered or drawn nor have any contracts been let.

The work of regrading the North Penn R. R. at the intersection with the P. R. R., at North Penn Junction, and referred to in our issue of the 28th inst., is now being considered in a practical way. Plans are being made by the engineers of both roads, looking to joint action, and the feasibility of establishing a union depot at that location. The City Finance Committee will be asked for an appropriation of $200,000, to help this improvement in the matter of public highways, as the streets and grades would be affected to a great extent. It is estimated that $22,000 would deflect the N. P. R. R. tracks under the Penna. R. R., and prevent in the future many accidents which have been incident to the crossing of the crossing of the two roads.

A meeting of the Building Committee of Board of Managers of the Pennsylvania Hospital was held on October 26th, when a number of recommendations were made to the Managers in regard to the new Administration Building about to be erected from plans by Addison Hutton, architect. It is proposed to erect it near Spruce Street, where the Nurses' Home now stands. It will be 60 x 60 feet, three stories high, of brick, heated by steam, and contain rooms for steward, librarian, and resident physicians. In it will be placed the library, and the picture of "Christ Healing the Sick." Many other minor additions and alterations will be made under the general contract when it is let. A nurses' home will be subsequently erected, which will be 37 x 100 feet, three stories high, and fitted with every convenience.

The Commissioners of Fairmount Park have asked for $559,219 for Park improvements. Among the items for which extra appropriations are asked are: Further work on the West River drive, $5000; opening Midvale Avenue, towards Simpson's, $5,000; Wissahickon entrance to the Park, $5,000; to continue work on Lincoln drive, in the Wissahickon section, $5000; for the Centennial Concourse, $10,000; for improvement in the vicinity of Memorial Hall, estimated, $3000; to further the work of avoiding the dangerous railroad crossings in the West Park, $10,000; construction of river wall of bulkhead, from Falls of Schuylkill wooden bridge to the stone bridge at the Falls, $5000; completing the concourse at Powers & Weightman's meadow, $4000; for extending the electric and gasoline system of lighting, especially in the vicinity of Strawberry Mansion, $5000; to complete the new roof of Memorial Hall, $25,000; for replacing with iron and glass the east and west fronts of Horticultural Hall, $20,000; for betterments in the vicinity of the Zoological Garden, $5000; for river wall in West Park, $20,000; for macadamizing roads, $30,000.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, NOV. 11, 1891.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communication for publication may be left.

WE are in receipt of a very practical sort of a circular issued by Messrs. Felton, Rau & Sibley, paint and varnish manufacturers of this city, treating upon hard and fancy wood filling and finishing for interior work of all kinds. This firm, in a very unique and practical way, takes the bare wood itself, and, after producing many and beautiful effects, clearly demonstrating the possibilities of the filler and stains, fasten upon the pages of the circular samples of the results expressed on the wood itself in such a way as to leave no room for question or doubt as to what can be done with very little labor, time and cost. This practical way of taking the bull by the horns will certainly be appreciated by architects and builders who have little time to waste on empty theories or long-winded salesmen.

Philadelphia Insurance Capital.

When lobbyists and blackmailers are pressing our Legislature to threaten our insurance companies with oppressive laws, it would be well for our legislators, and especially our Philadelphia Senators and Representatives, to consider what our insurance capital has done for the city, for the State and for the public. Although operating in a quiet and unobtrusive manner, our Philadelphia companies have made their influence felt outside of the State to an extent unequalled by our banking or trade capital. The millions in our banks and trust companies are felt among limited classes in other States, but the insurance capital of Philadelphia introduces their policies to thousands of families and manufacturers, great and small, to an extent that is entirely unapproached.

Our fourteen city fire companies engaged in an agency business in the year 1890 received from citizens outside of Pennsylvania the sum of $9,125,464 in premiums, and some appreciation can be had of the thousands of channels, little and big, which feed and build up this mighty tribute to Philadelphia insurance influence. There is not a town within our national domain of five hundred inhabitants and upwards that has not a risk within its borders whose owner seeks indemnity from loss by fire under the guarantee of a Philadelphia policy.

The manufacturer or large mercantile house seeks many policies, and it is the exception not to find now a Philadelphia policy represented in their lists; but it is the small dealer and the householder, the citizen or farmer to whom the name of Philadelphia is presented annually in a policy of fire insurance in every township in this land. What other instrumentality can make this record?

Another side to this is the indemnity which the Philadelphia companies pay to the loss sufferers in other States. Of the streams of premiums which flow hither the sum of $4,860,455 was returned to those distant citizens last year, and added to this is the sum of $228,137 in taxes to the local authorities of those States for the privilege of promising indemnity to their citizens! And further, to manage this business in its selection, supervision and inspection, it cost at the minimum thirty per cent., of which two-thirds remained within the State, furnishing its quota of the business as compensation to its citizens who serve as local and special agents of the companies. And it will be seen that for all this multiform advertising but a small percentage remains behind in the companies' coffers for possible conflagrations in our larger communities, where their promised indemnity is running for a twelve-month and more to the expiration of their policies.

But aside from the financial results of the companies concerned, which from the nature of the business are necessarily very fluctuating, and indeed uncertain, the underlying fact remains that the business men of Philadelphia owe more to its fire insurance capital for the spread through every community in the land of a knowledge of the city and its possibilities than any other class of capital within our borders. The New Philadelphia is under great obligations to its insurance companies, and it is time for our citizens to acknowledge their obligations to this potent influence for good which has obtained a footing in every hamlet in the land.—Exchange.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The Northeastern Improvement Society of the Eighteenth, Twenty-fifth and Thirty-first Wards held a well-attended meeting at Disston Hall, Cumberland and Cedar Streets, on the evening of the 6th inst. Speeches were made urging the cutting through of streets between Richmond Street and Frankford Road—a distance of over a mile, where there are no thoroughfares.

Wm. Steele & Sons, contractors, 506 Walnut Street, have been awarded the contract for erection of Hotel Vendig at Twelfth and Market Streets, and have commenced operations. The structure will be built after plans prepared by J. F. Stuckert, architect, 524 Walnut Street, and who will supervise the construction. It has been fully described in previous issue of this journal.

The P. R. R. also adjoins the new ground, on which new buildings will be erected, which will, it is understood, be quite elaborate. As yet no plans have been made or contract awarded.

Judge Bregy has allowed the subscribers to the incorporation of the Board of Trustees of the Armory Fund of the Second Regiment of the National Guard of Pennsylvania to file their application without reference to a master. The application states that the subscribers have associated themselves together for the purpose of erecting and maintaining an armory for the use of the Second Regiment. The names of the subscribers are: Governor Robert E. Pattison, Mayor Edwin S. Stuart, Colonel O. C. Bosbyshell, Lieutenant-Colonel John Biddle Porter, Major Henry T. Dechert, the captains of each company of the Second Regiment, First Lieutenant and Quartermaster John A. Franks and First Lieutenant and Adjutant Albert H. Hartung, of the Second Regiment.

Mr. Joseph D. Ellis, Real Estate Agent, Walnut Street, below Eighth, has recently made large purchases of land in the immediate vicinity of Marcus Hook, on the Delaware River, and which, it is understood, will be utilized by a large syndicate for the purposes of an immense oil refinery; also a great depot for shipment in bulk of crude oil in opposition to the Standard Oil Company, of Pennsylvania. A pipe line will connect the oil fields with this plant, and it is understood that it will require the expenditure of at least half a million dollars at the point above named for the local plant. The parties interested and standing at the head of the enterprise are William L. Mellon & Co., of Pittsburgh, as well as a large number of capitalists in the western part of the State. Andrew Carnegie and others are mentioned.

Fall & Winter 1891

During the present Fall and the coming Winter many of the readers of this journal will require furniture of some kind for their homes.

We have a few earnest words to say to you, as business men, whether you must buy a roomful or a houseful, the spirit of which we respectfully ask you to impart to your wives and daughters, whose tastes and opinions it is always best to consult beforehand.

You, like every other sensible business man, have no money to waste on sentiment. Hard dollars are hard enough earned, and the purchasing power of every dollar is to you, at least, an important factor in your art of buying.

We are ready with the best stock of reliable furniture of all kinds ever brought together under a single roof in this city. It is fresh from the hands of the best makers whose goods are "standard" in every furniture house in this country.

We want your custom when you get ready to buy, and, if after having bought from us, you are not convinced that we have saved you from twenty to thirty per cent. on the prices you must pay elsewhere for furniture of the same character, we will cheerfully call the sale off and return your money.

Do you require, can you obtain, a fairer proposition from any furniture house in this city? We would be greatly pleased to have you visit our stores. All are welcome.

A Few Quiet Words with House Builders and Owners.

If the kitchen of your house is small, you need to economize room. You can do this by using a range with elevated boiler, such as the

"FIDELITY."

It will reduce the cost of plumbing also. We make them with seven inch or eight inch boiler holes, ovens on right or left of fire, with or without hot closets, and also to heat an upper room. Splendid bakers. Hot water in abundance. The latest and best of their class.

FIDELITY HOT AIR RANGE WITH HORIZONTAL BOILER.

Excelsior Double Oven Range.

If the kitchen is roomy and large, cooking capacity is sought. You will want a brick-set range with a vertical circulating boiler, set in the usual way. The

are acknowledged all over Philadelphia, in which city and vicinity some 75,000 have been sold as the standard brick-set range. They are furnished with ventilated ovens, oven-door pedals, rocking grates, and all modern improvements. Made in seven and eight inch sizes; single, double and hot-air ranges. Send for descriptive pamphlet, entitled "PERFECT COOKING."

MANUFACTURED BY

ISAAC A. SHEPPARD & CO.,

N. E. COR. FOURTH STREET AND MONTGOMERY AVENUE, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

And for Sale by all Responsible Dealers.

Whether large or small, your house will require a heating apparatus of some kind. It will pay you to put in a really good hot air furnace. The has no superior. Perfectly self-cleaning, with fewest joints, free from dust and gas, largest radiating surface, heavy steel plate, drum casings, easy on fuel, and of superior durability, it will always give satisfaction. A descriptive circular will be mailed upon application.

PARAGON FURNACE WITH EQUALIZED DRAFT.

DO YOU IN buying building material
buy of second hands or middlemen when you can deal direct with manufacturers?

We put the same interrogation to you about Your clothing and the clothing for your boys.

We are manufacturers and wholesalers of Clothing exclusively. Making and Selling Clothing for Men and Boys is our business. Why not buy out of first hands?

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

[From the Northwestern Architect.]

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

"As is compatible with this progressive period, even wall plaster has succumbed to inventive genius, and 'the day is nearly done' when our handsomely decorated walls and ceilings shall be ruined by reason of the utter unreliability of the old style mortar. To meet this demand for a non-porous plaster, Adamant has appeared on the market, and is now being manufactured in nearly every State in the Union."

[From the Scientific American.]

"Some of the advantages Adamant possesses above the other plaster is the extreme hardness of the wall. It will neither crack nor crumble. It is a strong support to a building. It does not swell timbers by an absorption of the moisture, as the material itself absorbs most of it. It dries so quickly after it is applied to the wall, that in a few hours frost will have no effect on it. We are convinced that this Adamant is destined to revolutionize the business of house plastering."

[From the Baltimore Commercial.]

"Adamant makes a wall as hard as marble, at a slight cost."

[From the Leader and Herald.]

CLEVELAND, O., March 22, 1889.

"The problem has been to provide a substitute that would not only produce a perfect wall, but be comparatively cheap and easily applied as well. 'Repeated tests, under the most exacting conditions, clearly prove that such a happy combination has at last been secured in the plastering material called 'Adamant,' now being so extensively introduced in this city.'"

[From the Builder, Decorator and Wood-Worker.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

"Nothing in house building has so long withstood the 'march of improvement,' notwithstanding it has failed to give a substantial wall, while many houses become defaced and old in a few months on account of broken walls and ceilings. 'Adamant' obviates all this, and is the coming plaster."

[From the New York Commercial News.]

"There is not the least doubt about 'Adamant' wall plaster will last as long as the building upon which it is used."

A TALENTED PAINTER'S WORK.—An exquisite painting that is now on exhibition at Newman's art store, 806 Market Street, is attracting considerable attention. It is the work of George Cope, and the subject, the interior of a smoking room, is handled with rare skill. All the accessories that go to make up the sum total of a smoker's happiness are shown with an amount of realism rarely seen on canvas. The picture must be seen to be appreciated.

A Good Way to Settle an Important Question.

The average man, no matter how bright otherwise, is badly perplexed as to just what his little wife would like best for a Christmas present.

His home is bright and cheerful. He is doing moderately well in business, and, taken all with all, he has no reason to complain as to the outlook. In fact, he is just the man, and is in just the right shape to best comprehend what it would mean at home—his home—if the money earning factor of the little corporation of which he is the officers and directors, was suddenly retired. Such a man is too level-headed not to understand fully what such a catastrophe would mean to those he is working for, and more particularly if he has no goodly store of houses or money to leave behind him. Take it as an all around proposition, then the best thing for a Christmas present for a good wife is a life policy in some good company whose assets are large enough to give him an assurance of stability so far as his policy is concerned. Here are some figures taken from the annual report of the Penn Mutual Fire Insurance Company of this city. They may help the reader to solve the question of what to give his wife for a Christmas present: Net assets January 1, 1891, $15,932,328.72. Surplus, $2,508,120.03. New business, 7539 policies for $20,568,534.00.

Architect Notes.

J. F. Stuckert, architect, 524 Walnut Street, has in course of preparations plans for a large six-story factory to be erected on Garden Street, above Wood. It will be fitted with steam, heat and power and modern convenience.

Collins & Autenreith, architects, 410 Walnut Street, having made plans for an extension and addition to No. 518 Arch Street have awarded contract for the work to Kister & Orem, contractors, who will at once begin work under supervision of the above named architects.

M. Fielding, architect, 110 South Fourth Street, has completed plans for a parsonage for the Presbyterian Church at Overbrook, Pa., and placed the drawings on boards of contractors for estimated. To be two and a half stories high, fitted with modern accommodation. Materials to be stone, frame and brick work.

Among the architects of Philadelphia competing for the prize in the matter of preparing plans for the "Carnegie Library" to be erected in Pittsburg, Pa., may be mentioned Messrs. Addison Hutton, Charles L. Hillman, and J. C. Shirk, who have made drawings jointly, and have forwarded them for examination.

Edward Paxon, architect, 1305 Arch Street, has prepared plans and is inviting estimates on a fine private hospital to be erected at 247 North Eighteenth Street. The structure will be fitted with all the best sanitary arrangements. It will be in area 63 x 109 feet, three stories in height and quite ornamental. It is owned by Dr. Wm. Price.

Charles R. Lee, architect, Hale Building, Philadelphia, has on boards plans for a handsome residence for Mr. W. G. Leshner at Ardmore, Pa. The structure will be of stone and frame, slate roof, three stories high, interior will be of hard wood, hot air heat, stained and plate glass, electric work and all modern conveniences. Will cost about $10,000. Also, plans for a fine stable to be erected at Ardmore, Pa., to be stone and frame with modern conveniences, etc.

Minerva Parker, architect, 14 South Broad Street, has prepared plans for an addition to the Unitarian Church at Wilmington, Del. These consist chiefly of a Sabbath school and other minor work. Also, plans for a house to be erected at Canton, Ohio, for Mrs. E. R. Gaskill. Miss Parker also prepared the plans from which Mr. John C. Kelly is now erecting the iron foundry of David S. Cresswell, at Nicetown, a description of which was given in our building notes of a previous issue.

Dudley Newton, architect, of Newport, R. I., is engaged in preparing plans for alteration and additions to "The Cliff" Hotel at that place, owned by Samuel R. Shipley, President Provident

Life and Trust Company, of Philadelphia. These will be quite comprehensive, taking in additional rooms, elevator service, electric work, steam heating work, best of sanitary plumbing and drainage, gas-fitting, open grates, stained and plate glass, considerable hard wood work. All modern conveniences and improvements will be introduced.

Among the many architects of Philadelphia who have submitted plans for competition for the Pennsylvania Building at the Columbian Exposition at Chicago, Ill., may be mentioned Charles Balderson, Thos. P. Lonsdale and Edwin F. Bertolette, all of which are commendable for their originality and style. P. A. Welsh, architect, 429 Walnut Street, has completed, some time since, plans for a stone dwelling house, stable and carriage house for Mr. Robert Wetherill, to be erected at Chester, Pa. These are now ready for general estimate for construction. The drawings are very elaborate, and details require the best of workmanship. A full description was given at the time of completion of plans. In brief, the structure is to be of native stone, broken rough, three stories high, slate roof, steam heat, electric work and best of sanitary plumbing, etc. Estimates are invited by the architects.

Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building, has completed plans for a club building for the Gambrinus Saenger Kranz Society, at Thirtieth and Master Streets. The structure will be three stories high, built of buff brick with red stone trimmings, slate roof. Area of building 50 x 147 with grounds 50 x 200 feet. Seating capacity will be about 1200. The third story will be fitted up with a kitchen, laundry and rooms for the janitor. The drawings will soon be placed on boards for estimate. Also plans for a stable to be erected in the rear of 659 North Tenth Street, for W. J. Mackin, to be two stories high of brick and stone with all modern accommodations. Plans on boards of contractors for estimates on work.

Horace Traumbaur, architect, 310 Chestnut Street, has made plans for a fine residence for John Henig, at Ashbourne, Pa. A. S. Benner has received the contract, and will at once go to work.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

F. L. Hoover, contractor, 703 Jayne Street, is about to make an addition to the kitchen of the restaurant No. 25 South Seventh Street as well as some other minor improvements.

It is probable that in a short time Director Windrim will open bids and award contracts for the construction of the main span, retaining wall and paving of the new Walnut Street Bridge over the Schuylkill. $250,000 is now available for the work.

John W. Fritzinger, contractor, Gates Street, Roxborough, will at once erect a hall on Ridge Avenue, north of Manayunk Avenue, to be two stories high, 30 x 56 feet, constructed of brick with stone trimmings, and all modern improvements.

Charles A. Warfield, builder, 1807 North Twenty-second Street, will start an operation of seven houses on Thompson, south of Allegheny Avenue. All to be two-story high, of brick, brownstone facing and best modern improvements.

James A. O'Brien, 112 Walnut Street, has purchased through D. C. Dallam, 514 Walnut Street, a tract of ground, 160 x 225 feet, at Sixty-seventh Street and Greenway Avenue. The ground will be improved by the erection of a number of dwellings.

Chas. McCaul, contractor, 20 N. Eleventh Street, has received a contract to make extensive alterations to 39 Fayette Street, between Filbert and Arch and Ninth and Tenth Streets. This will include freight lifts, electric work, plumbing, steam heat, etc.

All plans for the new part of the market house at Thirtieth and Chestnut Streets, have been completed and handed over to Dr. L. C. Filbert. It will now be in order to receive estimates for construction of this great structure, the largest structure of the kind in the world when completed.

S. O. Mylins, contractor, 729 Spring Garden Street, has contracted with John F. Betz, owner of the Grand Opera House, Broad Street and Montgomery Avenue, to make considerable repairs and alterations to that building, which will include a full width brick wall to the structure and a new roof over the auditorium.

It is understood that the Pennsylvania Railroad have under consideration the feasibility of turning the present Delaware Avenue Market Co.'s market house, at Dock Street and Delaware Avenue, into an adjunct warehouse to that located just above this site. Such a move has become necessary, it is said, owing to the increase of business.

John J. Cassidy, builder, Moyamensing Avenue and McKean Street, will build a number of houses on the north and south side of Cantrell Street, west of Fourth. All to be of press brick, stone facings and good modern improvements. It is Mr. Cassidy's intention to push his large operations in the First Ward whilst the weather remains favorable.

In an interview with a member of the firm of Lippincott, Johnson & Co., of 629 Market Street, and who were burned out on the morning of the 10th inst., it was learned that they propose to occupy 705 Chestnut Street, temporarily. Also, that it is likely that after the insurance matters are adjusted the structure destroyed will be rebuilt by the Cope estate, who are the owners of the realty.

For some time the Pennsylvania Railroad has been making purchases of ground in the vicinity of Washington Avenue and Prime Street on the north and south, and Otsego and Swanson Streets, east and west. It is understood to be their intention to erect a round house and other buildings upon this site at an early day. Almost the entire block has been cleared of structures which formerly occupied the ground, and purchases of the last few days indicate early action by the company.

An organization has just been formed to establish a new charity house, and it will be known as St. Elizabeth's Home for Aged People. It is the intention of the incorporators to erect a suitable building for the purpose. The movers in the project are James Donaghy, James G. Wilson, John B. Eccles, Antoinette Fast, Rebecca Pallen and George P. Thomas; and in dispensing its work will know neither sect nor creed. No plans have been ordered or site selected, but these matters will be considered at an early day. The charter was obtained of Judge Bregy, on the 7th inst.

John Icely Worman, one of the largest bicycle manufacturers in England, is in this city looking for a site for a great bicycle factory. The move is the result of the increased duty placed on the importation of bicycles since the McKinley Tariff bill went into effect. Mr. Worman is a member of the firm of Worman & Hazelwood, Limited, of Coventry, England. Mr. Worman said: "We can manufacture bicycles in this country and pay the regular scale of American wages. Our company is a limited liability one, with a paid up capital of £70,000, and the shares command a high price in England." With their two factories in England their annual output is 25,000 bicycles.

Fall & Winter 1891

During the present Fall and the coming Winter many of the readers of this journal will require furniture of some kind for their homes.

We have a few earnest words to say to you, as business men, whether you must buy a roomful or a houseful, the spirit of which we respectfully ask you to impart to your wives and daughters, whose tastes and opinions it is always best to consult beforehand.

You, like every other sensible business man, have no money to waste on sentiment. Hard dollars are hard enough earned, and the purchasing power of every dollar is to you, at least, an important factor in your art of buying.

We are ready with the best stock of reliable furniture of all kinds ever brought together under a single roof in this city. It is fresh from the hands of the best makers whose goods are "standard" in every furniture house in this country.

We want your custom when you get ready to buy, and, if after having bought from us, you are not convinced that we have saved you from twenty to thirty per cent. on the prices you must pay elsewhere for furniture of the same character, we will cheerfully call the sale off and return your money.

Do you require, can you obtain, a fairer proposition from any furniture house in this city? We would be greatly pleased to have you visit our stores. All are welcome.

A Few Quiet Words with House Builders and Owners.

If the kitchen of your house is small, you need to economize room. You can do this by using a range with elevated boiler, such as the

"FIDELITY."

It will reduce the cost of plumbing also. We make them with seven inch or eight inch boiler holes, ovens on right or left of fire, with or without hot closets, and also to heat an upper room. Splendid bakers. Hot water in abundance. The latest and best of their class.

FIDELITY HOT AIR RANGE WITH HORIZONTAL BOILER.

Excelsior Double Oven Range.

If the kitchen is roomy and large, cooking capacity is sought. You will want a brick-set range with a vertical circulating boiler, set in the usual way. The

are acknowledged all over Philadelphia, in which city and vicinity some 75,000 have been sold as the standard brick-set range. They are furnished with ventilated ovens, oven-door pedals, rocking grates, and all modern improvements. Made in seven and eight inch sizes; single, double and hot-air ranges. Send for descriptive pamphlet, entitled "PERFECT COOKING."

MANUFACTURED BY

ISAAC A. SHEPPARD & CO.,

N. E. COR. FOURTH STREET AND MONTGOMERY AVENUE, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

And for Sale by all Responsible Dealers.

Whether large or small, your house will require a heating apparatus of some kind. It will pay you to put in a really good hot air furnace. The has no superior. Perfectly self-cleaning, with fewest joints, free from dust and gas, largest radiating surface, heavy steel plate, drum casings, easy on fuel, and of superior durability, it will always give satisfaction. A descriptive circular will be mailed upon application.

PARAGON FURNACE WITH EQUALIZED DRAFT.

DO YOU IN buying building material
buy of second hands or middlemen when you can deal direct with manufacturers?

We put the same interrogation to you about Your clothing and the clothing for your boys.

We are manufacturers and wholesalers of Clothing exclusively. Making and Selling Clothing for Men and Boys is our business. Why not buy out of first hands?

The Phylloxera HAS ravaged for years the vine-

yards of the Old World, and consequently the growers have had to import large quantities of our native wines to supplement their stocks, and have sold them at fancy prices, either straight or blended with their own. How foolish it is, then, for the American consumer to pay handsome profits to the foreigner and heavy duties besides when we sell you good, sound Clarets and Hocks at $1.00 per gallon. Ports, Sherries, Angelica and Catawba at $1.50 per gallon; and bottled, in full quarts, at 50c. per bottle. Try our Wines. They will give you thorough satisfaction.

HARRISON M. MARTIN, member of the Board of Building Inspectors of this city, died after a protracted illness on the 15th inst. Mr. Martin had many traits of character which marked him as a man specially adapted for the peculiar sphere of life which he filled, and made him many warm friends. He was a man of keen perception in human affairs, of undoubted ability as a constructor of buildings and possessed of great affability of manner. He was also endowed with a deep sense of justice in his dealings with his fellow men that well fitted him for his official position, and in his death the Board will suffer a loss not easily filled. His funeral was largely attended on the 19th inst., from his late residence, 521 Diamond Street.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The Park Commission's Committee on Superintendence and Police have directed $50 to be set aside for an iron railing around Columbus Monument.

An option has been secured on all the property the necessary to construct a branch road by which Philadelphia, Newtown and New Jersey Railroad will run trains to the new Terminal Station of the Reading Road, at Twelfth and Market Streets. The branch road will leave the Newtown road 150 yards east of Olney Station, crossing Clinton and Tabor Streets and then running parallel with Tabor Street, and will join the Tabor branch of the Reading Road near Logan Station.

Progress is being made towards the culmination of the project to erect the large sugar refinery, headed by William J. McCahan & Co., in the lower part of this city, and in the course of a few weeks at most the practical work will be started. Enough, however, is known to state that the most approved machinery will be used. The best of building material and workmanship will be required. As yet no architect has been engaged to draw plans or builder to construct the work.

Many alterations and additions will be rendered necessary by the cutting through of the Belt Line of railroad along the Delaware River front. Especially will this be done to wharf sheds and offices affected. Extensions to wharves will be made requiring considerable lumber and labor, whilst the work made certain by the North Eastern Elevated Railway will be of greater magnitude. In a great many instances, front and rear portions of structures standing along the route of the road will have to be entirely rebuilt and in others new structures erected. The work has now been started in earnest upon both enterprises, and the injunction upon the Belt Line offers no real impediment, as the project will be pushed at other points and in other directions than those named in the plea.

A new enterprise is about to be launched in the business world by the formation of a stock company, having for its object the manufacture of building mortar, in all forms, for foundation, brick and plasterers' uses. On the 18th inst. a number of leading members of the Builders' Exchange of Philadelphia, and a few representatives of the press, at the kind invitation of Mr. Ralph Peverly, on behalf of the Charles Warner Co., of Wilmington, Del., paid a visit to the works of the latter company at the above named place, and witnessed the operation of a full fledged operating mortar factory, and much satisfaction was expressed upon the results attained by those versed in the business of mortar and its uses. Indeed, it was unanimously conceded to be a far better quality and cheaper than can be produced by hand labor. Also, the matter of labor in the factory, equalization of material used, its adhesive strength and other points were highly praised. After a thorough examination of this new enterprise, the entire company were entertained by the Charles Warner Co., at a handsome banquet served at the Willis Hotel. Among the gentlemen who will be interested in the new project will be found Charles H. Reeves, William Smith, R. C. Ballinger, W. H. Albertson, F. M. Harris, Budd & Bro., Charles E. Callaghan, William V. Sickles, C. M. Busch, George Elkins, Charles Wanner, A. S. Millers, Allen B. Rorke, Stacy Reeves, William Smith, A. G. Bouringer, J. Turley Allen, J. R. Clausen, W. H. Clothier, A. D. Warner, Ralph Peverly, D. B. Kelley and Hope Hepburn.

Fall & Winter 1891

During the present Fall and the coming Winter many of the readers of this journal will require furniture of some kind for their homes.

We have a few earnest words to say to you, as business men, whether you must buy a roomful or a houseful, the spirit of which we respectfully ask you to impart to your wives and daughters, whose tastes and opinions it is always best to consult beforehand.

You, like every other sensible business man, have no money to waste on sentiment. Hard dollars are hard enough earned, and the purchasing power of every dollar is to you, at least, an important factor in your art of buying.

We are ready with the best stock of reliable furniture of all kinds ever brought together under a single roof in this city. It is fresh from the hands of the best makers whose goods are "standard" in every furniture house in this country.

We want your custom when you get ready to buy, and, if after having bought from us, you are not convinced that we have saved you from twenty to thirty per cent. on the prices you must pay elsewhere for furniture of the same character, we will cheerfully call the sale off and return your money.

Do you require, can you obtain, a fairer proposition from any furniture house in this city? We would be greatly pleased to have you visit our stores. All are welcome.

A Few Quiet Words with House Builders and Owners.

If the kitchen of your house is small, you need to economize room. You can do this by using a range with elevated boiler, such as the

"FIDELITY."

It will reduce the cost of plumbing also. We make them with seven inch or eight inch boiler holes, ovens on right or left of fire, with or without hot closets, and also to heat an upper room. Splendid bakers. Hot water in abundance. The latest and best of their class.

FIDELITY HOT AIR RANGE WITH HORIZONTAL BOILER.

Excelsior Double Oven Range.

If the kitchen is roomy and large, cooking capacity is sought. You will want a brick-set range with a vertical circulating boiler, set in the usual way. The

are acknowledged all over Philadelphia, in which city and vicinity some 75,000 have been sold as the standard brick-set range. They are furnished with ventilated ovens, oven-door pedals, rocking grates, and all modern improvements. Made in seven and eight inch sizes; single, double and hot-air ranges. Send for descriptive pamphlet, entitled "PERFECT COOKING."

has no superior. Perfectly self-cleaning, with fewest joints, free from dust and gas, largest radiating surface, heavy steel plate, drum casings, easy on fuel, and of superior durability, it will always give satisfaction. A descriptive circular will be mailed upon application.

Geissinger & Hales, architects, 200 South Twelfth Street, have made plans for an engine and boiler house for E. T. Steel & Co., Bristol, Pa., to be one story high, built of iron, brick and stone, and fitted with steam power, water tank, etc. Drawings on boards for estimates.

Edwin F. Bertolette, architect, 257 South Fourth Street, is engaged upon plans for a handsome residence to be erected near Lancaster, Pa. The structure will be of stone, two and a half stories high, roof will be of Peachbottom slate, interior will be of hard wood, electric work and best of sanitary plumbing introduced throughout.

Wilson Bros., architects, Drexel Building, have made plans for a railroad station on Philadelphia and Reading Railroad at Perkasi Station, to be one story high, of stone and fancy brick, with slate roof. Interior to be in hard wood, with wooden mantles and best of modern conveniences. Plans on boards for estimates by general contractors.

John T. Windrim, architect, 132 South Third Street, has in course of preparation plans for alteration and addition to the property 421 Chestnut Street, owned by the Philadelphia Bank. These will be started as soon as the Recorder of Deeds offices are vacated by that department. It is intended to introduce all modern conveniences, such as steam heat, electric work, elevator service, etc.

T. Melon Rogers, architect, 1122 Walnut Street, has been engaged to prepare plans for an Episcopal church and Sabbath school, to be erected by that denomination at Devon, Pa. Both structures will likely be of stone, one story high, ornamental windows and best of church fittings on interior. Preliminary sketches only have been prepared, but it is desired to complete the entire work by July, 1892.

Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut Street, having completed plans for "A Nurses' Home" for the Pennsylvania Hospital, Eighth and Spruce Streets, has placed them on boards of general contractors for estimates. The structure will be three and a half stories high, base of stone, remainder of brick, roof to be of copper, steam heat and best sanitary plumbing, good ranges in kitchen, and all modern improvements will be introduced.

Baily & Truscott, architects, 138 South Fourth Street, have completed plans for a fine office building and auditorium to be erected at 310-310½ Market Street, Camden, N. J. The structure will be three stories high, of press brick, with stone trimmings, tin roof. First and second floors are to be entirely occupied as offices, whilst the third will be fitted up as a hall for public meetings, concerts, etc. Steam heat will probably be introduced.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Leonard & Guenther, builders, 812 North Twenty-seventh Street, will build fifteen two-story houses on Emily, east of Front Street, all to be of press brick, stone trimmings, and best modern conveniences.

James Lilly, builder, will at once erect twenty-two houses on north side of Tree Street, west of Seventh. These are to be two stories high, of brick and stone facings, with best of modern improvements on interior.

As indicated by this journal some time ago, the Philadelphia and Reading R. R. will at an early day begin the erection of a large freight station at Third and Mechanic streets, Camden, N. J. The material will be chiefly of frame.

John J. Cassidy, builder, Moyamensing Avenue and McKean Street, will at once begin the erection of fourteen two-story houses on Howard Street, near Snyder Avenue, to be of brick, stone trimmings, and good modern conveniences.

William Steele & Sons, contractors, 506 Walnut Street, will build a fine large stable for Thomas Kelly, proprietor of Grand Opera House. It will be erected on Diamond Street, west of Broad, rear of Mr. Kelly's residence. It will be fitted with all conveniences.

The Committee on Normal School of the Board of Education have resolved to place one elevator in the new school at Thirteenth and Spring Garden Streets, and have now approved the plans of the architect as presented and fully described in these columns in a previous edition.

Mrs. Mary Disston and Sons have presented the Evangelical German Lutheran Congregation, of Tacony, two fine building lots on Jackson Street, upon which it is the intention to erect a church at an early day. Rev. Mathias Schimpf and others will at once endeavor to raise funds for the purpose.

Mr. John T. Morris, a resident of Tioga, has offered the Board of Education a lot of ground at Tioga and J Streets, free, provided they will erect thereon a public school house with no other conditions except that the style of architecture be of what is known as Colonial, and subject to his personal approval.

Fire damaged Olivet Presbyterian Church, Twenty-second and Mt. Vernon streets, Philadelphia, to the amount of $15,000, on Sunday, Nov. 22d. The pastor's room, pulpit, interior decorations and the new $1800 carpet were destroyed. The church will be renovated at once. The loss is covered by insurance.

The Reading Terminal Company, having purchased the site of the property owned by the Second Regiment N. G. P. at 11th and Hamilton, it is now to be occupied by the Knickerbocker Ice Company after suitable buildings shall have been erected. These are to replace those of the latter company at Willow Street and Ridge Avenue.

Solicitor Barrett, for the city in the matter of alteration to 1341 Arch Street, has decided that the structure must be set back three and a half feet from the present line, in order to widen Arch Street in accordance with an existing ordinance. The work will now be proceeded with under supervision of T. Frank Miller, architect, 1221 Arch Street, who drew the plans.

Geo. F. Payne & Co., contractors, 401 South Juniper Street, have been given a contract to rebuild the burned stores of A. C. Barclay, 136 N. Delaware Avenue. These were occupied by Phillips & Co., oils, at the time of their destruction. Work will be started at once. They have started the erection of a one-story boiler and engine house, on University Grounds at Thirty-fourth and Darby Road.

A notable improvement about to be started is the buildings of the Bala and Merion Electric Light Company, on the banks of the Schuylkill river, opposite Manayunk. These are to consist of a dynamo house 39 x 50 feet, a boiler house, 35 x 37 feet, which will also contain an engine of 100 horse power. Also an immense iron stack will be erected, and a water tank to hold 12,000 gallons. This will be one of the finest of suburban plants.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1891.

PRICE 15 CENTS.

Architect Notes.

Brown and Day, architects, 925 Chestnut Street, dissolved partnership by mutual consent on November 1, 1891.

William J. Marsh, architect, 1503 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C., has completed plans for a theatre to be erected at Hampton, Va., which will have a seating capacity of about 1200 persons. Contract has been given to C. T. Holtzelaw.

Jacob Herold, 932 North Eleventh Street, architect, has drawn plans for a series of cattle sheds, an office and feed storage, at Thirty-sixth and Grays Ferry Road. These will be of frame, except the office and storage structure, and work will be started at once under supervision of the above-named architect.

Lawrence V. Boyd, architect, Wayne, Pa., has made plans for a new fire station to be erected in North Wayne upon a lot of ground given for the purpose by Geo. W. Childs. The structure is to be of frame, two stories high, and will cost about $2000. This will be the property of the Wayne Protective Association.

Frank Keagy, architect, Chambersburg, Pa., is now engaged on plans and specifications for a large store and dwelling 31 x 48 feet, three-story, at corner of Mechanic and Main Streets, Waynesboro, Franklin Co., Pa., for Mr. A. B. Stober, of Chambersburg, Pa. The first floor will be fitted for store purposes, plate glass windows, and remainder of structure with best of modern conveniences.

Geissinger & Hales, architects, 102 South Twelfth Street, have completed plans for a factory building for the Stanton Manufacturing Co. at Forty-ninth Street and Eastwick Avenue, in the Twenty-seventh Ward. Structure to be three stories high, of brick, with stone trimmings and slag roof, to be fitted on interior for steam. Estimates are now being made by general contractors for the work of construction.

Charles W. Bolton, architect, 1510 Chestnut Street, has made plans for a Roman Catholic chapel at Rising Sun, Md., to be one story and basement, 61 x 40 feet, shingle roof and frame structure. Also, plans for a residence for Dr. L. K. Elmer, at Bridgeton, N. J., to be frame two and a half story high, slate roof, to be fitted on interior with good modern conveniences. Also, plans for four houses for Mr. Dickey to be erected at Merchantville, N. J., to be two story high, frame and fitted with modern conveniences.

John Ord, Architect Public Buildings, has made plans for improving the Columbia Club House, at Broad and Oxford Streets, and the matter will be considered in full by the Building Committee and Club at a meeting December 7th. The drawings are quite elaborate and include a swimming pool, billiard room, a handsome reception and ball room, reading rooms, toilets, lavatories, steam heat, electric work, etc. All modern comforts and conveniences will be introduced. It is estimated that the work will cost about $30,000.

Horace Traumbaur, architect, 310 Chestnut Street, has made plans for a fine house for Wendell & Smith, at Wayne, Pa., to be in old colonial style, of pebbled ash and stone with shingle roof. On either side will be erected a large porch. Interior to be fitted in hard wood and all modern conveniences, inclusive of electric work, best of sanitary plumbing, also fitted for use of local steam heat. Same architect is drawing plans for an immense barn for Mr. C. W. Bergner, brewer, to be built at "Abeurieu," the county seat, near Ambler Station, on N. P. R. R. Also, plans for a general store building for John Hannig at Ashbourne, Pa., to cost about $5000.

Edward Lee Young, architect, has prepared plans for a palm house and art gallery for John Wanamaker at his residence, Jenkintown, Pa. The structure will be connected with his residence by an arcade, and the gallery for art will be central between the two, it being large and well lighted. The walls to be of red brick, stone trimming, and skylight set in iron frame. The palm building will be of iron and glass and present a handsome appearance from the outside. A large porte cochere will be attached at the main entrance of the two structures. The whole to be very ornamental in construction. Interior to be heated by steam, and have electric work throughout.

Louis C. Hickman, architect, 935 Chestnut Street, has made plans for the extension of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company and they have been approved by the committee in charge on behalf of that organization. These include the fitting up of the immense room on ground floor of main building, and connecting the same with the present business room in rear by three large arches, also a large corridor through center of the room flanked by offices on either side, the work being in delicate selected oak, richly carved and ornamented, fixtures and hardware to be gold plated. The decoration in interior of the room will be in oil paint and gold, and the large columns and pilasters will be carved in imitation of sienna marble. The connection between these large rooms will be flanked by large marble columns, making the vista from Chestnut street to the rear one of the grandest in this city.

At the next meeting of the Philadelphia Chapter, American Institute of Architects, the committee appointed to formulate plans for the registration of all architects will make its report. The American Institute of Architects has chapters in nearly all the prominent cities in this country. It was organized in 1857, and the intention was to create an organization which would work to the advantage of the public, as well as create a friendly feeling among the architects. In this city the following are members of the chapter:—

Professional. — William L. Bailey, Louis C. Baker, Charles Balderston, Amos J. Boyden, Edward Hurst Brown, Stephen D. Button, Theophilus P. Chandler, Jr., Walter Cope, E. James Dallet, Frank Miles Day, Wilson Eyre, Willis G. Hale, Edward Hazlehurst, Samuel Huckel, Addison Hutton, Lindley Johnson, Guy King, Benjamin Linfoot, George C. Mason, Jr., Arnold H. ## Building and Real Estate Notes.

The corner-stone of the new Calvary Church, at Germantown, will be laid December 2d.

A movement is on foot to raise funds for the purchase of a new pipe organ, to cost $2500, for the Southwestern Presbyterian Church.

At Frankford, the fair recently held to raise money for an Episcopal church was very successful, and it is probable that work on the new edifice will be begun early in the spring.

Alfred G. Clay, contractor, 522 Walnut Street, is about starting an operation of eleven two-story houses on north side of Titan Street, east of Twenty-seventh. All to be of brick, with stone facings and good modern conveniences.

Michael Clark, builder, 809 Duane Street, will at once begin the erection of five two-story houses on north side of Whisner, near Eleventh Street. All to be of press brick, brown-stone trimmings and best modern conveniences.

C. C. & J. C. Moore, builders, 2001 North Broad Street, are about to break ground for twenty two-story houses on Cambria street, east of Frankford Avenue. All to be brick, stone facings and steps, with best modern conveniences.

Charles Auchter, carpenter, 1520 Bailey Street, has been given the contract to erect a number of cattle sheds, office, etc., for the Abbatoir Co., Thirty-sixth Street and Gray's Ferry Avenue, and will at once begin the work. These are to be entirely of frame work.

The Germantown Relief Society is raising funds for the erection of a building suitable for its purposes, and will, as soon as a site is secured, take measures to build. $2600 has been raised for this purpose. Jabez Gates is president of the organization. William H. Haines, secretary.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, DEC. 2, 1891.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communication for publication may be left.

MR. NATHANIEL E. JANNEY, formerly the President of the Land Title and Trust Co., which position he recently resigned, has again entered into the real estate business, and has already been honored with the business of many of his old clients. Mr. Janney's office is in the Land Title Building, 608 Chestnut Street.

MR. E. I. WILSON, of Ridley Park, Pa., and the well-known Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, tailor, is about to engage in a new enterprise relating to real estate, and which has been covered by copyright. The plan is so feasible that the wonder is it has not been put in operation before, and is the purchase of desirable residences for cash and the selling of them on weekly or monthly payments which will amount to about the rent of the same. It is calculated that each property can be secured free of all incumbrances in ten years. The same energy and business qualifications which have led to success in his present business will doubtless secure for the new venture the same popularity and success.

Among the many different things that enter into the construction of a dwelling, and which, above all, add to its comfort and home qualities, the matter of heating stands pre-eminent. It goes without saying that, howsoever superior the material, excellent the workmanship or magnificent the decorations, unless well heated the most beautiful home is something like the play of Hamlet with Hamlet left out. Realizing this fact, after much experimenting and labor, the firm of Isaac A. Sheppard & Co. took out a patent for a furnace known as the Paragon, and which, it is claimed, possesses a number of essential points of advantage over other three-drum furnaces. These are: First. The inner and outer combustion chambers communicate with each other in such a way that all the radiating surfaces of both combustion chambers are equally heated.

Second. Both combustion chambers are absolutely self-cleaning. Third. Both the upper and lower radiating castings are made in one piece, and there are no joints between cast iron surfaces above the fire level. Any experienced furnace setter knows that a furnace which does not possess these advantages cannot justly claim to possess the best possible construction, and is not fitted to make the home comfortable. The Paragon Steel Plate Furnaces have hitherto been made in two sizes only, but the demand has necessitated a change, and there are now four additional sizes in preparation. The firm has lately sent out handsome as well as useful glass paper-weights ornamented with a cut of this popular and successful furnace.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The Public Building Commission has approved the plans for the erection of electric lights at each of the four corners of the City Hall Building. There will be four standards, thirty-six feet high, formed of three female figures supporting groups of incandescent and arc lights.

The Philadelphia and Reading Railroad are about to erect a car house, 45 x 92½ feet, and one story high, at Twelfth and Cumberland Streets. Also, an office at Sixth and Willow Streets, northeast corner, to be of brick, 15 x 18 feet, and one story high. Work upon both to be started at once.

James F. McCauley, contractor, 2010 Winter Street, will erect a fine stone and brick structure at Girard and College Avenues for the double purposes of a hall and stores. The latter will be upon the ground floor, while the second floor will be fitted in good style as an auditorium for public amusements, etc.

Archbishop Ryan has purchased the old Bardell Mansion and ground on Chew Street, Germantown, for the care of colored orphan boys, and the home will be cared for by the patronage and liberality of Sister Katherine, formerly Miss Kate Drexel. More or less alteration will be necessary to put the building in order for the purposes named.

The Howell Wall Paper Manufacturing Co. will erect a large addition to the present plant of the company on north side of Washington Avenue. The structure will be about 60 x 100 feet and one story high, to be of brick, and will contain machinery for the purposes of smelting. Dorsey & Smith, contractors, 111 North Seventh Street, have the contract to do the work.

R. C. Lukens, Academy Post Office, Montgomery Co., Pa., has the contract to erect the parsonage of the Presbyterian Church at Overbrook. He will begin operations at once. It will be two and a half stories high, of stone, slate roof and fitted with all modern conveniences. Plans made by M. Fielding, architect, 110 South Fourth Street, and have been noted in this journal in previous number.

Among the well-known Philadelphians who have already purchased home sites at Glen Loch are found the names of E. P. Dwight, John McGill, of William Wood & Co; James McManes, J. W. Townsend, Vice President of the Cambria Iron Works; H. A. Geiss, H. C. Forent, of the Tacony Metal Works, and R. C. Ballinger, of Ballinger & Co., brick manufacturers. Altogether it is estimated that covering a period of two years real estate aggregating $800,000 at Glen Loch has been purchased by residents of this city.

The Trustees of the Jefferson Hospital held a meeting on the 25th of November to consider a number of sites proposed for the erection of a new hospital under their management. The original idea was to enlarge the present site towards Walnut Street, south of the present building, but recent events of a public character have wrought changes in the minds of the Faculty and Board of Trustees. No definite conclusion has as yet been reached, and, according to an interview with Judge Arnold, will not likely be for some time.

The enlargement of the Pennsylvania Railroad Station, Broad and Market Streets, is again said to be under consideration and likely to become a reality during the next year. The tenants occupying the premises are thirty-day renters and can be at any time be summarily notified to move out. The plans for the work have been made for more than a year, and were described in this journal at the time of completion. It is proposed to erect a high structure so as to accommodate some of the departments now quartered at the general office, at Fourth and Willing's Alley, and which is at present very much crowded.

The extensive Fuller tract, containing about a hundred acres of land on the eastern border of Holmesburg, was sold on the first of November by the Pennsylvania Company to Joel H. De Victor, 707 Walnut Street, a Philadelphia capitalist, for $65,000. This beautiful and desirable tract has been laid off into 550 building lots with broad avenues intervening. Mr. De Victor has completed arrangements for the development of this tract by the erection of industrial establishments that will give employment to skilled artisans of a desirable class. Plans for a large factory, that will be erected at once for the manufacture of bicycle and sewing machines by an Eastern Company, have been made. A large electric plant will be located here to supply light and power to the new town, and also the neighboring towns of Bustleton, Torresdale, Holmesburg and elsewhere. A large number of lots have been sold. The new town site enjoys all the advantage of the city in the way of water, electric lights, convenient mail delivery, and police protection. It is within two squares of the station on the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and the same convenient distance from the Holmesburg station on the Bustleton Branch Railroad.

At Camden the project to erect water works to supply water to various settlements across Cooper's Creek, in Stockton Township, is progressing favorably, and at a meeting held on Saturday night, Nov. 28th, the Stockton Township Committee and the Fire Commissioners accepted proposals from ex-Senator George Pfeiffer, representing a syndicate, to furnish a water system. A special election to secure the vote of the people will be held on December 15th, and if favorable the contract will be signed. This calls for the erection and operation of the works inside of a year. Seven miles of pipe will be used and about sixty-five plugs will be put in. It is understood that a number of artesian wells will be put down.

Fall & Winter 1891

During the present Fall and the coming Winter many of the readers of this journal will require furniture of some kind for their homes.

We have a few earnest words to say to you, as business men, whether you must buy a roomful or a houseful, the spirit of which we respectfully ask you to impart to your wives and daughters, whose tastes and opinions it is always best to consult beforehand.

You, like every other sensible business man, have no money to waste on sentiment. Hard dollars are hard enough earned, and the purchasing power of every dollar is to you, at least, an important factor in your art of buying.

We are ready with the best stock of reliable furniture of all kinds ever brought together under a single roof in this city. It is fresh from the hands of the best makers whose goods are "standard" in every furniture house in this country.

We want your custom when you get ready to buy, and, if after having bought from us, you are not convinced that we have saved you from twenty to thirty per cent. on the prices you must pay elsewhere for furniture of the same character, we will cheerfully call the sale off and return your money.

Do you require, can you obtain, a fairer proposition from any furniture house in this city? We would be greatly pleased to have you visit our stores. All are welcome.

Merritt and William Kimball attended, on November 30th, a meeting of the Highway Committee of Councils to protest against the approval of an ordinance prohibiting the paving of a street in which filling-in is two feet deep or over within one year after such filling. The committee declared it would mean ruin for them if they were compelled to build a row of houses and leave the street open for a year. As the business is now transacted Mr. Roberts said the builders purchased the land, built the houses and graded and paved the streets. ### Architect Notes.

The plans prepared some time ago by J. Franklin Stuckert, architect, 524 Walnut Street, for a factory for Lazarus, Schwarz & Miller, at Garden and Buttonwood Streets, have been somewhat revised, and new estimates have been requested by general contractors.

Geissinger & Hales, architects and engineers, Twelfth and Chestnut Streets, are inviting bids, special, on the steam fitting and heating of the Horner Bros.' Carpet Works, at Lawrence Street and Lehigh Avenue. Also plans for an addition to the factory of Stead & Miller, northwest corner of Fourth and Cambria Streets.

Daniel S. Beale, architect, 1328 Chestnut Street, has made plans for sixty-five houses to be erected at Fifty-second, Fifty-third, Master and Morrell Streets. These dwellings are to be of brick, two stories high, with porches in front, interiors to be models of comfort, having all modern conveniences. Plans are on boards of contractors for estimates.

Angus S. Wade, architect, 20 South Broad Street, is making drawings for an extensive pottery at Trenton, N. J., for Jas. H. Lyons. These will include clay sheds, fitting and finishing houses, work shops, kilns for burning purposes, three in number, wareroom, offices, etc. All will be furnished with the most approved machinery, steam power, and modern conveniences.

A. C. Wagner, architect and engineer, 514 Walnut Street, have made plans for a new ice machine house and condenser room, brine tank room and machine shop, boiler house and smoke stack for the G. Manz Brewing Co. The structure will be two stories high, built of brick, stone and iron, and will be fitted throughout with steam power and general machinery for the purposes. Estimates are being made for the work.

Hazelhurst and Huckel, architects, Drexel Building, are making drawings for an elegant stone residence to be erected on Germantown avenue, near Penna. R. R. To be fitted with all modern conveniences. Also plans for an immense storehouse to be erected on Delaware Avenue in the vicinity of Arch Street.—Plans are being prepared for a fine residence at Wissahickon Heights for J. H. J. Maris, which will be located upon a commanding hill, giving a view of the surrounding country. It will be of stone, three stories high and fitted with all modern comforts and conveniences. Estimates will be invited soon upon the work.

Mr. Chess, of Chess, Cook & Co., of Pittsburg, Pa., is having a residence erected in which expanded metal lath are fastened to the studding on the outside and inside, and then covered with adamant plaster.

Jacob Myers, contractor, 1315 Sansom Street, is about to erect two handsome three-story houses at Jacoby and Cherry Streets, to be of brick, stone facings and interior fitted with good modern conveniences.

The G. Manz Brewing Company's plant will be at once increased by the erection of an ice manufactory, which will be fitted with all the latest improved machinery for the purpose. This brewery is located at Sixth and Fairhill Streets.

W. E. Ritter, builder, Norristown, Pa., is about to begin erection of twenty two-story houses on north side of Wolf Street, east of Fourth, Phila., These are to be of press brick, stone facings and steps, while interior work will be of the best, with all modern conveniences.

It is indicated by an interview with a member of the W. F. Shaw Co., whose publishing house, 719-21 Vine Street, was burned on the evening of the 6th inst., that as soon as insurance and other matters are put in shape, that it is the intention to rebuild the plant again at an early day.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, DEC. 9, 1891.

THERE is no justification from the present outlook for builders and material men to drift into a chronic condition of mullygrubs because 1891 has not panned out in building operations equal to 1890; and because business in real estate and building at the present time is dull, there is no sense at all in predicting poor business for 1892, as there is nothing to justify such predictions. It is no doubt the fact that building, as a business, is gradually resolving itself into more stable conditions, and that the speculative-take-the-chances-anyhow element that crept in has largely quit the field. The ratio of increase in population, as established by the last census, is equal to about 6000 new houses yearly, or a little less than the amount of construction work done this year, the actual figures for which will be presented in our January report; and there will be, no doubt, that number of new dwellings and other buildings erected yearly for some years to come. There is really neither cause nor reason for believing that there are dull times ahead; for, from the most conservative standpoint, business should indeed be much better in '92 than during the present year. From all points the financial reports show that capital is aggregating, and while capital is the most timid influence in the business world, it is at the same time the most restless under idleness; and we cannot see why the same predictions now being held out and honestly based on our crops of grain, together with the fact that there are plenty of eager customers abroad for all we have to sell, as to business generally, will not apply to the building interests. Of course money at the present time is scarce in business circles. And why shouldn't it be? There certainly have occurred already enough of those circumstances which produce just such results; but all this will be remedied in time, for banks must loan money to make it. We are inclined to believe that the volume of business of all kinds will be largely increased next year, or as soon as the sifting-out process has ended, and the millions already paid and to be paid for our shipments of grain find their way to the hands of the people; and that our future, in fact, the future of the business world, depends more upon the soundness of financial institutions than upon anything else. Kiting brings disastrous results, and it is only reasonable to suppose that more or less waiting will be done until a cure has been effected. It is dull with our city architects at the present time, and more particularly in the matter of heavy work. But why shouldn't this be the fact, inasmuch as their work is controlled by the movements of capitalists who are never likely to move until after the first of the year? Only twenty-one operations for November, short of July last, as shown by our tables, ought to allay the fears of the few who are nothing if not croaking.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The corner store of the new Calvary Episcopal Church at Manheim and Pulaski Avenues, Germantown, was laid on the 3d inst. with impressive ceremonies, and the work upon the superstructure will now be pushed with vigor. A full description of this church has appeared in this journal in a previous number.

James J. Ryan, contractor, 1126 North Fortieth Street, has been given the contract to build that portion of the Philadelphia and Reading Terminal between Arch Street and Cherry. These will include boiler and engine houses, smoke stack, electrical plant and minor parts of this great structure. Work will at once be started.

The New Century Club has appointed a Committee on Furnishing for the new Club House now in course of erection by Pennock Bros., on Twelfth Street above Walnut. It is expected that the club will take possession about January 1, 1892. The committee consists of Mrs. Dr. C. N. Peirce, Mrs. C. N. Thorpe and Miss Mary A. Burnham.

R. C. Ballinger & Co., contractors, Hale Building, Juniper and Chestnut Streets, have received the contract to erect the new private hospital for Dr. Joseph Price, mentioned previously in this journal, at Eighteenth and Vine Streets. It will be a four story structure of brick, stone trimmings, ornamental front and fitted with all modern appliances and comforts for the sick and infirm.

At a meeting of the American Catholic Historical Society of Philadelphia on the 2d inst. a resolution was passed that within the next three months a building be purchased and fitted for the purposes of the society in the central part of the city. This structure must be four stories in height, commodious in every way, so as to accommodate the general reading public. No location has been as yet determined upon.

The Board of Control of the Swedenborgian Church in this city, consisting of representatives from the four churches now in active operation, have decided to erect another building for the accommodation of those members who reside in Germantown. At present they worship in Lincoln Hall in the latter place. No exact location has been as yet secured, but a central one is most desirable. No plans, contract or any preliminaries definitely agreed upon.

Thomas D. Whitaker, of Frankford, Philadelphia, has now in course of erection a plant for the manufacture of Portland cement at Bonnevill, on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, about four miles from Phillipsburg, N. J. It is expected to start the works about March 1, '92, with a capacity of one thousand barrels daily. The address of the works is Phillipsburg, N. J. The rock from which the cement is made is found in the vicinity.

It is understood to be the intention of the Fidelity Trust and Safe Deposit Co. to enlarge its present building during the coming year by making an extension fronting upon Fourth Street, between Market and Chestnut Streets, as they are now the owners of much of the property on the east side of the above thoroughfare. Many of the tenants have received notice to quit upon the expiration of their present leases, which will leave a clear field for this operation.

At a meeting of the Master Builders' Exchange held on Tuesday December 1st, a resolution was offered by Franklin M. Harris to the effect that the delegates from Philadelphia to the next National Association to be held at Cleveland, Ohio, be directed to use their influence in favor of sending slips, containing accounts of the proceedings, to every Philadelphia newspaper, making a speciality of real estate news. An amendment that the National Secretary be also requested to give all information requested at any time by the daily papers, was offered and passed, together with the original resolution.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

[From the Northwestern Architect.]

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

"As is compatible with this progressive period, even wall plaster has succumbed to inventive genius, and 'the day is nearly done' when our handsomely decorated walls and ceilings shall be ruined by reason of the utter unreliability of the old style mortar. To meet this demand for a non-porous plaster, Adamant has appeared on the market, and is now being manufactured in nearly every State in the Union."

[From the Scientific American.]

"Some of the advantages Adamant possesses above the other plaster is the extreme hardness of the wall. It will neither crack nor crumble. It is a strong support to a building. It does not swell timbers by an absorption of the moisture, as the material itself absorbs most of it. It dries so quickly after it is applied to the wall, that in a few hours frost will have no effect on it. We are convinced that this Adamant is destined to revolutionize the business of house plastering."

[From the Baltimore Commercial.]

"Adamant makes a wall as hard as marble, at a slight cost."

[From the Leader and Herald.]

CLEVELAND, O., March 22, 1889.

"The problem has been to provide a substitute that would not only produce a perfect wall, but be comparatively cheap and easily applied as well. Repeated tests, under the most exacting conditions, clearly prove that such a happy combination has at last been secured in the plastering material called 'Adamant,' now being so extensively introduced in this city."

[From the Builder, Decorator and Wood-Worker.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

"Nothing in house building has so long withstood the 'march of improvement,' notwithstanding it has failed to give a substantial wall, while many houses become defaced and old in a few months on account of broken walls and ceilings. 'Adamant' obviates all this, and is the coming plaster."

[From the New York Commercial News.]

"There is not the least doubt about 'Adamant' wall plaster will last as long as the building upon which it is used."

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, DEC. 16, 1891.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communication for publication may be left.

THERE are whisperings in the air already that a prominent builder of this city will certainly be the next Mayor, if he lives.

WE are in receipt of a package of excellent pencils from the well known Dixon Crucible Co., of Jersey City, N. J., and can recommend the product of this firm from satisfactory experience.

ISN'T it very funny that it has taken so many years to find a Mayor for Philadelphia who has common sense enough to understand that the present councilmanic method of spending city money on street improvements is a wanton waste?

IT is quite evident from what we learn that American tin has come to stay, as it is stated that the N. G. Taylor Co., of this city, is looking for a site adjacent to railroads on which to erect a new tin plate factory. An order of some sixty boxes of American roofing tin was recently filled by this company for a U. S. Government building.

Mr. Thomas Martindale, of this city, in an address delivered recently before the Retail Grocers' Association, dwelt particularly strong upon the fact that the present slovenly exposure of goods upon the sidewalks by grocers does much to impair the value of real estate in the vicinity of their stores, besides entailing no inconsiderable loss both as to the value of the goods exposed as well as in the matter of waste. From a hygienic standpoint it is radically wrong to expose food to dust and disease germs at any time; and such exposure, whether through a mistaken sense of business enterprise is highly culpable, and should be prohibited as well by custom as by law. From a real estate standpoint Mr. Martindale held that a grocery store on each end of a row of beautiful dwellings is, under the present general system of the management of these stores, regarded as an eyesore and a nuisance, to the great detriment of trade and a loss of customers from the neighborhood. Mr. Martindale presented the question in such a remarkably strong manner as to leave no room for additional comment.

At the last meeting of Councils a step in the right direction was taken by Mayor Stuart, who sent a communication to that body, enclosing a letter from Director Windrim, requesting the Mayor to recommend to Councils that in the matter of street improvements the power to choose the streets to be improved be vested in the Mayor and the Director of Public Works, instead of in Councils, as heretofore. This shot strikes the bull's eye in the estimation of every citizen who knows anything about the absurd patchwork that takes place in Philadelphia every year, under the name of "Street Improvements." But it is almost too much to suppose that the members of Councils will give up such a precious prerogative without a struggle, and, unless great pressure be brought to bear, Councilmen will probably continue to transact business on the "You tickle me, I'll tickle you plan," and back alleys, in remote sections of the city, and streets upon which there is little travel will continue to be improved at the expense of the needs of much used thoroughfares. The design of the Bullitt Bill, to concentrate the power and to make the heads of departments responsible, is well known, and is a principle that can be found working to advantage in most large mercantile establishments. Is there any reason why its application to municipal affairs should not be a success?

WE have frequently heard a successful business man of this city assert that the only way to extend a business is to drive right ahead and to enlarge facilities, and if the business has any grow in it it is bound to extend. The same idea practically expressed is just what this old town needs. The Trade League has succeeded in inducing the railroads to grant stop-over privileges to passengers. Now the next thing is to put the town in such a shape as to make it worth while stopping over for both business and pleasure. First, our manufacturers and wholesalers should fix prices so that there will be a shade in favor of the buyer who stops over. Second, we need a hotel of a size and character equal at least to the expectations of our stop-over guests, who have become acquainted with the regal munificence of the hospitality extended to them by the New York hotels. Third, the average country merchant seldom visits great cities through any superabundance of religious enthusiasm or sentimental mania. He wants a change. He wants better eating than he gets at home, as well as a moderate relaxation from those conscientious restrictions which have grown irksome, and his efforts to temporarily escape them are of as much moment as his want of goods; and while the city can offer no better inducements to stop over than New York prices and John Wanamaker's big Sunday-school, it will be a hard matter to fool him more than once. The Bourse seems to be driving right ahead. The Trade League is doing good work, but the proposed Bourse as a building, or the Trade League as an organization, can amount to very little without the earnest, practical support of our business men in their business methods; or, in other words, a half a cent per yard on the price of calico and muslin and other stuffs made right here in Philadelphia and at present shipped to New York to be sold, will do more in the way of encouraging stop-overs than all the empty sentiment that can be manufactured. In a nut shell, then, fix prices so as to induce stop-overs and when they come show them the bright side of city life. But build the hotel, anyhow.

Architect Notes.

Moses & King, architects, 431 Walnut street, are receiving estimates upon the interior furnishings of the People's Bank and office building now being erected in Wilkesbarre, Pa.

Hazellhurst and Huckel, architects, Drexel Building, have been engaged by William Ayers & Sons to prepare plans for an exhibition building at the Columbian Exposition and are now engaged upon them.

Quite a number of competitive sketches have been prepared by Philadelphia architects for the new Broadway Methodist Episcopal Church, Camden, N. J. As yet no decision has been rendered as to which will be chosen.

M. B. Bean, architect, Lansdale, Pa., has made plans for a house to be erected at Richland Centre, for D. J. Neidig. It will be a store, restaurant and dwelling combined, heated by steam and furnished with all modern conveniences. The same architect has made plans for a barn 45 x 50 feet, to be erected near the same place by D. M. Clark.

Robert Kennedy, architect, Drexel Building, has made drawings for a building to be erected by the Penna. Iron Works at Fiftieth Street and Lancaster Avenue. It is to be 48x98 feet, one story high and contain offices, banquet room and kitchen for the officers and clerks in the employ of the concern. The material will be brick and stone. A range, electric work and all modern conveniences will be introduced.

Willis G. Hale, architect, 1324-26 Chestnut street, is preparing plans for two fine residences to be erected on Green street, above Seventeenth, for Mr. J. Ketcham and Benjamin Ketcham, respectively. These are to be of English red stone and mottled brick, three stories high, roof to be of Spanish tile, interior to be in hard wood of various kinds, wood mantels, electric work, best of sanitary plumbing and all modern conveniences.

Cope and Stewardson, architects, 320 Walnut street, have prepared plans for a new club house to be erected by the Philadelphia Fencing and Sparring Club, now located on Sixteenth street above Chestnut, and they are to be submitted to the committee in charge for examination. Among the members of the organization may be found Frank S. Pleasanton, Linton Landreth, Edward Stewardson, Isaac Starr, Frank Trotter and a number of leading citizens.

H. Crawford Coates, architect, 110 South Fourth Street, has completed preliminary plans for a large dormitory which the trustees and faculty of the University of Pennsylvania are considering the erection of upon the grounds of that institution at Thirty-fourth Street and Darby Road. The idea is to erect a ten-story structure which will accommodate all the students of the college within the grounds as a matter of convenience and utility. It will be furnished with elevator service, electricity and all modern conveniences, and will cost nearly half a million dollars when completed, and be perfect as to convenience and adaptability.

Bids are being made on plans by Frank Miles Day, architect, 925 Chestnut street, for work upon alterations to house of R. B. Ellison, 1503 Walnut street. The work will consist of alterations almost entirely upon interior, which will be very elegant in design and material used. At foot of grand stairway there will be beam pilasters, two newels and short balustrade. Between the parlor and hallway two large Ionic columns will stand, and the soffit will be decorated with nail heads. The plans for residence of W. E. Heyl, at Wynnewood Station, P. R. R., have been completed in detail. Structure to be stone, slate roof, three stories high, with a tower at one corner, best of interior work and modern conveniences.

F. Miles Day, architect, 925 Chestnut Street, and Lindley Johnson, architect, Girard Building, Broad and Chestnut Streets, have prepared plans for improvement and rebuilding of a number of properties for the Real Estate Investment Co., 721 Walnut Street, at and in vicinity of Twelfth and Locust Streets. These are to be built and fitted in best manner with all modern conveniences and of stylish architecture, having fronts of mottled brick, with red and light-colored stone trimmings, inside furnished with hard wood work, electric bells and wiring for light, steam and hot air heating, as well as other detail work of the best. These are built by the above company as a matter of investment and with an eye to the better improvement of that locality.

Architect Edw. K. Mull, 304 Schuylkill avenue, Reading, Pa., has completed plans and specifications for the following buildings to be erected in that city during the winter. Four two-story brick residences with mansard roofs, to be erected at the southeast corner of Pear and Robeson Streets for William H. Moyer. Each building will be 18 x 56 feet; the interior finish throughout will be in hard woods. Electric work, hot air heat and other modern conveniences will be introduced. Also, a block of ten two-story brick and terra cotta dwellings with ornamental slate roofs, to occupy a site on the east side of Moss Street, north of Robeson. The buildings will have an aggregate frontage of 160 feet and a depth of 52 feet. Each dwelling will be provided with all improvements in lighting, heating, etc. Also, for the same owner, four handsome three-story brick residences with brown stone trimmings, to be erected on the south side of Buttonwood Street, west of Fifth. Each building will have a frontage of 20 feet and a depth of 65 feet. Hard wood finish, tile roofs, plate and art glass windows, electric work, dumb waiters, bath, steam heat, etc.

The Committee appointed to select a design for the Pennsylvania State Building at the Columbian Exposition met and concluded its labors on the 9th inst., and awarded to Thos. P. Lonsdale, architect, of Philadelphia, Pa., the first prize, second to A. S. Wagner, of Williamsport, Pa., and the third to Messrs. Hillman and Shirk, also of Philadelphia. All of the gentlemen named will receive financial reward as well as commendation and praise for labor expended. Mr. Lonsdale's drawings will now be sent to the National Bureau of Construction, and will be subject to its acceptance and direction for any modification that may be deemed necessary. The first prize is $1000, the second $500 and the third $300, none of which will be received until the plans recommended have been approved and accepted by the National Bureau of Construction at Chicago, Ill. The accepted drawings contemplate a very handsome structure, somewhat octagonal in form, and yet preserving the primitive lines of the Old State House, better known as Independence Hall, with the exception of the porch feature prescribed by the committee. Mr. Lonsdale also met the ideas of the Committee upon the construction and utility of the interior in providing for the wants of the large and varied number who will visit the State building during the six months of the Exposition.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

H. K. Wampole & Sons are about to erect a laboratory at 441 Green Street. It will be 28x38 feet and furnished with latest appliances for the business.

The rebuilding of the portion of the Penna. R. R. depot recently burned in Jersey City, will be done by John Byrd. It is in extent 280 x 400 feet. Work upon it will be started at once.

The Carbon-Dioxide and Magnesia Co., located on Thirty-sixth, north of Jefferson Street, will erect a furnace room as an addition to the present plant. It will be of brick and stone one story high, 27x35 feet.

W. H. Burns, contractor, of Berwyn, Pa., has started work upon a fine residence at Devon, Pa., for J. P. Twadell, of Philadelphia. The structure will cost about $10,000 and furnished with all modern conveniences.

D. R. Evans has made excavation for a fine large veterinary hospital on south side of Erie Avenue, east of Sixteenth Street. It will be 30 x 70 feet, two stories high, and built with all conveniences and best of sanitary work.

John M. Sharp, builder, 1936 S. College Avenue, is about to erect eighteen two story houses on Tivoli, Eighth and Ninth Streets, being all in a radius of the one square. These are all to be of press brick, stone trimmings, and best modern conveniences.

The Pennsylvania Working Home for Blind Men will soon make additions to its present quarters on Lancaster avenue, above Thirty-fifth street, having just purchased of Judge W. N. Ashman a lot adjoining for $24,000. The lot is 24x190 feet in size.

Geo. Kessler, contractor, 1543 Perth Street, has taken a permit to erect the three factory buildings on north side of Wheat Sheaf Lane, east of Frankford Avenue. These will be of different sizes, and have been fully described in recent issues of this journal.

New life and activity is constantly being infused into the project of establishing a Philadelphia Bourse. On the 9th inst. Mr. S. L. Jones was elected General Manager vice R. R. Dearden, resigned. It has been decided to hold a public meeting in the Academy of Music, on Broad street, at an early day in furtherance of this great project.

Director Beitler of Public Safety has appointed as Building Inspector Harmon M. Bourse, vice Harrison M. Martin, deceased. The new inspector is a practical bricklayer and a general contractor of wide experience, and therefore brings to the discharge of his varied duties a knowledge that must prove valuable alike to himself and the general public.

R. J. Whitesides & Sons, contractors, are at work upon the large two story structure being erected by W. B. Irvins at 2736-38 North Broad Street. It will be 50x250 feet in size and will be used as a coal and builders' supply station. It will be connected with the railroad in the rear by a siding. It will be a brick and stone structure with a felt and tin roof.

An organization is to be formed in the Twenty-seventh ward, to be known as the Twenty-seventh Ward Improvement Association, and will be headed by prominent citizens and property owners, among whom may be found Henry M. Dechert, C. H. Clark, and others. A meeting will be held on the 17th inst. at the Institute, Fortieth and Ludlow Streets, when all plans will be discussed.

The decision of the City Solicitor having been rendered favorable to the Traction Company Managers of this city, the erection of suitable stables and other buildings will be proceeded with. At present no definite information can be had as to location as the matter is being considered while contracts are being made for the running gear necessary for the line proposed; but enough has been learned to say that all will be settled in a few days at most.

Grand Army Post No. 2 has just taken title to First Church of the Disciples of Christ, on Twelfth Street, below Melon, for $15,000, and will at once take measures to refit it for society purposes. This will require considerable alteration throughout the entire structure. A building committee has been appointed and will be obliged to move at once as the present quarters of the Post at Thirteenth and Spring Garden Streets must be vacated for school purposes at an early day.

As indicated some time ago in this journal the P. R. R. has concluded to improve the northwest corner of Broad and Market streets, and has notified all tenants now there to vacate by January 1, 1892, and it is expected that operations will be started soon thereafter. This move means a fine, large corner structure of seven or eight stories, durable and ornamental, supplied with elevators, steam appliances and electric work. The plans were finished about two years since, and were fully described at that time.

The American Catholic Historical Society, at a meeting on the 10th inst., considered the subject of purchasing a building for the use of the association. No site has as yet been chosen. Subscriptions are pouring in, and before long the necessary amount will have been subscribed. These officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Very Rev. Dr. Ignatius F. Horts-mann, first vice-president, Samuel Castner, Jr.; second vice-president, Rev. James P. Turner; recording secretary, William Carroll Matlack; financial secretary, Edward J. Alledo; corresponding secretary, F. A. Foy; treasurer, John F. McMennamin; librarian, Francis T. Furey.

A fire broke out on the morning of the 9th inst. in the ice machine factory of Christian Schmidt, on Edward, near Second Street and Girard avenue, which almost destroyed the main plant. Mr. Schmidt had only recently begun the work of erecting a large addition to the above plant, which has now been very much damaged and will require a revision of the architect's plans, and building, not only the part now under way, but the entire structure. All the valuable machinery has been destroyed or so damaged as to be worthless, and will now be replaced by new. This will be done as soon as the insurance can be adjusted. The loss is understood to be about $50,000.

Quite a number of large building operations are now under way and being pushed forward with vigor, among which may be noticed the John F. Betz office building, Broad Street and South Penn Square, and that of the Iron Hall, Arch Street, above Broad; the new wings of the county prison near Holmesburg; that part of the Reading Terminal lying between Arch and Cherry Streets; the Jones Publishing House, under Allen B. Rorke, at Eighth and Cherry Streets; also the row of apartment houses at Forty-first, Forty-second, Girard and Belmont Avenues. There is also at this time many of the minor class in various stages of erection such as dwelling houses by large operators, factories, churches, schools, station houses; also a slight sprinkling of public institutions, etc.

If the kitchen of your house is small, you need to economize room. You can do this by using a range with elevated boiler, such as the

"FIDELITY."

It will reduce the cost of plumbing also. We make them with seven inch or eight inch boiler holes, ovens on right or left of fire, with or without hot closets, and also to heat an upper room. Splendid bakers. Hot water in abundance. The latest and best of their class.

FIDELITY HOT AIR RANGE WITH HORIZONTAL BOILER. PAT.

Excelsior Double Oven Range.

If the kitchen is roomy and large, cooking capacity is sought. You will want a brick-set range with a vertical circulating boiler, set in the usual way. The

are acknowledged all over Philadelphia, in which city and vicinity some 75,000 have been sold as the standard brick-set range. They are furnished with ventilated ovens, oven-door pedals, rocking grates, and all modern improvements. Made in seven and eight inch sizes; single, double and hot-air ranges. Send for descriptive pamphlet, entitled "PERFECT COOKING."

Many people who visit our salesrooms often exclaim, "Why, I never knew there was such a place!" Which is immediately followed by the expression, "I am surprised at the enormous stock displayed!" Our salesrooms are back from Chestnut Street, so there is no opportunity for a dazzling street show; but the entrance on Chestnut street is broad, and you have to walk but a short distance when you are ushered into a large room which is gorgeous in its display of

Diamonds, Watches, Silverware, Jewelry, Optical Goods, Bric-a-Brac.

The Diamond room is a cozy one, away from the main salesrooms—just the kind of a quiet nook that people like to do their buying in. In the purchase of a watch we recommend the Arabic. It is a perfect timekeeper, and is made in all sizes, for both ladies and gentlemen. Our Silverware Novelties are of our own manufacture, and the collection represents some of the catchiest designs you ever saw. A full assortment of Jewelry and a magnificent general stock, ample enough in variety and moderate enough in price to meet acceptably every taste.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

J. H. Virkler, builder, 1008 Belmont Avenue, will at once begin the erection of twelve fine three-story houses on Forty-second Street above Penn Grove Avenue. All to be of finest press brick, and interior to have best modern conveniences.

Thirsk & Crompton, contractors, will build the addition to the Enterprise Manufacturing Co.'s present plant at Third and Dauphin Streets, which was noted and described in a former number of this journal.

Lee & Hicks, contractors, will at an early day begin the erection of about one hundred two and three-story houses at Sixtieth Street and Haverford Avenue. All to be of press brick, stone trimmings and best of modern conveniences.

The Building Inspectors have decided that the walls of the recently burned building of Lippincott, Johnson & Co., 629 Market Street, must be further strengthened in accordance with existing law to the extent of four inches in thickness, making them thirteen instead of nine inches, as at present.

The contract to build the large ice manufactory at Twenty-fourth and Green Streets, heretofore noted in this journal, has been awarded to A. Freeman, who will begin the work at once. It belongs to the Fairmount Ice Manufacturing Co., and will be two stories high and 118x160 feet in area.

Architect Notes.

J. C. Worthington, architect, 1305 Arch Street, has made drawings for alteration of 1232-34-36 North Forty-first Street, and will supervise the work, this being part of the large operation begun some time ago by George W. Trautwine, George E. Goldbeck and others, formed as a syndicate to improve and rebuild property facing Fairmount Park in that locality. This large operation is now well under way.

W. L. Plack, architect, 1403 Filbert Street, has been commissioned by the Poor Directors of Blair County to design and superintend the erection of a new almshouse, to replace the one destroyed by fire several weeks ago.

Architect Notes.

Daniel S. Beale, architect, Hale Building, Juniper and Chestnut Streets, has made plans for six fine houses to be erected on Girard Avenue, east of Forty-first Street. These are to be built of buff brick, stone trimmings, and to be three stories high, interior to be finished in hard wood tile work, wood mantles, electric work and best of sanitary plumbing, etc. Plans are now on boards for estimates of contractors. The work of construction will be done under supervision of the architect.

G. W. & W. D. Hewitt, architects, Bullitt Building, have been engaged by the Fidelity Trust and Safe Deposit Co. to prepare the plans upon which the new addition will be erected on Fourth Street, between Market and Chestnut Streets, as indicated in this journal in a recent number. The drawings have not been advanced sufficiently to indicate the style of architecture or material to be used, but in any event it is safe to predict a magnificent structure for durability, safety and beauty.

Samuel Hall Day, architect, 925 Chestnut Street, some time since completed plans for a new church for the congregation of the Church of the Reconciliation, to be erected at Thirteenth and Tasker Streets, southeast corner, and has awarded the contracts for the work to George L. Harvey, the carpentry, and George Rowe, the masonry. Work will begin at once upon the foundations. The structure is to be of Leipsville and Indiana, stone and Pompeian brick, red tile roof. It will cost about $12,000.

Moses & King, architects, 431 Walnut Street, are engaged on preliminary sketches for an immense mausoleum of very handsome design, to be erected in a locality near this city. The interior of the structure will be semi-circular in form, and be entirely of stone, except the furnishing, all of which will be wood and iron. Colored windows will ornament the dome, which will be of iron. The altar will be of onyx and brass work. An organ loft also indicates the intention to place a permanent instrument. The area of ground covered will be about 125 x 125 feet.

The supervising architect of the Treasury Department at Washington, D. C., has just notified Geo. H. Hollis, superintendent of the new proposed Federal Building to be erected in Wilmington, Del., that all bids for the structure offered have been rejected, and that new bids will be asked upon modified plans. These plans will contemplate a structure entirely of granite. They will dispense with the tower in the first drawings, otherwise the details will be the same as before. This action is taken in order to keep the work within the limit of the appropriation made by Congress at the last session.

Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut Street, has prepared a preliminary plan or set of drawings for the contemplated dormitories to be built by the University of Pennsylvania at Thirty-fourth and Darby Road. Mr. Hutton's plans indicate a six-story structure costing only about one-half the amount intended originally to be spent upon the structure or estimated essential by the trustees when the matter was first considered by them.—The plans by Crawford Coates, Jr., architect, noted in our last number, are upon a more elaborate scope, looking to the erection of one large ten-story building fitted with elevator service, electric work, best of heating and sanitary plumbing and all modern conveniences. These two being but preliminary sketches, no definite action has been taken upon the acceptance we understand, but may receive consideration at next monthly meeting of the trustees of the institution.

H. D. Dagit, architect, 122 South Second Street, Philadelphia, has completed a set of plans for a new mill building of Lazarus, Schwarz and Lipper, dress trimmings manufacturers, and they contemplate a structure harmonizing fully with all the latest improvements in slow burning factory construction. The building is to be erected on Garden Street, above Noble, and it will be five stories high, 50 feet in front and 150 feet deep, having yards and passage-ways on the four sides. The entrance will be on the Garden Street front, and at the southern end will be the entrance to the mill by stairways enclosed in fire-proof brick walls extending the entire height of the building and terminating in a double tank tower. At the rear end of the mill is to be an enclosed brick stairway, which is to be used from the open iron balconies of the fire escapes, adding to the safety of the employees during working hours. The five floors are to be used for manufacturing purposes, the offices occupying a part of the third. The boiler and engine rooms will be in the basement, the latter containing two eighty-horse power boilers. Four tanks in the tower will have a capacity for 10,000 gallons each, supplied from wells driven in the pump room of the basement, and there will be automatic sprinkler attachments, in addition to three-inch water mains with outlets for hose connections on each floor. Steam heat is also to be introduced.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

It is said that a large stable will be erected on the lot adjoining the Roman Catholic church on the east side of Broad Street, south of Susquehanna Avenue.

Kister & Orem, contractors, 129 South Seventh Street, have been awarded a contract to place an additional story on the ice house of Louis Bergdoll, at Twenty-ninth and Brown Streets.

J. J. Delmar, contractor, 2425 Allegheny Avenue, has a contract to erect a two-story drying room and boiler house at Twelfth and Brown Streets, and will at once begin the work.

The Overbrook Chemical Co. are about to erect an addition to the present plant at Fifty-sixth Street and Lancaster Avenue, to be one story high and fitted with steam appliances.

The Baldwin Locomotive Works, at Broad and Spring Garden Streets, are about to erect a smith shop at Hamilton and Seventeenth Streets, 50 by 70 feet, one story high. Material, brick, with slate roof.

The Trustees of St. John's Orphan Asylum at Forty-eighth Street and Wyalusing Avenue, are considering the matter of an addition to the house in the shape of a wing with capacity to accommodate about 250 more children. The structure proposed will be 40 x 120 feet, and four stories high.

H. C. Nichols, contractor, 1229 Filbert Street, has been awarded the contract to erect the large addition to the factory of Stead & Miller at Fourth and Cambria Streets, the plans for which were drawn by Geissinger & Hales, architects, and fully noted in this journal in a previous number. The latter gentlemen will supervise the construction.

John Stafford, builder, 1606 Susquehanna Avenue, has just made a purchase of another fine plot of ground containing nearly four acres at Glenwood Avenue and Twenty-ninth Street, and will start an operation of one hundred and twenty-five houses there, to be two and three stories high, stone facings and steps and best of modern conveniences.

At Germantown there is talk of a new church being erected by the congregation of the Swedenborgian society. A meeting was held a few days since at which it was decided to erect a building for church purposes. No site as yet has been selected nor plans made, but a committee was appointed to take the matter in charge, and instructions were given to select a location near the centre of the town.

Bement, Miles & Co., manufacturers, Twentieth and Callowhill Streets, have just taken title to additional property adjoining their present plant, and propose to further increase their mill facilities, which will give them the credit of having the largest plant of the kind in the United States under one roof, and will be bounded by Twentieth and Twenty-first, Pennsylvania Avenue and Callowhill Streets.

As indicated by this journal some time ago, the Philadelphia National Bank building will undergo rebuilding during the early part of 1892, as the officers in charge of the subject of remodeling the structure have, it is understood, requested preliminary sketches for an immense office building to take the place of the present structure on Chestnut Street, below Fifth, north side. Messrs. Theophilus P. Chandler, G. W. and W. D. Hewitt and John T. Windrim are to make plans from which will be adopted those best suited for the purpose.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communication for publication may be left.

CONSIDERABLE speculation is going on through the wholesale trade of this city as to the probable results of the stop-over privileges recently granted by the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Companies. Of course merchants in all sections of the country are looking after their own holiday trade at present, and it would be unreasonable to expect any decided results until spring buying commences. The question to be determined, and that right away, is what kind of a reception is to be extended to the Southern and Western merchants who will come to us figuratively, with the olive branch of peace in one hand and a plethora of purse in the other? Is the Southerner to be reminded of his peccadillo of thirty years ago, or is he to be met as a business man by the same spirit and welcome that greeted him before the war? Are the prices of goods manufactured right here in Philadelphia—and offered for sale at a time when, in all probability, a larger percentage of our mill hands will have been laid off through over-production—to be so arranged that he cannot buy if he would, or is an effort to be made to prove to him that there are really many advantages to be gained by buying from the merchants of this the greatest manufacturing city on the continent? Are Philadelphia-made crackers to be sold hereafter in Boston at prices so much less than the manufacturers prices that they must first make a trip to Boston and back again in order that they may compete right here where they are made with the products of other cities? or is this senseless discrimination in Philadelphia-made goods against our own merchants to continue until we become the laughing stock of the whole South and West? It has been truly stated that there is an exodus every Saturday from our hotels to New York and other points because of our rigid Sunday laws, and that even the anti-Sunday shaving mania, simple as it seems to be at first sight, has been the means of driving thousands out of our city to remain over Sunday somewhere among people who do not regard a Sunday shave as a heinous offence against law or custom. How about the average Westerner or Southerner who strikes our town late on a Saturday evening with a week's beard? Won't he actually hunt around on the following Sunday morning for his accustomed morning nip of angostura and old rye, and won't he swear like a trooper when he finds out that there is an embargo on small vices—such as Sunday drinking and shaving? And won't he conclude that the "sufficient inducements" are entirely too limited to justify his acceptance of stop-over privileges thereafter? A number of our Philadelphia hotel proprietors have frankly admitted that they now serve liquor to their guests on Sundays—or, in other words, they have assumed the right to interpret the law to meet the requirements of their guests, right or wrong, law or no law, and the Law and Order Society to the contrary notwithstanding. This seems like a determined effort to test public sentiment as well as the mettle of the above-named society, and it's more than likely that if the question is to be decided by the courts the hotel proprietors will win. There are too many collateral influences at present working against the interests, comforts, habits and caprices of a large majority of the coming stop-overs to justify any expectation of great results from the very efficient work and influence of the Trade League Committees. It would seem, however, that if we could only get prices down, and keep them down below those of New York, that that would prove the vulnerable point after all, regardless of the temptations and libertine recklessness of our Northern neighbors.

WE are in receipt of the industrial number of the "Chester Daily Times," which indicates a degree of thrift, energy and enterprise seldom found among the Eastern journals in small cities. "The Times" has evidently a boom on hand of no small dimensions; and if its purposes were to demonstrate how high it could reach among the typographical possibilities, and how important a place in the business world Chester is, it has succeeded in a most gratifying manner. The contents are of a most interesting character, for besides a history of the journal itself it contains many pages of matter devoted to the city and the city officials, also treating unsparingly of its educational, commercial, architectural and departmental interests. It also contains many beautiful illustrations, cuts of prominent men as well as those of its own working and editorial staff, an elaborate showing of Chester's best buildings and a map of the city. The Keystone Plaster Co., manufacturers of Adamant Wall Plaster occupies the top half of the last page with an advertisement which indicates at least that the officers of the company fully appreciate the purpose and occasion of "The Times" industrial edition.

MR. SAMUEL GUSTINE THOMPSON has been elected a director of the Equitable Trust Company to succeed Mr. Charles H. Krumbhaar, who was recently appointed by Governor Pattison as Superintendent of Banking. Under the Act of Assembly creating the Banking Department no person acting as a director, officer or stockholder of any bank or financial institution is eligible for appointment as Superintendent. Mr. Krumbhaar resigned as a Director of The Equitable Trust Company, November 30, 1891.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

C. B. Prettyman, builder, 24 North Juniper Street, will at once begin the erection of ten two-story houses on north side of Seigel Street, west of Eighteenth, all to be of press brick, stone facings, with modern conveniences.

The firm of Steel, Van Rossum & Co. has recently completed a new and commodious plant thoroughly equipped with the latest improvements for the manufacture of steam and hot water boilers and radiators at Sixth and Jackson Street, South Camden, N. J., where the firm has both rail and water facilities for freight, and also easy access to Philadelphia, and where they are now prepared to fill orders with promptness and perfection. In addition to this, an office and salesroom has been opened at 817 Filbert Street, Philadelphia, where a full line of samples are kept on hand.

By the first of the year the contracts will be awarded for the construction of the proposed Roxborough Railroad, which will start from Cheltenham Avenue Station, on the Chestnut Hill branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad, run westward to Barren Hill, in Montgomery Co., and thence to Corson's Station on the Trenton cut-off. The distance will be about ten miles, and quite a number of bridges will be constructed, among which are the following: At Rittenhouse Street, in the Twenty-second Ward, fifty feet long; at the Township Line and Lincoln drive, 260 feet long; at Wissabickon Creek drive, 564 feet long; at Monastery Avenue, in the Twenty-first Ward, 130 feet long; at Barron Hill, 60 feet long, and a number of smaller structures.

C. C. Walton, of the United States Navy, together with Board of Trade Secretary Tucker, called at the Builders' Exchange on the 17th inst. and made request of Superintendent Morgan for the price of labor in the various branches meeting at the exchange building. These statistics are to be embodied in a quarterly report to be made to Congress in regard to standard labor, and will be seconded by a communication to be sent to the secretaries of all trade organizations meeting at the Master Builders' Exchange quarters. These are the Master Plasterers, Master Stonecutters, Master Plumbers, Master Painters, Master Carpenters and Builders, Philadelphia Saw and Planing Mill Association, Bricklayers' Company and the Metal Roofers' Association.

One of the marked improvements produced by the Reading Terminal will be the erection of a new hotel by Joseph Bird, contractor, 1029 Race Street, on the ground at the corner of Filbert and Eleventh Streets, extending 160 feet on the former and 85 feet on the latter, and to be when completed nine stories high. The proposed structure will be of granite, iron and buff brick, fitted with elevators, electric work, steam heat and every modern appliance known for comfort. The plans are now in the contractor's hands and only await action upon purchase of one property which it is understood belonged to L. Dannenbaum, and now being negotiated for by the investors in the hotel. The house will be possessed of three fronts upon Eleventh, Filbert and Hunter Streets, giving a very decided advantage for convenience.

Preparations are being made by the society known as the "Royal Arcanum" to erect a magnificent hall in this city, which is to be located in the vicinity of Broad and Spring Garden Streets. For this purpose a "Hall Association" has been formed and incorporated, and shares of stock will be issued at $10 par value, and payable in installments of $1 per month. The site has not as yet been secured nor have plans for construction been made; but indications are that the building will be three or four stories high, and fitted entirely for society purposes. It is erected as a matter of investment, as well as a means of increasing the membership of the order. Among those interested in the society in this city are H. K. Lathey, Custom House; E. S. Bartel, 2013 Market Street; Owen D. Roberts, 241 South Fifth Street.

During the coming year 1892, a number of prominent public improvements will be inaugurated in Philadelphia, which will materially help the laboring population, and involve many millions of capital in construction. Chiefly among these may be mentioned the completion of the Reading Terminal road and depot; the Washington Monument to be erected by the Society of the Cincinnati; the terminal for the Lehigh Valley R. R.; the removal of the Delaware River islands; the great Boulevard to Fairmount Park; the Bourse; the two new elevated railroads; the completion of the new Belt Line of rail around the city; the new U. S. Mint, for which Congress will likely make an appropriation; the Fairmount Park Art Association are considering at this time plans for improvement of Logan and Rittenhouse Squares by erection of fountains, making of flower beds, etc., and in the latter connection may be mentioned the proposed gravity road and an additional memorial in the Park, all of which have assumed tangible form by being in process or having received such impetus as to be an assured fact.

The Mercantile Literary and Social Club has purchased the old club house of the Delaware Club and two lots adjacent thereto for the purpose of rebuilding an entirely new and commodious structure. At a meeting of the club on 15th inst. the building committee were directed to begin the consideration of plans and feasibility of erecting the proposed structure, which will be of a very ornamental character and contain all modern conveniences for comfort. The following are the officers just elected for the ensuing year, 1892. President, Herman Jones; Vice-President, Clarence Wolf; Treasurer, Benjamin F. Teller; Secretary, Aaron Greenwald; Directors, Moses H. Lichten, Harry F. Stern, A. A. Solomon, Julius Hirschberg, Harry J. Tickner, Ralph Blum, August Wise, Henry L. Strouse, and Isidore Langsdorf. There were 255 votes cast. The club has over 100 members, and the location of the new house will be at Broad and Jefferson Streets. The present quarters are on Seventh, below Poplar Streets. The following have been appointed on building: H. Hamburger, A. Lichten, Simon Muhr, William Marks, Edward Loeb, B. F. Greenwald, N. Snellenburg, Alexander Wolf, Isaac Blum, Edward Stern, Louis Gerstley, Samuel Sternberger, H. M. Reis and W. B. Hackenbourg.

—At Wayne, Delaware Co., it is the design of Rev. Thomas K. Conrad, D. D., rector of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, to replace the remaining windows in the church building by those of handsome design illustrating the Te Deum. It is the desire to have some of the windows ready for unveiling by Easter.

—At York, York Co., the project for constructing the new railroad is again talked of with much favor. sense of this meeting that a building should be erected on the borough lot suitable for the accommodation of a council chamber, rooms for the fire apparatus and fire company, lock up and other accommodations for borough purposes.

—At Chester, Delaware Co., a lot has been purchased from John McFadden by a committee of firemen representing the Moyamensing Hook and Ladder Co. whose present quarters are on Broad Street, near Upland. The new ground is at Broad and Crosby Streets, and is 42 x 160 feet in dimensions. It will be of brick, handsomely finished on the interior, and will contain all modern conveniences and improvements.

—At Columbia, Lancaster Co., there is a probability that a new industry will be established in a short time. A meeting of the prime movers was held a few days since in the Council Chamber, and about thirty persons were present. The object of the meeting was to hear the report of the Committee on Investigation, consisting of Messrs. James Perrottett, William B. Given and S. S. Detweiler, Cashier of the First National Bank. Before the meeting adjourned quite an amount of money was subscribed to the new enterprise and land offered on which to erect the plant, which will cover from six to seven acres and employ about four hundred hands. The Investigating Committee can give information.

—At Harrisburg, charters have been issued as follows: Fort Rhein Building and Loan Association. Capital, $1,000,000. Central Market Co. of Lebanon. Capital, $50,000. Alta Manufacturing Co., of Philadelphia. Capital, $50,000. The Hamburg Building and Loan Association, of Hamburg, Berks Co. Capital, $400,000. The Newberry Bridge Co., of Williamsport. Capital, $16,500. The Carlisle Mining Co., of Carlisle. Capital, $25,000.—The plans for the new iron bridge to take the place of the present structure used by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad's tracks over Cameron Street, at Berryhill, have been placed in the hands of Highway Commissioner Seiler and City Engineer Cowden, and it is thought they will be approved.

—At Bryn Mawr, Montgomery Co., arrangements have been completed for the erection of a building for hospital purposes, and a lot has been purchased through the Bryn Mawr Trust Co. for the purpose. It contains about one and three-fourths acres of ground, and is admirably suited for the purpose. The price paid was $7900. The lot faces on Bryn Mawr Avenue. The promoters in this movement are Rudolph Ellis, T. Wistar Brown and Dr. George S. Gerhard. It is probable that work on the building will not be begun until next spring, and as yet no plans have been drawn for the structure. It is said, however, that it will be of stone, handsomely finished on the interior, and will contain about twelve beds for patients. The money has been donated by a number of men interested in the project. The trust company has sold a building lot to Elias Allen, of Bryn Mawr, who will erect a dwelling.

—At Pittsburg the school directors of the Fourteenth Ward have appointed a sub-committee to obtain plans for a handsome new school building to be erected next season at a cost of about $40,000.—F. C. Sauer, Sixth and Liberty Streets, has prepared plans for the school building to be erected in the Twenty-second Ward.—A handsome residence will be erected on Fifth Avenue, Oakland, (Pittsburg), by H. Sampson from plans prepared by J. P. Bailey, 43 Sixth Avenue. The estimated cost is $12,000. George Hoton, of Cleveland, O., has purchased a lot on Emerson Street, upon which he will erect an apartment house four stories high and containing modern conveniences and improvements.—Work will be begun the first of the year on the new parochial residence of Rev. Father Miskiewicz. It will contain twenty-five rooms, handsomely finished on the interior. The estimated cost is $22,000.—The Hotel Schlosser will be enlarged by another story and the addition of the adjoining building now occupied by Joseph Horne & Co.—James McKay has taken out a permit for the erection of a three story stone dwelling to be erected at Shady Side, Pittsburg, at a cost of about $35,000. The plans were prepared by W. S. Fraser, Seventh and Penn Avenues, and the contractors are Clark, Richmond & Co.—Mrs. V. Vandevort has also taken out a permit for the erection of a handsome dwelling on Penn Avenue, to cost about $10,000. The plans were made by George Orth. Clark, Richmond & Co., builders.—J. W. Offerman has completed plans for four stone dwellings for Charles W. Houston, to be erected at a cost of $18,000. J. E. Cole, builder.—J. T. Steen, 36 Sixth Avenue, has furnished plans for the Haven Methodist Episcopal Church, on Oneida Street, to cost about $6000. Charles Reif, Jr., builder.

Through New Jersey.

At Plainfield, Union Co., a handsome Jewish synagogue will be erected.

At Paterson, Passaic Co., plans have been prepared by M. Houman for a handsome dwelling to be erected at Pompton, for Mr. Walter B. Longyear, 346 West Twenty-third Street, New York City. It will be of brick and frame, shingle roof, plate and cathedral glass windows, wood mantels, tiling, etc. The cost is estimated at $5500.

At Hoboken, an organization has been formed to be known as the New York and New Jersey Construction Company, with a capital of $500,000. George W. Green, of Goshen; George Young, of the St. Cloud Hotel, N. Y.; Hon. James W. Husted, of Peekskill, N. Y.; Anthony Barrett, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; and James W. Whitney, of Rochester, N. Y. The company will engage in bridge construction work, with an office at No. 1 Newark Street, Hoboken.

At Carney's Point the Duponts, of Wilmington, Delaware, have begun operations on the erection of an extensive powder plant, which will cost about $100,000. The site embraces about two hundred acres of ground located on the Delaware River, about two miles below Pennsgrove. The plant will consist of a magazine, boiler house, pump house, dynamo house and a three-story brick dwelling for the use of the superintendent. The buildings will have heavy stone foundations and roofs of fireproof material. All of the buildings will be lighted with electricity. It is expected that the plant will be in operation by June, 1892.

Through Delaware.

At Wilmington, at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Catholic Hall Company, held last week, the question of improvements was discussed to the company's property at Eighth and King Streets. It was decided to obtain plans looking to the tearing down of the present building, and the erection of a new one better suited to the needs of the company. The matter was referred to the Board of Directors to report at the next meeting. Charles O'Connor, is President, Peter A. Harty, Vice-President, J. Smith Brennan, Treasurer, and John F. Miller, Secretary.

Architect Notes.

Hazelhurst & Huckel, architects, Drexel Building, will, at an early day, finish the detail drawings for the new Odd Fellows' Temple, to be erected at Broad and Cherry Streets, after which they will be placed on boards for estimates. As before noted in this journal, the structure will be very ornate, and reflect credit upon the order erecting it.

Willis G. Hale, architect, 1524-26 Chestnut Street, has made plans for an elegant residence for E. F. Davis, real estate manager for Mr. William Weightman, to be erected at Wawa, Del. Co., Pa. The plans are prepared, but Mr. Davis may not possibly build for some time; at least the construction will not be commenced for some time. The drawings are very handsome, and when used will produce quite a handsome addition to the neighborhood.

W. J. Edbrooke, Supervising Architect of the Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., has sent to several general contractors in this city plans for the Custom House, Post Office and Public Offices, at Newark, N. J. The plans are very elaborate, and contemplate a handsome structure of stone, iron and brick-work. An immense tower will rise at one corner. Interior will be fitted with elevator service, electric work, best of modern system of heating and ventilation, sanitary plumbing, etc. Bids upon this work must be in by January 9, 1892.

Romulo Vasquez, architect, Holmesburg, has drawn plans for a public hall to be erected at the above-named place in the Thirty-fifth Ward. The style of architecture is Romanesque, and it will be three stories high, covering an area of 56 x 160 feet. The basement will be fitted for stores, first floor for offices as well as the Holmes

Free Library. The auditorium will be one-and-a-half stories high, and in rear of the office portion, separated by a large corridor; second floor will be fitted for lodge rooms. The material for the structure will be press brick, terra cotta and Ohio or Indiana limestone. An immense window will ornament the front of the building.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Alfred G. Clay, builder, will at once begin the erection of twelve fine two story houses, on Titan Street, east of Twenty-seventh. They are to be of press brick, stone trimmings and good modern conveniences.

John J. Cassidy, builder, Moyamensing Avenue and McKean Street, will at once begin the erection of eight two-story houses on Howard Street, south of Snyder Avenue. These will be in keeping with his other operation in close proximity.

The Reading Railroad is about to erect a three story addition to its Richmond coal shipping plant. It will be used for offices and fitted with good modern conveniences. By special ordinance they will erect the structure of frame, being upon their own property and free from contact with any other building.

The required amount of $8000 for the addition to be made to the Manufacturers Club, on Walnut Street, above Broad, has now been secured, and the long-talked-of work upon the structure will be started at an early day. This will consist of a summer and winter roof garden, renovation of the restaurant, and the addition of a ladies cafe.

About noon, on the 25th inst., a fire broke out in the building known as Holy Trinity German Catholic Church, at the northwest corner of Sixth and Spruce Streets, and caused damage to the structure of about $6000, which will, it is understood, be repaired at once. Father Hilterman, who resides in the parochial house, is in charge.

The Philadelphia Traction Co. has just purchased the old malt house located at East Montgomery Avenue and Gaul Street for the purpose of building a car house, depot and stable. The property is bounded by Vienna and Gaul Streets and Montgomery Avenue, and was intended for a building site for dwellings, but the demand of the railway for branch accommodations made it necessary to take it, and measures will be taken at once to utilize it.

The corporation of the Temple College, at a special meeting of the Board on the 24th inst., confirmed the sale of the property at the corner of Mervine and Berks Streets to the congregation of the Church of the Disciples, and the purchase by the former of a new site for the proposed college on Broad, below Berks. The site now being selected, Temple College will be built at an early day, a building committee having the matter in charge. Plans must first be prepared, after which the contracts will be awarded.

Another building operation of the Philadelphia and Reading R. R. Co., has been rendered necessary and is now being considered. This is the erection of a new Columbia Avenue Station on the site of what is known as Columbia Hall, on the southeast corner of that avenue and Ninth Street. This action has been rendered doubly needful by the action of the Traction Co. elevating its railway, and the fact that travel will be doubly increased when the terminal is completed. The properties south of the hall building will be condemned and a train shed erected in conjunction with the depot.

It would seem that while so many of our citizens act in hearty accord with the obstructionists who seek to embarrass, delay and defeat altogether projects of such great importance as the proposed Belt Line, very little if any headway can be expected from projects of less moment. While business men so fearlessly, in the face of public sentiment, voluntarily present a host of imaginary injuries, as was the fact at the hearing of the Belt Line case, for no other reason than because the officers of an arrogant corporation desired them to do so, it would seem that it is a waste of time and effort to attempt to rehabilitate our city with its former commercial prestige. Of course opposition can be reasonably expected from those who are in touch and sympathy with the obstructionists; and it is evident that every advanced idea must be fought inch by inch, in court and out of court, just so soon as it assumes practical shape. The Belt Line is now recognized as the key to the situation; success in that will make success easier for other important schemes which will surely follow. The proposed Ship Canal to the sea is a scheme second, as to our local interests, only to the Belt Line. The proposition as to the canal has been hailed with favor by men of eminent business standing in New York, who have already paved the way for a proper presentation of the scheme to the business organizations of that city. Strong opposition will come, and from the same source as is now opposing the Belt Line; but it will be overcome, because public sentiment is all powerful, and the spirit for improvement tenacious and irresistible; but the little body of business men who, without hope of reward, are making a grand fight in the interests of the people of this city, need all the moral support it is possible to give them. The time for financial support coming later, need not be considered at present. There is so much required to fill the bill of wants in order that Philadelphia may merit the attention she deserves from both outside business men as well as tourists, that at the best some years must elapse even without opposition before many of the suggestions already made can assume tangible shape. An hotel superior to any New York or Chicago can boast of has been suggested, and we are assured that the capital is ready to build it, provided it can be shown that it would pay as an investment. If only a few of the many good things suggested are realized much will have been accomplished to the great benefit of our business men and the popularity of the city. It is from outsiders that we must look for any decided increase in our population, as the natural increase is not enough in itself to justify the enterprise that has heretofore controlled our builders. The objective point should be among our visitors, who, when made acquainted with the many living and business advantages the city possesses, will easily become the occupants and owners of our houses to the great benefit and advantage of all who live here. Every citizen, however humble, really enters into this question of city improvements, and there is room for everyone to impress his personality towards shaping public sentiment against the obstructionists and in favor of every honest scheme fathered by honest men. And in no way can such influence be made manifest to better advantage than in our City Councils. No one man nor no single body of men can make headway against the combinations, political and otherwise, that stand in the way of the city's future greatness without the help of the people; and that help can never come until the people are educated up to its importance. No man in the whole city is more keenly alive to the necessities of the hour than Mayor Edwin S. Stuart. He is fully competent as a business man to appreciate the necessity for more wholesome legislation and less of the present deadening and damning methods known as the patch-work system. His message to Councils, recommending the suggestions of Director Windrim as to the expenditure of the moneys to be applied to street paving being under the control of the executive, is a healthy outcome of his business judgment; and although failing in having his recommendation accepted, yet he has succeeded in fastening the responsibility where it belongs, and much speculation is being made as to how far he will exercise the veto power in the patch-work ordinances which will be presented for his signature. It must be understood that the Mayor's position is a very delicate one; for while deprecating the present methods he is likely to be misunderstood and stigmatized as an obstructionist to public improvements if too emphatic in his vetoing power. What we need right now is a local city party entirely free from politics with a platform of a few words, to wit: Public betterments, and an economical and judicious expenditure of public money. And there is no man better calculated than the Mayor to head such a movement. It is either this or a continuation of the present dynasty responsible, as it is and has been, for the yearly expenditure of from fifteen to eighteen millions of dollars for the last fifteen years with the poorest possible showing as a reward for party loyalty, and a blind faith in those who never were and never will be anything more than political hacks with a single selfish aim, to wit, the spending of honest money to perpetuate everlastingly their present hold and power.

On Tuesday, December 22d, Miss Minerva Parker, the architect, 14 S. Broad Street, was married to Rev. William I. Nichols, pastor of the Spring Garden Unitarian Church. The ceremony took place at the church, and was followed by a reception in the church parlors, at which a host of friends embraced the opportunity to offer congratulations and well wishes to the happy pair.

The following facts gleaned from Secretary of the Treasury Foster's report to Congress, relating to public buildings, is of interest to those interested in construction of buildings of all kinds. One hundred and twenty buildings are in course of construction, including extensions and additions, alterations and repairs. Seventy-eight sites and buildings were authorized by the Fifty-first Congress, and eleven sites are yet to be selected. For the year ending September 30th, 1891, $5,948,702.78, was expended on public buildings, divided as follows: For repairs and preservation, $228,644.10; for vaults, safes and locks, $48,304.98; for heating apparatus, $119,746.19; for photographic duplication of plans, $3,484.18; for vaults for storage of silver at New Orleans, La., and at San Francisco, Cal., $34,273.55; for sites and construction of new public buildings, extensions and repairs specially provided for, $5,514,250.88.

POSTMASTER-GENERAL JOHN WANAMAKER'S annual report for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1891, contains so much information of a general as well as a specific character, together with many important suggestions and recommendations, that a thorough review of the work is out of the question. It is gratifying, however, to recognize the fact that Uncle Sam's mail service is rapidly approaching a self-supporting basis, the deficit for last year amounting to only about $6,000,000, notwithstanding the million dollar loss of revenue arising from the arbitrary exclusion of lottery mail matter. The Postmaster-General predicts that July 1, 1893, will find his department entirely self-sustaining, as the increase of revenue last year amounted to over $5,000,000. An elaborate showing is made as to the result of his being in constant touch and sympathy with the 64,329 postmasters of all classes in the United States; in fact, unlike many of his predecessors who knew it all, he invites criticism, suggestions and recommendations from every one connected with the service, with the view of increasing its efficiency, and without regard to the social, political or official status of the employee. As to postal telephone and postal telegraph service he says:—

A year from next March the telephone patent expires, and unless Congress acts promptly to authorize its adoption for communication among the people, it requires no stretch of the imagination to believe that in the next two years one immense syndicate will unite and control all the hundreds of telephone plants of the country as the telegraph is now controlled, or the two will be united, and then for the next twenty years the most astute attorneys will be legitimately earning large salaries in indignantly opposing the so-called attacks of future Postmasters-General upon defenseless vested rights. One-cent letter postage, 3-cent telephone messages and 10-cent telegraph messages are all near possibilities under an enlightened and compact postal system, using the newest telegraphic inventions. The advantage of tying the rural post office by a telephone wire requiring no operator to the railroad station must be obvious. The benefits arising from telephonic connections with the post offices will easily suggest themselves in a hundred ways to those who want the entire people to share in common privileges. The rural population would be the greatest gainer. A telephone message from the post office to the railroad station miles away to ascertain if expected freight had come would save the farmer many a needless wagon trip over bad roads; news of approaching frosts could be promptly spread over country districts and fruit-growing regions, and many a valuable crop saved. The day's market prices for cattle and grain and wool and produce may be obtained by the farmers more direct by inquiry from others than from the buyer who drives up to the farm in his buggy. All these may seem homely purposes to dwellers in cities, but country life would lose some of its drawbacks by the extension of such facilities to those who bear their full share of the burdens of the Government, and receive, in postal respects at least, less than their share of its benefits.

The following interesting information shows the average distances the post offices of the different sections of the country are from telegraph stations and savings banks, from which it will be seen that the Postmaster-General fully appreciates the difficulties that impede the business interests of the country, particularly in the agricultural sections:

New England States.—Average distance to the nearest telegraph office, 4 miles; average distance to the nearest savings bank, 10 miles.

Middle States.—Average distance to the nearest telegraph office, 3 miles; average distance to the nearest savings bank, 25 miles.

Southern States.—Average distance to the nearest telegraph office, 9 miles; average distance to the nearest savings bank, 25 miles.

Western States.—Average distance to the nearest telegraph office, 7 miles; average distance to the nearest savings bank, 26 miles.

Pacific Slope States.—Average distance to the nearest telegraph office, 13 miles; average distance to the nearest savings bank, 52 miles.

Eight thousand miles of additional post office service were established during the year. The rural free delivery system is a paying and profitable experiment. The post office savings bank system is again recommended, together with a non-negotiable saving postal deposit certificate bearing interest at the rate of half cent a day on the dollar or $1.82½ yearly on each dollar deposited, which proposition seems absurd as this would be at the rate of one hundred and eighty-two and a half per cent. interest yearly. The erection of smaller and more useful public buildings is recommended, and on one cent postage he says:

To reduce letter postage to a uniform rate of 1 cent means exactly that the Department will lose one-half of this amount of receipts. One-half would be $20,716,064.75. But there has been a different history connected with past reductions of the rate of postage from that which would probably follow a reduction to 1 cent. For example, the reduction of 1883 from 3 to 2 cents was followed the succeeding year by a loss of revenue of only $1,660,000, but there were large compensations. There was in the first place the great stimulus imparted to correspondence at the lower rate; in the second place, the stimulus given by the inducement to employ sealed letters in place of unsealed circulars, whereby the Department reaped a large profit; and, in the third place, the increase caused by the inducement to employ sealed letters in lieu of postal cards, where the profit was still larger. It must be borne in mind all the time that there could be no such compensation in the case of a reduction of letter postage to 1 cent. In fact, there would be little to offset the sweeping loss beside the bare increase in correspondence brought about by the lower rate, because by a change from postal cards at 1 cent to sealed letters at 1 cent the Department would gain nothing but the cost of manufacture of the card, and this would be offset probably by the cost of carriage of the greater weight; and by a change from unsealed circulars at 1 cent to sealed letters at 1 cent there would be no gain whatever. We have therefore to face in this problem, assuming that it is ripe for solution by 1893, a clear loss to the revenue of not less than $21,000,000 under present conditions, which, if the Department were to receive its dues in regard to the credits belonging to it, would be reduced to a deficit of from $10,000,000 to $11,000,000.

As a first step towards 1-cent postage, Mr. Wanamaker recommends the passage of an act to credit the Department for all mail carried. He recommends the simplification of postal rates and the consolidation of the third and fourth classes of postage, and as one of the results of this merely business-like management of affairs shows how newspapers may all be transported free from July 1, 1893.

MESSRS. MERCHANT & CO., of this city, with their usual forethought, have issued an instructive as well as highly entertaining pamphlet setting forth the firm's proposed display at the Columbian Exhibition at Chicago, in 1893. The representatives of all the nations, together with our jolly and well-known friends, the "Brownies," are out in full force, and play an important part in interesting the many future visitors who will "take in" the firm's handsome and instructive exhibit at the World's Fair. The twenty-four cuts with which the pamphlet is illustrated display great originality of design joined with rare skill and beauty of execution, and altogether make a work of art worthy of attention.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

James Seabury, builder, has just bought additional lots at Fifty-second Street and Columbia Avenue for building purposes, which he will start early in 1892.

W. E. Ritter, contractor, Norristown, will at once begin the erection of ten two-story houses on Wolf, west of Second Street, all to be of press brick, stone facing and best modern conveniences on interior.

William J. Ross, builder and owner, 1231 South Twenty-first Street, will at once begin the erection of fourteen two-story houses on Wolf, west of Fifth Street. These will all be of press brick, stone trimmings and best modern conveniences on interior.

Another property is about to be started in the way of improvement at Twelfth and Locust Streets for the Real Estate Investment Co. The dimensions are four-story, 18 x 70 ft, and built of brick and stone, with every modern convenience, inclusive of electric work and best sanitary plumbing, etc.

The Catholic Home on Race Street, near Eighteenth, has recently taken title to an adjacent lot of ground on the east of their property, and known as the Wetherill estate. It is the purpose of the sisters in charge to increase their facilities for the care of the children under their charge by by such additional buildings as can be erected, the lot being 19 x 134 feet.

A joint conference will be held on next Thursday, the 31st inst., upon the merits of the "Hicks' Bill," now before City Councils for an elevated railroad upon Market Street. Director Windrim and other officials, as well as private individuals interested, will be heard upon this occasion. The meeting will be held at Fifth and Chestnut Streets in the Clerk's Office of City Councils.

Director Windrim, on the 22d inst., opened bids and made the following awards for repairs to country roads for next year: First, Twenty-sixth and Thirtieth Wards, to W. S. Vare, for $2490; second, to the Twentieth Ward inclusive, and the Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, Thirty-first and Thirty-second Wards, Edward Bennis, $3450; Twenty-first Ward, D. McMahon, $2250; Twenty-second Ward, south of Gowen Avenue and Allen's Lane, D. McMahon, $7000; north of Gowen Avenue and Allen's Lane, Charles F. Andrews, $1800; Twenty-third, Twenty-fifth and Thirty-third Wards, Richard P. Bennis, $5700; Thirty-fifth Ward, R. P. Bennis, $11,300; Twenty-fourth and Thirty-fourth Wards, Edward Bennis, $1947; Twenty-seventh Ward, D. Bader, $1490. The aggregate is about $10,000 more than the contracts for this year, but the Director said he would expect a better and larger amount of work for the money.

Through Pennsylvania.

When any of the following are not post office towns they will be so designated.

—At Nazareth, Northampton Co., it is reported that the Eastern and Northern Railroad Co. have in view the fair grounds for a picnic resort.

—At Scranton, Lackawanna Co., at a recent meeting of the School Controllers, it was decided to erect a new school building on Franklin Avenue.

—Ground will soon be staked off near Wernersville, Berks Co., for the erection of the asylum buildings for the chronic insane, for which the Legislature has appropriated $500,000.

—At Hazleton, Luzerne Co., a syndicate has been formed to secure a site upon which to erect a large block for business purposes, to be similar to the Coal Exchange Building at Wilkesbarre. The estimated cost is $125,000.

—At Carlisle, Cumberland Co., by the will of Mrs. Susan P. Hoffman, who died in Philadelphia on December 14th, the sum of $1000 was left for the purchase of a memorial window to be put in the Methodist Episcopal church of Carlisle.

—At Easton, Northampton Co., the Easton Trust Co. will commence work on the erection of its new banking house early next spring. The new structure will be erected at the southeast corner of South Third Street and Centre Square.

—At Latrobe, Westmoreland Co., a large tract of land, containing about 200 acres, has been purchased by Pittsburg capitalists who have laid out a site for a manufacturing town and expect to induce a number of manufacturing firms to locate on the land.

—At Wawa, Delaware Co., Edward Worth has sold about thirty acres, a part of the Thatcher farm near Wawa, to Edward T. Davis, of Philadelphia, at $600 an acre. It is the intention of the purchaser to erect a handsome country residence to cost about $25,000. Work will begin on the structure early in the spring.

—At Royersford, Chester Co., S. B. Latshaw has sold a lot on Main Street, for $400, to Horace W. Rogers. The purchaser will erect a handsome dwelling on the site. The new dwelling of B. B. Brant is now under roof. It will be one of the handsomest dwellings in the place. Mr. Brant is also erecting a stone stable.

—At Duquesne, Allegheny Co., the congregation of the Presbyterian Society will erect a handsome church building to cost $20,000, on the site donated by Mr. Patterson. The congregation of the Lutheran church also contemplate erecting a new edifice. The A. M. E. congregation has purchased a site and expects to build next year.

—At West Chester, Chester Co., Willis P. Hazard has sold a lot at the southeast corner of Matlack and Lacey Streets, fronting 100 feet on the former, and extending 200 feet on the latter street, to Plummer E. Jefferis, who will improve the site by the erection of two three-story brick dwellings. They will be handsomely finished on the interior, and will contain modern improvements and conveniences.

—At McKeesport, Allegheny Co., a public building will probably be erected. A bill will be introduced by Senator Quay authorizing an appropriation for the purpose. Petitions are being prepared which will be sent to the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds, which will have the matter in charge. It is reported B. B. Coursin will erect a handsome building for hotel purposes to cost about $75,000.

—At Pottstown, Montgomery Co., the plant of the March-Brownback Stove Co.'s plant, from Linfield to Pottstown, is now an assured fact, and the erection of a large warehouse and other necessary buildings will be begun at an early date. The company before consenting to removal, asked that $50,000 worth of stock be taken by the citizens, and $3000 pledged for expense of removal. The conditions were all complied with, and the capital stock thus increased to $200,000.

—At St. Vincent's Abbey, near Latrobe, and two miles from Beatty Station, Westmoreland Co., ground has been broken for the new church which will be erected at a cost of about $200,000. It will be of stone and cruciform in shape. The construction will be in charge of Sebastian Wimmer, a relative of the late Archablot Wimmer. It is expected to finish the structure by 1896, the semi-centennial of the founding of St. Vincent's monastery and college—the first house of the Benedictine Order in the United States.

—At Pittsburg a two story brick dwelling will be erected on Meyran Avenue at a cost of $4000, by William Biggs.—A permit has been issued for the erection of a school house in the Twenty-second Ward to cost about $13,000. John Siebert is the builder.—Mrs. John Wellington will erect a two story frame dwelling on Sycamore Street, to cost about $3500.—A dwelling will be erected by H. L. Turner. It will be of frame, handsomely finished on the interior, and will cost about $4000. Thos. C. Cook & Bros. have been given the contract for the erection.—The congregation of Christ Methodist Episcopal church will erect a new edifice to cost about $175,000. It is reported that no plans have yet been awarded.

Architect Notes.

Rankin and Kellogg, architects, 1001 Chestnut Street, have been engaged under contract to prepare all the plans and supervise the erection of the new State Asylum, to be erected near Wernersville, Berks Co., Pa., by the State. These plans are quite elaborate, but have not been developed sufficiently to describe them in a satisfactory manner. Much minute and detail remain for the authorities to decide upon, after which the work will be pushed to completion with vigor.

Harold Godwin, architect, 905 Walnut Street, has made complete plans for an alteration and addition to the Gerson stores, 40-42-44 N. Eighth Street, which will soon take place. These contemplate the entire rebuilding of No. 44, and interior and extension work upon Nos. 40 and 42. New heating and ventilating, elevator service, electric work and all modern improvements will be introduced in order to make it one of the finest business houses upon the thoroughfare.

Hazelhurst & Huckel, architects, Drexel Building, have been engaged to prepare plans for construction of the Central M. E. church, Allen and Franklin Streets, Frankford. The structure, as designed after competition, will be of local stone, one-story high, slate roof, with a tower at one corner, and in general will be a handsome edifice. The seating will be amphitheatre in form, and interior furnished very handomely; heating and ventilation will be of the most approved kind, and the whole will cost about $35,000 when completed. No contracts have been let.

Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building, Fourth and Walnut Streets, has prepared plans for the Charles G. Coulston Memorial Building, to be erected at Broad and Wolf Streets, upon the grounds of the Methodist Episcopal Hospital grounds, and will be part of that institution when completed. The structure will be of stone, one-story high, and 50 x 50 feet in area. It will be built with all modern improvements, best sanitary features, and with a design to prevent microbes of disease remaining or adhering to the walls. This additional building is the gift of Charles G. Coulston. The same architect has gone to Chicago, Ill., to receive further instructions in regard to the erection of the Pennsylvania State Buildings, the plans for which were drawn by him, and won the competitive award. The limits of ground and position will now be assigned by the General Board of Construction and Supervising Architect, after which the contract will be awarded.

Edwin F. Durang, architect, 1200 Chestnut Street, has made plans for the following structures, which will be erected under his supervision: A new chapel for the Sisters Academy, at West Chester, Pa., to be 44 x 88, to be built of Avondale stone, and will cost about $25,000. Also, a new chapel for the Sisters of Mercy, at Merion, Pa. The building will be 60 x 200 feet, with a main projecting one 50 x 36 feet. Also, an addition to present home, which will be 39 x 99 feet, and two-stories high. All to be of Port Deposit stone with granite dressing. Same architect has made drawings for the new central buildings of the Keystone State Normal School at Kutztown, Pa. These will be 179 x 70 feet; basement to be of stone; remaining four stories of brick, and will cost $70,000. Also, plans for Church of St. John, at Lambertville, N. J. Gothic in style, 62 x 125 feet, with a tower at one corner which will be 22 feet square and 130 feet high, built of Stockton stone, and cost about $45,000. Also, plans for a chapel of the Sacred Heart, at Mobile, Ala., to be 60 x 150 feet, and to be erected of buff brick, with Indiana stone dressing; cost, $35,000. Also, plans for a new hospital for Sisters of St. Francis, at Reading, Pa., 250 x 60 feet, and four stories high. Will cost about $80,000.

Adrian W. Smith, architect, 907 Walnut Street, has just completed elaborate plans for a convent to be erected in the city of Wilmington, Del., upon ground known as "Ke t mere." The grounds are 300 feet square and will be enclosed by a stone wall ten feet high. The building will be 116x168 feet, and will be constructed of Avondale stone, Brandywine granite or Indiana limestone, three stories high, with an ornamented gable on the Gilpin Avenue front. To the right will be upon ground floor three guests parlors and three community rooms, also an assembly room, refectory, kitchen, bakery, and to the left of hallway, which runs to rear of the structure will be a transept, chapter room, novitiate, library, cabinet, procuratrix, larder, laundry, linen room, etc. On the same floor will be the sacuary, priests' sacristy, small chapel, confessional and sisters' sacristy. Second floor will contain guests rooms, infirmary, and sixteen cells. The transept, sanctuary and choir will be two stories high. Three out-sisters' cells, dining room, studio, robbers office, eighteen cells and linen-keepers' room will be upon the third floor. A tower and crosses will ornament the exterior of the various corners of the immense structure. The foundation walls will be of Wooddalstone. All chimneys will be topped off with masonry. No salmon brick will be used. Separate proposals will be received for facing interior walls or chapel and choir throughout with press bricks, with one row of moulded bricks around the windows. The outside wall will be of Morris quarry Avondale limestone or Brandywine granite. The building will be pointed throughout with cement mortar. The jambs, posts and caps, and arch stones in the three-story building will be of cut stone, as well as the cornice and balustrade and the mouldings of the portico niches. All cut stone on the Bayard Avenue front of the chapel will be the best quality of Indiana oolithic limestone, as a rule. The girdles between the choir and sanctuary and choir and little chapel will be of  $\frac{3}{4}$  inch bars. The girdle opposite the centre opening of the balustrade will be like a shutter to open outwards. The front and vestibule doors will be operated by a switch lever or wheel in the portress' room. The roof of the chapel will be of white pine. The consoles under the ends of trusses and iron beams will be carved. The floors will be of Georgia yellow pine and Virginia heart yellow pine. The vestibule door will be of white or red oak, other doors of white pine. A freight elevator will run from the cellar to the third floor. Throughout the building best double thick American glass will be used except in the chapel and little chapel, where the best cath-dral glass will be used. In the main hall, opposite the main stairs, will be a full richly-toned bell of not less than twenty-five pound weight. Gas fixtures in the chapel will be of bronzed old copper finish: other parts of the building, plain bronzed iron. Everything about the building will be finished in a first-class manner. Plans are on boards for estimates and these must be in by January 15, 1892 when the contracts will be awarded under the supervision of the architect and Bishop A. A. Curtis, of Wilmington, Delaware.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Phil. J. Walsh, merchant, 28 South Street, is about to erect two fine summer with all attachments, upon his grounds mont, Delaware Co., Pa. Mr. Walsh will install the best appliances for propagation in these tures.

William H. Irwin, 2449 Turner Street, will build a fine large stable 63 x 80 feet in area and three stories high on east side of Ridge Avenue, south of Twenty-sixth Street. The structure will be fitted with all conveniences for the purpose of a livery and boarding stable.

Henry R. Shuch, builder, has just taken title to over eight acres of land at Ontario and Kennedy's Lane, upon which he will conduct a large operation of houses during the coming season, and all of which will be in keeping with others erected by him in the immediate vicinity.

John M. Sharp, builder, 1336 South Coll Avenue, will at once begin the erection of fine three-story houses on Sansom Street, north side, east of Twenty-second. These to be of press brick, with stone trimmings and best of interior work, which will include all modern improvements.

It is currently reported that option of purchase of the old Dundas Lippincott property, at Broad and Walnut Streets, has been given to William Weightman, chemist, for the purpose of erecting a large hotel thereon. As a matter of investment no definite action, however, has taken place in the matter.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communication for publication may be left.

WITH this number THE REAL ESTATE RECORD enters its seventh year of publication. As the years roll along the field and scope of its usefulness widens and its practical worth to the interests it serves becomes more apparent. With the experience of the past six years behind him, its publisher can look forward with increased confidence in his ability for maintaining the strength and vigor of its building news columns, which have gained for the paper, both at home and abroad, a popularity possessed by few journals devoted to its kind of work.

With no axes to grind the editorial columns, although limited through the great volume of building news which must be reported weekly, have been particularly free from bias or unfair criticism, and, to the credit of those in charge of this special department of the work, be it said, no statement has ever been recalled, no assertion gainsaid nor apologies made. Fearless and independent, serving no master but the public, in whose interest it has worked and prospered, THE REAL ESTATE RECORD has sought to merit and command the respect of those whose esteem is worth having, and it is to this fact that its success is largely due. "Nothing if not useful" has been the maxim which has guided its management from the start, and the effort has been maintained throughout to make its value a hundred fold greater than its cost to each subscriber. No effort has been spared to justly merit a reputation for reliability in its building news department; and not only has a vast amount of earnest, conscientious and painstaking work been done in this direction, but it has been done under an intelligent appreciation of the serious nature of the work involved and the costly annoyance any less efficient service would entail upon those who from past experience have learned to put faith in its statements. With this issue a full and specific report of the work of building, together with the transfers of real estate for the year 1891, is presented. The tables will prove particularly interesting as they are not only sufficiently specific in their character, but they afford a rare opportunity for those interested in the statistics of, perhaps, the most rapidly developing city on the American continent. With an abiding faith in the ability of our builders to keep pace with the people's growth, however great, and with a firm belief that much good must come from the active and energetic efforts of such organizations as the Trades' League, the Operative Builders' Association, the Master Builders' Exchange and others, we promise our earnest and unqualified support to any and all who are honestly aiming and working for the advancement of the business and social interests of the whole city.

The Wilson Home Trust.

Any honest scheme in the hands of honest officials that will enable the heads of families to acquire a home merits the unqualified endorsement of everyone. There are hundreds of small houses in this city awaiting buyers that are now likely to become available to people of limited means through a generous, as well as a perfectly feasible system of instalment certificates to be issued by the Wilson Home Trust, whose office is located at the Southwest corner of Tenth and Chestnut Streets. One out of every eleven of the certificates issued matures each year, and all of them must mature at the end of seven years, and, under certain conditions, controlled by the subscribers, the yearly number of maturing certificates can be largely increased. The object of the Trust is not to confine subscribers in their selection of homes to any locality nor to any special character of a house. The proposition is certainly a commendable one, as it represents the application of the earnings of the subscriber, who, while now paying a yearly rental for the house he lives in, has no interest whatever in the property outside of the shelter it affords him, while under the Wilson system the weekly or monthly rentals are applied toward the payment of the purchasing price of the home he selects, which he enjoys and improves to suit himself, becoming its sole owner upon the payment of the last week's or month's rent.

For those who wish it a life insurance policy in the Mutual Life, of New York, is issued so that in case of the death of the subscriber before all of the payments have been made, the home reverts to the wife or heirs, absolutely free of any incumbrance whatever, besides which in case he lives a few years longer than the time necessary to acquire ownership through the payment of rent, a thousand dollars in cash in addition is paid. No cash capital is necessary to join the Trust.

Builders having houses for sale should acquaint themselves with the workings of the Trust. In fact it is suggested that builders furnish a list of the houses they have for sale in order that the subscribers to the certificates may make a selection from the number if they desire. With the proper support from our builders, the Trust could be made a valuable adjunct in finding customers for hundreds of our small new houses.

THE old established American Fire Insurance Co., Nos. 308 and 310 Walnut Street, this city, according to its usual custom has issued a handsome calendar, which will be found particularly useful, by its large and clear type, for office and other purposes. The design and workmanship display good taste as well as sound judgment, and the "bird of the broad and sweeping wing," so closely identified with the American Fire, occupies an honorable and conspicuous position.

N. & G. TAYLOR Co., roofing tin, 301 Branch street, have kindly remembered us by sending one of their handsome new calendars for 1892. It is gotten up with their usual good taste, and with an eye to use as well as beauty. Beside other attractive features, it is ornamented with the well-known "old style" trade mark of the firm.

MORSE, WILLIAMS & Co., of the Morse Elevator Works, have favored their many friends with a calendar for 1892 possessing merits of a high order, both in design and workmanship, the most noted feature being a fine steel plate engraving of the famous picture, "Naufrages et Sauveteurs."

THE firm of Lesley & Trinkle, dealers in cement, plaster, etc., has issued a handsome and artistic calendar for 1892. The engraving with which it is embellished is unusually attractive, representing the well-known picture of the "Horse Fair," by the celebrated painter, Rosa Bonheur.

WE are in receipt of a beautiful calendar from John D. Emack, roofing slate, 411 Walnut Street. The picture with which it is ornamented is particularly fine, being an artistically colored lithograph of the beautiful actress, Mary Anderson.

THE Doylestown Intelligencer, as an evidence of continued prosperity, celebrated the New Year by an increase in size. It is one of the institutions of Bucks Co., and has evidently come to stay.

ONE of the most artistic calendars of the year has been issued by William G. Fischer, Pianos, 1221 Chestnut street, and has to be seen to be appreciated.

Through Pennsylvania.

When any of the following are not post office towns they will be so designated.

—At Coatesville, Chester Co., $20,000 will be expended in street improvements.

—At Wilkesbarre, Luzerne Co., the Lehigh Valley Railroad Co. will erect a new station at River Street.

—At Reading, Berks Co., the directors of the Carpenter Steel Co. have decided to rebuild the works which were destroyed by fire a short time since. The insurance of $125,000 will about cover the expense of rebuilding.

Complete Real Estate and Building Statistics for the Year.

SIX THOUSAND SEVEN HUNDRED AND THIRTY-EIGHT

New Buildings of all kinds erected and in course of erection in the City of Philadelphia during the last Twelve Months, at an

ESTIMATED COST OF

$24,115,870,

Exclusive of the Cost of the Land.

A Falling Off Compared with 1890 of 3398 NEW BUILDINGS and a Decrease in the Amount Expended for Construction Work of $9,714,176.

2297 ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS Costing $3,445,500 for 1891—Against 1999 Costing $2,998,500 for 1890, an Increase in Expenditures for Alterations and Additions of $447,000.

Grand Total of Expenditures for Improvements During 1891 of $27,561,370.

A Falling off, including Alterations and Additions, of $9,267,176.

Under ordinary circumstances comparisons may prove annoying and vexatious; for it is a well-established peculiarity of human nature that when figures are presented, no matter how large or how much they express in push, enterprise and prosperity, if they indicate even a small decrease when compared with statements of some previous years, the greatest possible importance is given to the decrease, as being indicative of "hard times," "bad business" and "a deplorable condition of trade and money matters generally."

If any reasonable man will but temporarily dismiss from his mind the results of previous years and give his earnest consideration to the figures we now present as the results of 1891, and also weigh their true meaning and importance, as well as the magnificent work they represent, he must agree with us in saying that the results of the year 1891 are both gratifying and encouraging.

Of course, disaster has overtaken a few who were engaged in building, who under different circumstances might or might not have pulled through; but in forming conclusions it is the successful results attained by the many on which estimates are based, and the list of unfortunates must be many times greater than this year to even disturb the equanimity of the building interest.

It is quite evident that the rushing methods of a few years ago have been largely abandoned, and it is also evident that the year has been one of serious thought and consideration, and that fewer idiots and adventurers have secured the faith and backing of capitalists in building schemes that our practical and conservative builders would not entertain even under the most favorable conditions.

It must be gratifying to the interested reader to learn that the falling off last year in buildings erected for industrial purposes is not as great as might have been expected, the figures being 247 against 345 for 1890, the falling off amounting to 98, divided as follows: Warehouses, 4 short; dye and dry houses, 1; factories, 18; engine and boiler houses, 1; breweries and bottling houses, 4; foundries and shops, 53; stores, 17.

With the view of presenting a more general review of the buildings erected for our industrial interests we herewith give the classification for the last three years.

	1889.	1890.	1891.
Warehouses . . . . .	39	32	28
Dye and dry houses . . . . .	4	11	10
Factories . . . . .	77	83	65
Engine and boiler houses . . . . .	18	30	29
Business and bottling houses . . . . .	5	11	7
Foundries and shops . . . . .	75	117	64
Stores . . . . .	78	61	44
	296	345	247

Hence it will be seen that the number of industrial buildings last year were only 49 short of 1889, notwithstanding the fact that 10,250 new buildings were erected during that year; in other words, the percentage of industrial buildings erected during 1891 is greater than either 1890 or 1889, as shown by the following table:

	New Bldgs.	Indus. Bldgs.	Percent.
1889	10,250	296	2.8
1890	10,136	345	3.4
1891	6738	247	3.5

Our industrial growth is the keynote of the situation, and we are more specific in our reference to industrial buildings than heretofore, in order that the serious decrease may not be hidden, and may receive the consideration it merits; for it is out of the shops and foundries that we must look for occupants for our two-story houses.

It will be seen that the falling off in two story house building last year was enormous, the shortage being 2669 from 1890 and 2818 from 1889. Three-story houses fall short of the number erected in 1890 615 and 649 from the number constructed during 1889.

Office buildings over two stories show an increase of two over 1890, while the increase in investments amounts to $1,090,000. The Betz Building, at $1,000,000, and the Iron Hall Building, at $250,000, constitute the two largest operations of this nature, whereas during 1890 there were no large office buildings erected.

The following statement will prove of interest. It is the result of careful compilation, and we believe it to be rather below, than above, the actual cost of the new buildings of all kinds erected in this city since January 1, 1887:

No. New Buildings.	Estimated Cost.
1887.
6784	23,787,320
1888.
8262	27,790,816
1889.
10250	31,276,739
1890.
10136	33,830,046
1891.
6738	24,115,870
42,170	$140,800,791

According to our tables there were 14,204 transfers of real estate made during the year 1891, representing a value of $71,875,876.33. This is a falling off from 1890 of 1367 transfers and $11,003,288.89 of the money value. The mortgage incumbrance on last year's transfers amounts to $16,575,031.10, or about twenty-three per cent., a slight increase over previous years. The ground rent incumbrance amounts to $505,538.47, which, on a six per cent. basis, represents a further incumbrances of $8,425,641.16.

The sales of real estate at auction amount to $3,941,060.48, which carries a mortgage incumbrance of $173,797.28 and ground rents to the amount of $6,103.82. The sales at auction amounted to $215,799.28 more than 1890. The following resume of transfers for the last four years will be of interest:

	Transfers.	Amounts.
1888	12,679	$62,663,201.87
1889	15,945	80,225,270.88
1890	15,571	82,879,165.22
1891	14,204	71,875,876.33

It will be seen that in both the number and the value represented, the transfers for 1891 were largely in excess of 1888.

The following tables merit a careful perusal:

The following carefully prepared Table, with classification, shows the total number of New Buildings erected during the twelve months of 1891 with the estimated cost of the same, exclusive of the value of the land.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

A new Presbyterian church has been formed at Oak Lane and a board of trustees elected. Also two elders, T. V. Bosworth and H. S. Stout. It is the intention of the new congregation to at once take measures to build a suitable place of worship, a sufficient sum of money having already been subscribed and paid in for this purpose.

Samuel R. Riley, carpenter, 627 Filbert Street, has contracted to make quite extensive alterations and additions to the store of Finley Acker & Co., 123 North Eighth Street, and will at once begin the operation. This firm has found it necessary to include No. 121 in their new work, which will give them two stores five stories high. All modern conveniences will be introduced.

The Danver Safe and Vault Co., of Boston, Mass., are about to remove their plant to this city, and will locate their factory in the old building occupied by the late Wilson & Hubbard Bolt Co., Cherry Street, above Twenty-third. A number of alterations and additions will be made on the premises, including steam power and heat, new machinery, electric work, etc. Work will be started at once.

The new apartment house, at Broad and Spruce Streets, known as the "Cleveland," will inaugurate a new idea in the matter of building in this city. The mortar with which the structure will be plastered will be manufactured in Wilmington, Del., and sent to its destination ready for use by the Charles R. Warner Co. of that place, a contract having been made for over $3000 worth of the material, this being what is termed machine or factory made mortar.

The New Church, Swedenborgian, of Philadelphia, through B. F. Glenn & Son, 555 North Seventeenth St., have made purchase of a large tract of land in Moreland Township, Montgomery Co., Pa., for the purpose of erecting a large college or school, to be under the direct supervision of that denomination. The entire tract is 336 acres. This school will be specially adapted for the education of both sexes, and during the coming year the preliminary arrangements for the work will be entered into. The capital for the undertaking is largely in hand, and the enterprise will be pushed with vigor.

N. and G. Taylor Co., manufacturers and importers of tin plate, 306 Branch Street, has now determined to erect an immense factory upon ground just purchased through the company's agent from J. Pemberton Ellis. The location will be upon the north side of Tasker Street, between Meadow and Swanson, in close proximity to the Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroads. A front will be given on Tasker Street of 390 feet. Steps will be taken at once by the firm to have plans made and award contracts for the work of construction. The main building will be fitted with a capacity of 24 stacks, which will produce about 1200 boxes per day. Corresponding steam power will be introduced and all the most approved machinery for the purposes. The company says that the present plant has proved too small for the demand for brands of "American Tin," and that nothing will be left undone to now meet this pressing want.

An association of all the leading cement dealers of this city is about to be formed for the mutual protection of the trade. At present there is no settled method in vogue for testing the tensile strength of the cement. The form usually adhered to is to make what is technically known as a "brickette," which is a small quantity of cement formed like the figure eight, the centre being one inch square. The brickette is placed in a machine to which power is gradually applied until the cement is broken. The claim is made by the manufacturers that an expert can attain any result he wishes merely by the manipulation of cement when it is being prepared for testing purposes. The manufacturer makes a test and gets seventy-five pounds, while the consumer only gets thirty or forty pounds. This, of course, causes a disagreement. To avoid any discrimination resulting from such manipulation, the Cement Dealers Association will be formed, with a special department organized for testing all of the brands now on the market, which will form a basis for fixing both prices and quality.

THE WILSON HOME TRUST

PURCHASING HOMES FOR CASH AND SELLING THEM ON EASY PAYMENTS.

THIS PLAN IS PATENTED, COPYRIGHTED, AND ALL RIGHTS ARE RESERVED.

ITS OBJECT IS

To enable persons of small means but in regular employment to become OWNERS of a HOME of their own selection, on small payments amounting to little more than rent.

THE PLAN

We offer Instalment Certificates at a premium of $1.25, and a weekly payment of 75 cents per thousand, agreeing that at least one of such certificates in every Eleven shall mature each year, and all inside of seven years. Under certain conditions the number maturing could be largely increased. These certificates, as they mature, entitle you to a home of your own selection, which we will purchase for you, and we will furnish you with a ten-year Mortgage, at a cost to you of $2.25 (on every thousand dollars) per week in lieu of rent. At the end of which term you will own the property absolutely, without any incumbrance whatever.

Should you desire to pay about 50 cents more a week, we will effect an insurance, subject to a doctor's examination, with the Mutual Life and Insurance Co. of New York, whereby, in case of your death at any time after being placed in possession of your house, the property will revert to your wife, heirs or assigns absolutely free.

By doing this, should you live, the property will become your own, and a few years later one thousand dollars cash in addition.

ITS ADVANTAGES

1. No Cash Capital required to join.
2. Immediate possession on maturing of certificate.
3. Paying little more than rent and possessing your own home free of all incumbrance in ten years.
4. Privilege of life insurance feature at small additional cost, which in case of death at any time leaves the property absolutely unincumbered, or, should you live, you obtain the property at the end of the term, with one thousand dollars cash in addition.

EXAMPLE

A house costing $2,000 we would charge you $234 a year for, payable in small weekly instalments, giving you possession thereof as soon as your certificate matures, which might be within a few weeks, and in no event can be delayed beyond a term of seven years. This house would rent for $16.00 per month, or $192.00 per year, showing the small increase of only $42.00 per year, in return for the convenience which our easy system of payment affords.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

[From the Northwestern Architect.]

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

"As is compatible with this progressive period, even wall plaster has succumbed to inventive genius, and the day is nearly done when our handsomely decorated walls and ceilings shall be ruined by reason of the utter unreliability of the old style mortar. To meet this demand for a non-porous plaster, Adamant has appeared on the market, and is now being manufactured in nearly every State in the Union."

[From the Scientific American.]

"Some of the advantages Adamant possesses above the other plaster is the extreme hardness of the wall. It will neither crack nor crumble. It is a strong support to a building. It does not swell timbers by an absorption of the moisture, as the material itself absorbs most of it. It dries so quickly after it is applied to the wall, that in a few hours frost will have no effect on it. We are convinced that this Adamant is destined to revolutionize the business of house plastering."

[From the Baltimore Commercial.]

"Adamant makes a wall as hard as marble, at a slight cost."

[From the Leader and Herald.]

CLEVELAND, O., March 22, 1889.

"The problem has been to provide a substitute that would not only produce a perfect wall, but be comparatively cheap and easily applied as well. Repeated tests, under the most exacting conditions, clearly prove that such a happy combination has at last been secured in the plastering material called 'Adamant,' now being so extensively introduced in this city."

[From the Builder, Decorator and Wood-Worker.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

"Nothing in house building has so long withstood the 'march of improvement,' notwithstanding it has failed to give a substantial wall, while many houses become defaced and old in a few months on account of broken walls and ceilings. 'Adamant' obviates all this, and is the coming plaster."

[From the New York Commercial News.]

"There is not the least doubt about 'Adamant' wall plaster will last as long as the building upon which it is used."

The Philadelphia Record's Wonderful Souvenir Edition.

The souvenir number of the "Record," which appeared on January 1st last, was not only a remarkable production, but it was several stories above any single issue of any journal ever published in Philadelphia. Besides its wonderful showing of the city's manufacturing and mercantile resources, the paper was a perfect business encyclopedia, invaluable as a book of reference, and worth a generous binding for library as well as business purposes. The history of the "Record," written by Mr. W. C. Russel, Jr., an attache of the editorial staff, is certainly one of the best pieces of descriptive writing that has appeared in a Philadelphia journal for many a day.

The preparatory work involved in the production of the "Record's" generous souvenir edition was enormous, as each firm had to be interviewed personally, and many of them several times, to obtain the necessary data and consent, and in hundreds of instances consent was refused by those who now regret that their firms were not presented with their more enterprising competitors.

It would be a healthy and lasting advantage to the business interests of this city if the "Record" hereafter would issue just such a souvenir number every year.

On Monday evening, January 11th, the members of the "New Century Club," together with a large number of friends, thronged the new building at 124 S. Twelfth Street, the occasion being the formal opening of the new club house. It was the unanimous opinion of all present that the club has every reason to congratulate itself upon the architectural beauty of the building, the excellence of the workmanship, and the taste displayed in the interior decorations and furnishing. Great credit is due the architect, Minerva Parker, for designing a building handsome on the exterior, with an interior combining beauty and convenience. Besides a few offices, which will be rented, the club has a parlor, library, tea room, kitchen, directors' room and two bed rooms, together with the most beautiful and completely appointed and equipped "Drawing Room" in the city. It is the purpose of the club to rent the "Drawing Room," with adjoining apartments, for receptions, private theatricals, musicales, teas, luncheons, etc., and quite a revenue is expected from this source. With such inspiring surroundings the "New Century Club" will doubtless enlarge the scope of its usefulness and influence, and enter into new and important fields, relating to women and their work, which have been hitherto unoccupied, owing to the club's limited accommodations.

A handsome souvenir pamphlet, compiled by W. W. Morgan, Superintendent of the exhibition department of the Master Builders' Exchange, has just been issued to the public, giving a history in brief of the building and its adaptation and design in advancing the welfare and interest of all those who have favored the Exchange with their patronage, and detailing the various advantages afforded the general public. Admission is free to the display of the products of Philadelphia manufacturers of building material and completed articles, ornamental as well as useful, that enter into the comforts of every home in the land, and every visitor is made most welcome by those in charge. Information is given and answers made to any questions propounded. This department is open daily except Sunday and holidays from 8 A. M. to 5 P. M.

THE Board of Public Education has again shown its wisdom by the re-election of Isaac A. Sheppard as President of that body for the year 1892. Since Mr. Sheppard has occupied that chair many economical reforms have been inaugurated and new measures and rules adopted for the government of the school system of our city, and he has unselfishly devoted much of his time for the benefit of the rising generation. These duties could not have been laid upon abler shoulders nor where they would be more willingly borne. Mr. Sheppard is a pioneer in his day, and most happy when advancing a good cause or ameliorating the condition of mankind. The office has sought for such a man and in the incumbent has not been disappointed.

R. C. BALLINGER & Co., contractors and builders, Ballinger Building, 218 N. Thirteenth Street, Philadelphia, have issued a neat and useful calendar for 1892. It is ornamented with a cut of the magnificent Palace Hotel, at Goshen, Va., for which the firm were the contractors, from plans drawn by Yarnall & Goforth, of this city.

OUR thanks are due to the Lawrence Cement Co., 505 Chestnut Street, for one of the most beautiful calendars of the year, and one which combines both usefulness and beauty in a marked degree. The handsome picture with which this calendar is ornamented appeals particularly to all lovers of "our dumb friends," and deserves framing.

THE Hart Cycle Co., 811 Arch Street, has kindly sent us the Columbia Daily Calendar for 1892. The calendar is in the form of a pad, containing 367 leaves, each  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 2\frac{3}{4}$  inches; and each slip bears a short paragraph pertaining to cycling or some kindred subject, and at the bottom of each leaf is a blank for memoranda.

THE REAL ESTATE RECORD, of Philadelphia, entered upon its seventh year of publication with the issue of January 6. It is one of the most valuable trades' journals published and enjoys a constantly increasing clientage. — Daily Democrat, Doylestown, Pa., January 8, 1892.

WE are under obligations to Mr. Henry A. Bray, Manager of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co., 520 Walnut Street, for a most elaborate calendar, consisting of a beautifully designed and colored leaf for each month in the year.

WE are in receipt of a beautifully designed calendar for 1892, from Mr. Henry G. Shultz, builder and contractor, 2633 Germantown Avenue, Philadelphia.

THE City Trust, Safe Deposit & Surety Company, 927 Chestnut Street, has increased its surplus from $140,000 to 150,000.

Architect Notes.

E. W. Thorne, architect, has discontinued his profession in Philadelphia, at 1307 Arch Street, and contemplates opening an office at Baltimore or Washington, in the near future. His present address is 724 W. Baltimore Street, Baltimore, Md.

R. G. Kennedy, architect, Drexel Building, has prepared plans for the erection of a one story brick structure for the Pennsylvania Iron Works, at Merion Avenue and Fiftieth St. It will be of brick and fitted with machinery and all conveniences. Contract has been given to Messrs. Gardner & Warner, work to begin at once.

Moses & King, architects, 431 Walnut Street, have made plans for the necessary alterations and addition to the buildings at the northwest corner of Twenty-third and Cherry Streets, and estimates are being offered upon the work. When completed it will be occupied by the Damon Safe and Vault Iron Works, of Boston, Mass.

The drawings made by Hazelhurst and Huckle, architects, Drexel Building, for a parochial house for the Church of the Messiah, Huntingdon and Thompson Streets, and noted in this journal some time since, have been placed on boards for estimates. It will be remembered the basement will contain a gymnasium and heating apparatus. The first floor will contain library, lecture hall, consultation room and study. It will contain all modern improvements.

Walter H. Geissinger, architect, Twelfth and Chestnut Streets, has in course of preparation plans for a very large factory to be erected upon ground just purchased by Hoyle, Harrison & Kaye, manufacturers of upholsterers' materials. The location of the new plant will be bounded by Indiana, Front, Fillmore and Tusculum Streets, and in area will be 610 feet on Tusculum by 443 on Fillmore Street, thus giving room for fine fronts upon either side. The above named firm are at present located at Third Street and Lehigh Avenue.

Some time since a full description of the new stores of N. Snellenburg & Co., which are to be erected at 932-34 Market Street, was given in the columns of this journal. At that time the plans were incomplete, but are now in a condition soon to be placed upon the boards of contractors for estimates. The base is to be of Indiana limestone, with pressed brick above, and stone and terra cotta ornamentation. The interior work to be of slow-burning material and construction, two elevators, steam plant, electric plant, and all modern conveniences. Frank R. Watson, architect, 518 Walnut Street, prepared all drawings and will supervise the erection.

After a very close competition among a large number of architects from many cities, the first prize for designs for the Carnegie Library, Museum and Gallery of Arts to be erected at Pittsburg, Pa., has been awarded to the firm of Longfellow, Alden & Harlow, of Pittsburg and Boston. The six next best designs, for which there is a prize of $2000 each, were drawn by the following: Shipley, Rutan & Coolidge, Boston, Mass.; W. S. Fraser, Frank I. Cooper and James T. Steen, of Pittsburg; Kreis & Richards, of New York City; and George R. Mann, of St. Louis. The estimated cost of the building is $1,000,000. It will probably be built of granite and will be magnificently finished and furnished for its intended use.

Levi H. Focht, architect, 536 Penn Street, Reading, Pa. has made plans for a hotel to be erected on Neversink Mountain overlooking the entire Schuylkill Valley, by a syndicate composed of Reading capitalists, the above plans being considered as preliminary, but likely to be adopted for final action. The drawings contemplate a hotel 800 feet above the city to be four stories high 336 feet long by 40 wide, surrounded by piazzas 12 feet in width. Walks, roads and special drives will be engineered and built, and the structure will be fitted with every convenience, elevators, electric work, best of sanitary plumbing, fine water supply from mountain springs and wells making it one of the finest sanitariums and hotels in the State.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Stewart & Bros., contractors, have the contract to erect an ice house, office and stables for the Consolidated Ice Manufacturing Co., at 2345 Bodine Street, and will at once begin the work.

Lewis Havens, contractor, Girard Building, has been given the contract by Powers & Weightman to erect a corroding house for their use on Thirtieth below Chestnut Street, and will at once begin the work.

The Board of Building Inspectors having condemned the old Lovering Sugar Refinery on La Grange near Second Street, owned by Joseph Wharton, it will be immediately strengthened and part of the structure renewed at the owners expense.

The German Branch of the Young Men's Christian Association is about to begin the erection of a one story gymnasium in the rear of the present building, Twelfth Street and Girard Avenue. It will be one story high, of brick, 15x34 feet, and furnished with all the paraphernalia for such an institution.

Jacob Wenzelberger, contractor, 1220 Filbert Street, has been awarded the contract to erect the factory for Lazarus Schwartz & Lipper, on Garden Street above Noble, and will begin work at once. The plans were prepared by Henry D. Dagit, architect, 122 South Second Street, who will supervise the construction.

The Traction Railway Co., of this city, are making preparations to introduce the "Trolley System" of propelling power upon a number of their branch streets which will necessitate the erection of a number of electric stations in various localities along the line. In each case these will be furnished with individual electric machinery.

Frank Williamson, John G. Williamson and William Henderson, forming the Avondale Lime and Stone Company, have secured sixty-five acres of land at Avondale, Chester Co., Pa., and will construct a plant for the purpose of producing lime and stone in large quantities. They intend to introduce an overhead electric light plant for night work and steam appliances as well.

Major Raymond, Government Engineer, in charge of public improvements in and around Philadelphia, has sent to the War Department plans for a new breakwater to be established in the Delaware Bay. These drawings will be subject to approval of the department referred to above, and the action of Congress making an appropriation. It is estimated that $4,000,000 will be required.

The Board of Trustees of the Geo. W. South Memorial Church of the Advocate, Eighteenth and Diamond Streets, have resolved to begin the construction of the superstructure as soon as the weather will permit. The foundation has been finished over one year ago. Charles M. Burns, Jr., architect, 717 Walnut Street, drew the plans and will continue his supervision of the work of construction until completed.

The subscriptions to the stock of the proposed Bourse are steadily flowing in, and now reaches the amount of $475,000. At a meeting of the directors, on 13th inst., the proposition will be made to raise the capital stock from $600,000 to $1,000,000; and on the 16th inst. it is proposed to hold a public meeting in the Academy of Music for the furtherance of the project, for which tickets can be had of the directors, hotels and business places in general.

R. Humphries, contractor, 2333 Howard Street, will at once begin the erection of a number of buildings at the southwest corner of Mascher Street and Montgomery Avenue, to be used as a dyers and scourers establishment by A. Eichler & Co., whose present plant is located on Vienna below Cedar Street. There will be four buildings in all, one one story, two two stories each, and one four stories high, all fitted with steam power and heat, as well as appliances for the purposes named above.

According to plans and surveys made by the engineers of the Reading Railroad, the projected branch road to Frankford will become a reality in a few months at most. These locate a new station of considerable proportion at Main and Unity Streets. From this point the road will be elevated and cross a number of other streets, striking the grade at Large's Woods. The route of the road then will be through the farm lands adjoining, through which right of way has been granted in a large number of cases. It will require about $400,000 to build the branch, and this will likely be started at an early day.

—At Wilkesbarre, Luzerne Co., there is quite an agitation concerning the site for the proposed new municipal buildings, some wishing to use valuable property belonging to the city for the purpose, and others desiring to sell the city's property, buy less expensive ground, and use the surplus thus obtained toward the new building.

Treat, the properties ranging in price from fifteen to twenty thousand dollars. We look for more than usual activity during the coming year; and, speaking for Wayne, the market is good.

—At Norristown, Montgomery Co., Henry E. Elston, hardware dealer, 149 W. Main Street, has purchased the property No. 60 E. Main Street, and will begin at once to make a number of improvements, among which will be a new galvanized iron front and another building, 100 feet long, in the rear of which will be erected a barn and wagon house. Extensive interior alterations will also be made.—J. Cloud Smith will make extensive alterations to Nos. 86 and 88 E. Main Street, converting them into three stores, with handsome French plate glass bulk windows.

A Few Quiet Words with House Builders and Owners.

If the kitchen of your house is small, you need to economize room. You can do this by using a range with elevated boiler, such as the

"FIDELITY."

It will reduce the cost of plumbing also. We make them with seven inch or eight inch boiler holes, ovens on right or left of fire, with or without hot closets, and also to heat an upper room. Splendid bakers. Hot water in abundance. The latest and best of their class.

FIDELITY HOT AIR RANGE WITH HORIZONTAL BOILER.

Excelsior Double Oven Range.

If the kitchen is roomy and large, cooking capacity is sought. You will want a brick-set range with a vertical circulating boiler, set in the usual way. The

are acknowledged all over Philadelphia, in which city and vicinity some 75,000 have been sold as the standard brick-set range. They are furnished with ventilated ovens, oven-door pedals, rocking grates, and all modern improvements. Made in seven and eight inch sizes; single, double and hot-air ranges. Send for descriptive pamphlet, entitled "PERFECT COOKING."

MANUFACTURED BY

ISAAC A. SHEPPARD & CO.,

N. E. COR. FOURTH STREET AND MONTGOMERY AVENUE, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

And for Sale by all Responsible Dealers.

Whether large or small, your house will require a heating apparatus of some kind. It will pay you to put in a really good hot air furnace. The has no superior. Perfectly self-cleaning, with fewest joints, free from dust and gas, largest radiating surface, heavy steel plate, drum casings, easy on fuel, and of superior durability, it will always give satisfaction. A descriptive circular will be mailed upon application.

PARAGON FURNACE WITH EQUALIZED DRAFT.

DO YOU IN buying building material
buy of second hands or middlemen when you can deal direct with manufacturers?

We put the same interrogation to you about Your clothing and the clothing for your boys.

We are manufacturers and wholesalers of Clothing exclusively. Making and Selling Clothing for Men and Boys is our business. Why not buy out of first hands?

OUR JANUARY "MARK-DOWN"

WE HAVE CONCLUDED STOCK-TAKING, and find a much heavier amount of goods on hand than we care to carry over. To sell and reduce this large amount of goods we have marked the prices of everything away down, so low as to bring FINE CUSTOM-MADE CLOTHING within the reach of everybody. For example: SUITS that we been selling at $35 and $40 down to $25; SUITS that have been selling at $25 and $30 down to $20; and all the way through in the same proportion.

OVERCOATS that were sold at $35 and $40 down to $25.

TROUSERS at all prices, and on an average 25 per cent. below our usual low prices.

This is your opportunity to buy fine, elegantly-made Clothing to order, with the guarantee of a perfect fit, as cheap as you can buy ready-made Clothing.

Call and examine, and see some of the styles and prices displayed in our windows.

Architect Notes.

George Smith, architect, Harrisburg, Pa., has prepared plans for the First Lutheran Church of Altoona, Pa., to cost about $40,000. Also, plans for the United Presbyterian Congregation of the same place, who will erect a handsome new church building.

Wilson Bros., architects and engineers, Drexel Building, have prepared plans for an additional building to the Reading Terminal to be erected at the Southwest corner of Twelfth and Filbert Streets. As these are not yet complete a description cannot be given at this time.

F. L. & W. L. Price, architects, 731 Walnut Street, have made plans for the alteration of certain floors in the house of Mr. Monroe Smith, 3717 Chestnut Street; also for new bathrooms and out-fits as well as different hardwood decoration for the bedrooms and library, some of which are to be in mahogany, other in quartered oak. The drawings are being estimated on by contractors.

F. William Rumpf, architect, Odd Fellows Hall, 147 Ellison Street, Patterson, N. J., has been selected by the freeholders of Passaic County, N. J. to prepare plans for the new Court House. Ground covering a full block has just been purchased from the Colts Hill Land Co. for $76,000. The structure to be erected will cost about $200,000 to $250,000. The drawings will be ready by about March 1, 1892, when estimates will be invited.

Horace Traumbaur, architect, 310 Chestnut Street, has made plans for a fine residence to be built for Miss Mira Force, at Beechwood Heights, N. J. to cost about $10,000. Also plans are being prepared by him for a house for William Johnson, at Hillside, Montgomery Co., Pa. Also plans for a fine $10,000 building to be erected at Wayne, Delaware Co., Pa., for F. A. Treat, and drawings for a residence for Harry Middleton to be built at Moorestown, N. J.

Thomas P. Lonsdale architect, Manhattan Life Building, has been selected as the supervising architect to erect the Pennsylvania Building at Chicago, Ill., after the plans prepared by him and accepted by the State Board of Commissioners. It is now proposed to be in shape to begin the work of construction by March 1, 1892, and it is likely the blue prints will be placed on boards for estimate at an early day. Mr. Lonsdale has been paid the first prize money of $1000 for the accepted plans.

Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building, Fourth and Walnut Streets, having completed all the detail drawings for the new building of the Gambrinus Sangerkrantz, they are now being estimated upon. These contemplate a handsome structure of four stories, the first of which will be of Michigan redstone, the remainder of buff brick ornamented with red brick. Considerable galvanized and cast iron will be used upon the front decoration, while the interior will be fitted with every convenience inclusive of electric work, best of sanitary plumbing, speaking tubes dumb-waiters and all modern improvements.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Henry R. Shoch, builder, has just bought a piece of ground for $24,000, on York Street west of Nineteenth, for building purposes in the spring season.

City Council's Committee on Police and Prisons has prepared an ordinance for the purchase of a lot of ground on the south side of Berks, between Frederick and Warnock Streets, upon which to erect a new patrol station.

The Dutch Evangelical Church has purchased a lot of ground on the east side of Eighth above Cambria Street, for $8000, and intends to erect thereon a chapel at an early day. The ground was bought of John Mitchell.

Marsch Bros., 2505 N. Broad Street, will at once begin the erection of a stable for livery and sale purposes. It will be 26 x 60 feet, two stories high, built of stone and brick, with all modern conveniences and sanitary work.

The American Wood Pulp Co, at Manayunk, has closed its works for two months, during which time a number of improvements will be made on interior as well as exterior. It is quite large and employs about 125 persons.

The Philadelphia and Reading Railroad will at once begin the construction of an immense train shed at Wayne Junction. It will be located south of the present one and be 30 x 600 feet in area. It will be mainly built of iron.

M. Shoemaker, the lessee of the Frankford Opera House, intends to make alterations to that structure to the extent of about $1500. A new entrance on Unity Street and change of the rear wall will be the principal features of the work.

Subscriptions amounting to over $13,000 were received on Sunday, January 10th, at the Mantua Presbyterian Church of which Rev. W. H. McCaughey is the pastor. The money secured is to be used toward the erection of the main audience room.

A. H. Williams & Sons, contractors, 402 Tenor Place, have been awarded the contract to construct the roof garden upon the Manufacturers Club building, Walnut Street above Broad. It will be principally of iron and glass, with best of interior accommodations.

Estimates for the work of construction of the new recitation hall of the Normal School, at Westchester, Pa., are being received by T. Roney Williamson, architect, who drew the plans and which have been noted in full by this journal. These are to be acted upon January 22.

City Councils in the last year's appropriation set aside $10,000 for a new station house to be erected at Chestnut Hill. No action having been taken looking to its erection, Col. Samuel Goodman has offered to pay rent for such a house as may best suit the purpose until such time as a new station may be erected.

T. and J. Gallagher, owners and builders, 1905-7 Dickinson Street, will at once begin their spring operations by erecting thirty-eight two-story houses on both sides of Latona Street, west of Twenty-seventh. These are to be of press brick with stone facings and steps, interiors to be fitted with all modern conveniences.

New estimates are being made for the completion of the Naval Observatory, now being erected at Georgetown, D. C., the contractor having defaulted who was originally awarded the contract for the construction. The architect of the structure, Richard M. Hunt, 143 Nassau Street, New York, drew the plans and is in charge of erection.

The Bourse subscription list has received quite an increase to the fund from the architectural and building fraternities of this city, among whom may be mentioned: Addison Hutton, T. P. Chandler, Hazellhurst & Huckle, G. W. Kugler & Sons, Watson Malone & Sons, Geo. W. Roydhouse, John Baizley, Cope & Stewardson and R. G. Ledig.

At the last meeting of the Board of Managers of the Philadelphia Sanitarium Association, the President, Daniel Baugh, submitted architect's plans for a pavilion which the association will erect at Red Bank. N. J. George D. McCreary is Vice President, Dr. Eugene Wiley, Secretary and Edward H. Rowley, Treasurer. Messrs. Thackara, Smith and Col. Banes were appointed a committee to procure bids for the erection of the pavilion.

From an interview with Mr. E. F. Davis, real estate manager for William Weightman, Esq., we learn that the report which appeared in the daily papers of the 16th inst. as to the intention of Mr. Weightman to erect an immense hotel upon the Dundas Lippincott property at the northeast corner of Broad and Walnut Streets is absolutely and unqualifiedly without foundation, no negotiations of that character having taken place at any time.

Archbishop P. J. Ryan has purchased the property of T. S. Weigand, druggist, on south side of Market, east of Thirty-eighth Street, lot 30 x 114-6 feet, for the purpose of building in the near future a parochial house to be attached to the R. C. Church of St. James the Greater, at Thirty-eighth and Chestnut Streets, Rev. P. J. Garvey in charge. No plans have been prepared for the building, but it is intended to erect a house sufficiently large to accommodate the societies of the parish and the needs of the church as well. The matter of building will not be taken up until enough funds are on hand to insure success.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communication for publication may be left.

THE meeting held at the Academy of Music on Saturday evening in the interest of the Philadelphia Bourse was significant of the strong hold the idea has already taken upon the minds of our prominent business men. The drift of the sentiment expressed by the speakers was to the effect that a decided change in our business methods is needed, as too much tribute had already been paid to New York and other cities for the selling of goods that we are well enough able to sell for ourselves, and all that is needed is first to fairly comprehend our own wonderful resources and then to courageously meet the difficulties and overcome them. The Bourse itself is already an assured success, as sufficient money has been subscribed to make the task of obtaining the balance an easy matter. A very large number of architects, builders and contractors, lumber dealers and material building men generally have subscribed for blocks of the stock, as well as a few of the leading real estate brokers and conveyancers. Mr. S. Lewis Jones is the business manager of the Bourse, and in order that those desiring to subscribe for the stock may be inconvenienced as little as possible, a postal requesting him to call will meet with an immediate response.

WE have the strongest assurance that the Dundas Lippincott property, at the northeast corner of Broad and Walnut Streets, has not been sold to Mr. Weightman. The property will not be sold during the lifetime of Mrs. Lippincott.

The Proposed Ship Canal Between Philadelphia and Raritan Bay.

At a meeting held in the rooms of the Board of Trade and Transportation, New York, January 13th, Mr. Thomas Martindale said that he hoped the present meeting would be the opening wedge of a movement that would not only result in the building of a ship canal or water-way connecting the waters of the lower New York Bay with the Delaware River, but that the completion of the canal would be the first link of a comprehensive interior water-way, reaching from New York Bay to Florida, and from the sea-coast line of Florida over to the gulf coast, thus connecting the Gulf of Mexico with New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk, Savannah and Jacksonville, making the commerce of the Mississippi interchangeable with that of the Atlantic seaboard, and vice-versa. It is very hard to overestimate the importance of such a project, or the benefits to the nation at large, from a military as well as an economic point of view. The opening up of land at present totally unproductive and comparatively valueless along the whole of this immense stretch of navigable water-way would quickly stimulate the growth of factory, village, town, and city development, making practically the "desert to blossom as the rose," with the pulsating throb of the steam engine and the tread of thousands upon thousands of busy artisans who would find their living and their dwelling places along its pathway. From a military standpoint, the advantages of such a water-way are equally important. Complete this canal or system of canals, and the internal commerce of our wonderful and magnificent country could be carried on safely, expeditiously, and cheaply, in time of war as well as in time of peace. All the combined naval power of the greatest countries of the globe could make no impression upon our interior seaboard cities from New York down to Florida, as the mouths of our harbors could be effectually sealed up by planting torpedoes, outside of which the most powerful ironclads would be harmless and impotent for evil; at the same time our ships, laden with the products of North and South, East and West, would pass to and fro in safety and security. We desire, therefore, to consider the ship canal between New York Bay and Philadelphia as the first link in this chain. But what of the first link?

1st. We believe it to be thoroughly practicable.

2d. We believe it will result in a great saving in freights both to Philadelphia and New York, but particularly to New York.

3d. That we believe it is almost a necessity at the present time and will become more so in the future.

We believe that through the completion of this canal that your supply of anthracite coal (of which you used in New York and Brooklyn last year over 6,000,000 tons) will be delivered to your wharves at a saving of nearly $3,000,000 per annum, making a goodly return on an investment of over four times the amount required for the completion of the project. We in Philadelphia will be enabled to get our merchandise purchased in or shipped through your city at about one half the present rates. The country through which the canal will pass will be largely benefited and improved, and, in short, it is a project which seems to have everything to encourage, foster and promote it excepting the expected jealousies of existing lines of communication.

As an outcome of the meeting Erastus Wiman, Francis B. Thurber and Orlando B. Potter have been appointed a committee to urge upon Congress the introduction of a clause into the Harbor and River Improvement bill, appropriating $25,000 for necessary surveys, etc.

A Congress of Real Estate Men to be Held at Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 17.

The following letter from the Hon. John P. Buchanan, Governor of Tennessee, to the editor of this journal is sufficient endorsement of the proposed scheme for a National Real Estate Congress to be held at Nashville:—

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
STATE OF TENNESSEE.

NASHVILLE, TENN., January 9, 1892.

The National Real Estate Congress will convene in annual session at Nashville, Tennessee, on the 17th day of February, 1892. The objects of this meeting, in part, are: To suggest a uniform mode of real estate transfers for all the States; to formulate a plan for enabling the industrial classes to secure homes for themselves; the gathering and discussion of the statistics relating to real estate in the United States; the real estate wealth of the United States, including its mineral and timber wealth, and how this wealth can be best utilized and developed for the good of the whole country, farm lands and their betterment. Tennessee will welcome to this congress the real estate agents, dealers and land owners of the United States.

JOHN P. BUCHANAN,
Governor.

It is to be hoped that the active real estate firms of this city will meet at an early day for the purpose of selecting a large delegation to represent Philadelphia at the proposed congress, the purpose of which is to establish a uniform system of transacting real estate business throughout the United States. It is justly argued by the promoters of the scheme that the business men of almost every other trade, profession or business have their national organizations, which have uniformly been of great business advantage to those most interested, and why should not the real estate men of the country organize?

When one remembers that the foundation of all wealth is based upon real estate, and for a moment contemplates the vast interests in the hands of men in this line of business, the necessity for the betterment of methods and more extended acquaintance, one with another, are at once apparent. These results can only be obtained through such meetings as that to be held at Nashville.

Those having charge of this enterprise are men of influence in their vicinity, and their efforts have been ably seconded by the Governor of the great State of Tennessee, whose proclamation welcoming every one to the meeting may be found on another page of this issue. Men of prominence from various sections of the country will take part in the discussion of such papers as may be offered to the meeting. Reduced railroad rates are being arranged for from all the principal cities, and arrangements are being perfected for the entertainment of those in attendance.

The time of the meeting has been well selected. February is a most disagreeable month, for the most part, in the Northern States, and the opportunity to take a trip South at that time should be taken advantage of by real estate men. Business is usually dull just at that time, so nothing will be lost by an absence of a few days. Let us all go to Nashville. Let that meeting be the initiatory to great good to be accomplished by it and others to follow.

Mr. M. M. Kline, Nashville, Tenn., the Secretary of the local committee, will send information to any one desiring it.

David S. Creswell's New Eagle Iron Foundry.

At the junction of the Pennsylvania and Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, at Nicetown, Mr. D. S. Creswell has erected large buildings to be used for the mechanical work of the old and popular Eagle Iron Foundry, of which he is the proprietor, and which was established by his father, the Rev. Samuel J. Creswell, in Cohocksink, in 1838. The business was subsequently carried on at Sixth and Christian Streets; on Seventh below Arch Street, and lately at 812, 814 and 816 Race Street. The Race Street buildings having been destroyed by fire, and the rapidly increasing business requiring more room and better facilities, Mr. Creswell wisely decided to build elsewhere, and the occasion which brought together several hundred business and personal friends of the proprietor, on Thursday last, was the formal opening of the new works, with all the attending ceremonies necessary for such an occasion. The rehabilitation of the old Eagle Works, on its new site, is complete in every respect, and in future there will be no trouble in filling orders expeditiously, however large. The office remains at 812 Race Street, and is connected with the works by telephone.

Rare Oil Paintings For Sale.

The sale of fine paintings now in progress at the galleries of Messrs. Davis & Harvey, at 1212 Chestnut Street, this city, is one calculated to attract the attention of all lovers of art and those who desire to secure choice works of well-known artists. The collection comes from the galleries of Mr. Charles Rode, of New York, whose name is a sufficient guarantee of the excellence of the nearly two hundred paintings now on exhibition and awaiting purchasers. Among the artists represented in the collection are such well-known names as Daubigny, Corot, Eugene Verboeckhoven, Dupre, Leon Caille, Mosler, Ricci and Diaz. It is to be hoped that many Philadelphians will avail themselves of this rare opportunity to adorn their homes with valuable works of art. The galleries are open all day that visitors may view these paintings, and the sale will continue on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, January 20th and 21st.

THE American Fire Insurance Company has issued its eighty-second annual statement, which shows a state of financial stability to be expected from the wise and conservative management of its affairs. The surplus over all possible claims amounts to $307,152.28, and the assets are thoroughly reliable, valuable and profitable investment securities. The officers of the company are: Thos. H. Montgomery, President; Charles P. Perot, Vice President; Richard Maris, Secretary and Treasurer; Actuary, James B. Young. Directors: Thomas H. Montgomery, Alexander Biddle, Samuel Welsh, Israel Morris, Charles P. Perot, Charles S. Whelen, P. S. Hutchinson, Joseph E. Gillingham and Edward F. Beale, Jr.

THE black color of our drinking water clearly demonstrates one of two things: The intercepting sewer is either a miserable failure or some of our city officials are shirking their duty, for nothing under the sun but dye stuffs from the mills along the banks of the Schuylkill could give our water its present color and taste. A mud mixture is bad enough, but the stuff we are compelled to drink at the present time expresses the worst possible condition of affairs in our water department. Respectfully referred to His Honor the Mayor or the Director of Public Safety, for the health of the people is certainly involved

THE EQUITABLE TRUST COMPANY, No. 624 Chestnut Street, has issued its second annual statement, which shows a flattering degree of success for the year just closed, as well as for the preceding year. The net profits from January 8, 1890, to December 31, 1890, were $25,515.70, and from January 8, 1891, to December 31, 1891, $42,943.29, making in the two years $68,458.99.

THE Philadelphia Volksblatt has favored us with a calendar for 1892 which combines beauty with an unusual amount of useful information, including a street directory, the tax rate from 1869 to 1891 inclusive, the cost of the different city departments from 1880 to 1890 inclusive, and various other items of interest.

WE are in receipt of a handsome calendar for 1892 issued by F. A. Culin & Sons, electrical contractors, 55 South Fourth Street, Philadelphia. It is artistically designed and of superior excellence and workmanship.

THE New Jersey Trust and Safe Deposit Co., Market and Third Streets, Camden, N. J., has issued a neat and useful calendar for 1892. It is ornamented with a finely executed cut of the company's new building.

MR. GEORGE W. STEWART, of 2536 North Sixth Street, has requested us to state that he is not the George W. Stewart against whom a judgment was entered on January 9, 1892.

WE are under obligations to Macan & Co., Beach Street, for a very handsome desk calendar for 1892.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The delegates to the National Master Builders Convention, which will assemble at Cleveland, O., on January 19th, are as follows: George Watson, Franklin M. Harris, William B. Irvine, Murrell Dobbins, John S. Stevens and William Harkness. Alternates—Charles Gillingham, William Carlisle, Charles G. Wetter, William H. Albertson, Samuel Hart and David A. Woelpper. These gentlemen and about fifty other members of the Exchange will start for Cleveland on January 16.

The Lafayette Cemetery Co., Federal Street, between Ninth and Tenth, at an early date intend, to improve the cemetery by paving, painting the fence, underdrainage and in other ways placing it in first class condition. The entire Wharton Street front will be repaved with probably slab stone. The Board of Directors are James Walker, John D. Vautier, James B. Cowden, Edward Stumm, Joseph G. Ward, J. C. Cartledge, Wm. F. Smith, Daniel Mahorn, James Preston and John Christian.

Edward Henry Collin, of London, has just spent some time in Philadelphia looking about for a good suburban site upon which to erect a prospective gingham manufactory. As a result of this investigation, while no location was selected, yet sufficient grounds exist to justify the statement that the firm which Mr. Collin represents, will within a year select one within the limits of the city and direct the plans to be prepared by their architect, John F. Windrim, 132 S. Third Street.

George E. Goldbeck, real estate agent, 4217 Lancaster Avenue, and Charles F. Hall, 3944 Lancaster Avenue, have plans in hand for the erection of a theatrical building in West Philadelphia, the structure to be located at the junction of Lancaster and Haverford Avenues and Fortieth Street. The lot is 54 x 87 feet, and it is proposed to have a number of stores upon the first floor, while the remainder will be devoted to the theatre. The matter of construction is now under consideration.

A new ice manufacturing company has just been formed in Manayunk, with a capital of $200,000 and the charter applied for. It is composed of the following gentlemen: Peter P. Leibert, President; A. C. Brown, W. H. Bouvard, Charles J. Weinman, Isaac Wilde, Geo. C. Thompson and Fred. G. H. Woerner. The old ice houses belonging to H. R. Leiper and those of Leibert & Obert, at Glen Willow, will be fitted up for storage, and a new ice factory erected with the necessary machinery, etc.

The Pennsylvania Railroad is negotiating for the purchase of what is known as the Central Market, at Seventeenth and Market Streets, in order to make the proper line of extension to the tracks rendered necessary by the erection of the new wing of the main depot at Broad and Market Streets, which is to be commenced at an early day, plans for which are all complete and have been fully noted in a previous issue of this journal. It is understood that if a mutual agreement cannot be reached the company will give bond of indemnification and proceed with the work of extension.

The following letter will explain itself to real estate agents and owners interested in the annual meeting of the Congress: Executive Office, Nashville, Tenn., January 9, 1892. The National Real Estate Congress will convene in Nashville, Tenn., on the 17th day of February, 1892. The objects of this meeting, in part, are to suggest a uniform mode of real-estate transfers for all the States, to formulate a plan for enabling the industrial classes to secure homes for themselves, the gathering and discussion of statistics relating to real estate in the United States, including its mineral and timber wealth, and how this wealth can best be utilized and developed for the good of the whole country. Tennessee will welcome to this congress the real estate agents, dealers and land owners of the United States. John P. Buchanan, Governor. The secretary of the association is H. M. Kline, of Nashville.

Common Council, on the 14th inst., passed the following ordinances which will soon become laws. They have been noted in a previous number of this journal. An ordinance abolishing the grade crossings at Fourth and Ontario streets, Glenwood and Sedgley avenues, North Penn Junction. The sum of $100,000 is to be paid by the Pennsylvania and Reading Railroads for their share of the expense in making the necessary revision of lines and grades, and $200,000 is to cover the entire expense to the city. The Mayor is instructed by the ordinance to enter security for any damages arising in carrying out the work. The Reading Terminal Company was given permission to construct tunnels under Arch and Filbert Streets for the purpose of carrying steam heat to the new station and material to cold storage rooms in the New Market house, and also for electric light conduits, pneumatic tubes, etc. The ordinance, introduced by President William M. Smith, to improve the wharfage and water front on the Schuylkill at the Almshouse, was passed, as were also ordinances creating McPherson Park, in the Thirty-Third ward, and Wharton Park in the Twenty-sixth.

THE WILSON HOME TRUST

PURCHASING HOMES FOR CASH AND SELLING THEM ON EASY PAYMENTS.

THIS PLAN IS PATENTED, COPYRIGHTED, AND ALL RIGHTS ARE RESERVED.

ITS OBJECT IS

To enable persons of small means but in regular employment to become OWNERS OF A HOME of their own selection, on small payments amounting to little more than rent.

THE PLAN

We offer Instalment Certificates at a premium of $1.25, and a weekly payment of 75 cents per thousand, agreeing that at least one of such certificates in every Eleven shall mature each year, and all inside of seven years. Under certain conditions the number maturing could be largely increased. These certificates, as they mature, entitle you to a home of your own selection, which we will purchase for you, and we will furnish you with a ten-year Mortgage, at a cost to you of $2.25 (on every thousand dollars) per week in lieu of rent. At the end of which term you will own the property absolutely, without any incumbrance whatever.

Should you desire to pay about 50 cents more a week, we will effect an insurance, subject to a doctor's examination, with the Mutual Life and Insurance Co. of New York, whereby, in case of your death at any time after being placed in possession of your house, the property will revert to your wife, heirs or assigns absolutely free.

By doing this, should you live, the property will become your own, and a few years later one thousand dollars cash in addition.

ITS ADVANTAGES

1. No Cash Capital required to join.
2. Immediate possession on maturing of certificate.
3. Paying little more than rent and possessing your own home free of all incumbrance in ten years.
4. Privilege of life insurance feature at small additional cost, which in case of death at any time leaves the property absolutely unincumbered, or, should you live, you obtain the property at the end of the term, with one thousand dollars cash in addition.

EXAMPLE

A house costing $2,000 we would charge you $234 a year for, payable in small weekly instalments, giving you possession thereof as soon as your certificate matures, which might be within a few weeks, and in no event can be delayed beyond a term of seven years. This house would rent for $16.00 per month, or $192.00 per year, showing the small increase of only $42.00 per year, in return for the convenience which our easy system of payment affords.

Architect Notes.

Harold Godwin, architect, 905 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, is engaged on plans for fifty-four two-story dwelling houses to be erected in Allegheny City, Pa. These are to be of buff brick, red brick and sandstone trimming and quite ornamental in design, with all modern conveniences on interiors.

W. Frisbey Smith, architect, northeast corner Broad and Arch Streets, has nearly completed plans for a handsome country house to be erected near Woodbury, N. J., the first story to be of stone, the remaining two to be of frame and shingle treatment, with slate roof. The interior will be in hard wood, with all modern improvements.

J. C. Worthington, architect, 1305 Arch Street, Philadelphia, is engaged on plans for three fine dwelling houses to be built on Forty-first Street, south of Girard avenue. They are to be of Indiana stone, with plate and stained glass windows, electric bells and all modern conveniences on interiors. These are part of the operation now in progress upon same block fronting on Girard and Elm Avenues and Forty-first Street.

Theophilus P. Chandler, Jr., architect, Brown Bros. Building Fourth and Chestnut Streets, has on boards plans for a fine residence to be erected for J. H. Little, at Wallingford, Delaware Co., Pa., to be three stories high, of stone, with slate roof, interior to be a model of comfort, being fitted with hard wood, steam heat, electric work, plate glass windows, as well all modern convenience. Estimates will be asked at an early day.

T. Frank Miller, architect, 1221 Arch Street, Philadelphia, has just completed all plans in detail for a new Presbyterian church to be erected at Ambler, Pa. The structure will be of Indiana limestone, one story high, slate roof, with tower at one corner. An annex in bay shape will be erected for use of Sabbath-school, also a detached room for trustee meetings, etc. Seating capacity will be about 300 in amphitheatre form. Estimates upon work will be invited at an early day.

M. Fielding, architect, 110 S. Fourth Street, has in course of preparation plans for a house for Dr. Thomas C. Potter, on Green Street, Germantown. To be stone, three stories high, shingle roof, and will contain offices and dwelling apartments, which will be fitted with all conveniences, including electric work, steam heat, etc. Also plans for a school and college to be built at Radford, Va., which will consist of two structures. The first will include college, lecture hall, reading and other rooms, with an immense hallway with dormitories opening into it. The second will be for recitation and assembly purposes. All to be of stone. Estimates will soon be asked.

George W. Plowman, architect, 1408 Chestnut Street, is engaged upon plans and details for the new theatre which will be erected by George E. Goldbeck, Charles F. Hall and others, at Fortieth Street and Lancaster Avenue, and which will be managed by Henry Pincus when completed. All matters concerning material and finish not having been decided upon, it is too early to describe fully the structure; but it is certain to be one of the finest houses of the kind in the country. It will be furnished with every comfort and convenience, best of electric appliances, steam heat and improved ventilating system. The walls will be mainly of red brick, with considerable ornamentation.

F. Miles Day, architect, Penn Mutual Building, 925 Chestnut Street, has prepared a handsome perspective or preliminary drawing of the new "Bourse Building," which is now an assured adjunct to our New Philadelphia. The drawing presents a very handsome structure of massive proportions, which will be nine stories in height and will be of material yet to be decided upon. The interior will be fitted with electric appliances from dynamos and engines, elevator service and the most improved ventilating and heating system. Besides a general mart for salesroom a large number of private offices and sample rooms will be fitted up throughout the entire structure, and, if completed as designed by Mr. Day, will be one of the finest structures of the kind in the world. No decisive action has yet been taken as to locality, plans or time for building.

Hazelhurst & Huckel, architects, Drexel Building, have prepared plans for a shelter and recreation building for the Sanitarium at Red Bank, Gloucester County, N. J., to be 75 x 110 feet, one story high, of frame and shingle work. Also, engaged on completion of plans for Central Methodist Episcopal Church, Frankford, and plans for enlargement of the Sabbath-School in rear of the church building. An extension of 35 feet will be made, to be of stone same as church, a description of which has been given in a previous number of this journal. Same architects have awarded the contract to build the house for H. J. Maris, at Chestnut Hill, to W. J. Gruhler, of Germantown. Same architects are making plans for a club house to be built at Asheville, N. C.—The plans for the Odd Fellows Temple, to be erected at Broad and Cherry Streets, have also been completed and will be placed for estimates at a very early day. The drawings, as before noted in this journal, show a fine six-story edifice of beautiful and massive design. The first two stories will be of stone, the remainder of buff brick with stone trimming. An auditorium or Grand Lodge room and a banqueting hall will be two of the main features of the interior, while handsome lodge and committee rooms and library, as well as lavatories and toilet rooms, will be distributed throughout the structure. All of these will be reached by elevator service. Electric work, heating and ventilating upon the most approved systems will be introduced.

A. Druiding, architect, Room 27, Metropolitan Block, corner La Salle and Randolph Streets, Chicago, Ill., has prepared plans for a dwelling for Rev. Barth, to be 29 x 70 feet, three stories, built of stone, gravel roof, have electric bells, bath-room outfits, gas fixtures, furnaces and plumbing. Cost, $15,000. The same architect has also plans for a church, to be erected in Toledo, O., to be 87 x 185 feet, built of stone, slate roof, have frescoes, electric light, gas fixtures, plated and stained glass, steam heat, pipe organ, pews, altars, bells, and have 13 granite columns, with marble caps. Rev. E. Hannin, rector. Cost, $125,000. Also, plans for a church, to be erected in La Grange, Ill., to be built of frame, shingle roof, have frescoes, steam heat, electric light, stained glass, organ, bells, pews, etc. Cost, $22,500. Rev. Jas. Hagan, pastor. Also, plans for a church at Sedalia, Mo., to be of brick, with stone foundation and trimmings, slate roof, galvanized iron cornices, altars, pews, organ, stained glass windows, gas fixtures, plumbing, washstands, bell, ventilators, plaster ornaments, etc. The cost is estimated at $39,000. Rev. B. Dickman, Sedalia, Mo., is the pastor. Also, plans for a church to be erected at Ellinwood, Kan. It will be of press and common brick, stone foundation and trimmings, altar, pews, bell, clock, gas fixtures, etc. Cost, $24,000. Rev. Epp, pastor. Also, plans for a church to be erected at Swan River, Minn. It will be of brick, with stone foundation and trimmings, handsome interior finishing of altar, pews, a communion rail, organ, and furnace heat. The estimated cost is $32,000.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The handsome residence of Captain C. R. Williams, at 262 S. Fifteenth Street, was damaged by fire to the extent of about $10,000, on January 19th.

Wm. F. Albrecht, builder, 2341 North Twentieth Street, has purchased the East Park Hotel opposite Laurel Hill, and will improve the site by erecting a number of fine dwellings fitted with modern conveniences.

C. J. N. Platt, contractor, 1018 Academy Street, has been awarded the contract to erect the Gerson stores, 40-42-44 N. Eighth Street, and noted fully in a previous issue of this journal. Harold Godwin, architect, 905 Walnut Street, will supervise the work.

The Atlantic Refining Co., at Point Breeze, is about to begin the erection of an immense filtering house, 68 x 353 feet, one story high, and which will cost about $80,000 to complete. The material for the structure will be brick, iron and stone, being entirely of a fire-proof character.

Cofrode & Saylor, iron work manufacturers, contemplate the erection of a new steel plant in Reading, Pa., with a capacity of about 400 tons output per day. Their contracts are very large for the Fair Buildings at Chicago, Ill. Hence the new buildings are a pressing necessity.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, JAN. 27, 1892.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communication for publication may be left.

AS FAR as we can learn there has been no effort made in real estate circles in the way of preliminary organization for the purpose of making arrangements to send a delegation of representative real estate men from Philadelphia to the National Real Estate Congress to be held at Nashville, Tenn., on February 17th next. The time designated for the convention is less than three weeks off. If anything is to be done toward organization, it is necessary to begin at once. To say that Philadelphia real estate interests are not of sufficient moment to merit a delegation of representative men is to beg the question and to admit our apathy and indifference to matters of national importance.

If the real estate interests of this city can be bettered by a national congress, or if a uniform system of transacting the business throughout the whole country is desirable, then it is absolutely necessary that a delegation of our active men should attend. There is no room to question either the ability or character of those who are the originators of the idea of the congress, for they have received the unqualified endorsement and support of the Governor of Tennessee. If Philadelphians would take the same interest in heralding the greatness of their own city that the average Westerner does the city in which he lives, it is certain that a better opinion would prevail among outsiders as to our own worth, and commercial and financial strength. If it were more generally known, and particularly if a representative delegation from Philadelphia would impress upon the minds of those attending the National Congress that, during the last five years, Philadelphia real estate transfers amounted to $297,643,-514.30, and that, during the same time, our builders erected 42,170 new buildings at a cost of $140,800,-791, we are sure that the members of the Philadelphia delegation would have no reason either to regret their presence or to be ashamed of the proportion of the entire real estate business of the United States they would represent.

THERE are several reasons for the popularity of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company, but the greatest is perhaps the distribution of its stock among Philadelphians. The close identity of the Reading with the business interests of the city, together with the familiarity of our citizens with its affairs, and the natural interest taken in its prosperity are potent reasons why every one has a kindly word and an earnest wish for its future success, besides which it has never antagonized public sentiment. It has asked for what it wanted in a fair and manly way and without making itself foolishly antagonistic to other roads for no other reason than because it was the other great railroad corporation in a big city. The Reading Terminal franchise was secured without the use of a single dollar for corrupting influences. This statement may seem singular in the face of public opinion as to the methods of railroad companies, but it is absolutely true, nevertheless. What the Reading most needs at the present time is the earnest support of our own citizens, not in empty sentiment and good wishes alone, but the more practical and tangible support of patronage in both freight and passenger traffic. A single car fare to New York and return contains more earnest support than all the good wishes in Christendom. The season for seashore travel will soon come around again, and so long as the service on the Reading is equal to the best, why shouldn't it have your patronage as against the other monstrosity that opposes every advanced idea if it cannot absorb and control the proposition? The people of Philadelphia can make the Pennsylvania Railroad Company pay a rich penalty for its opposition to the Belt Line if they want to exercise a little of the old Mosaic law. And why not?

A Grand Showing for the Penn Mutual.

The Forty-fourth Annual Report which has just been issued by the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co., 927 Chestnut Street, this city, is one showing a degree of prosperity only possible in an efficiently organized and well managed financial institution, and is calculated to inspire that needed confidence on the part of the people which leads them to reap the advantages offered by a company that can show such large assets invested in such a way as to eliminate all danger from risks. That the public fully appreciate the safe and business-like methods of this company, it is only necessary to state that the new business last year on 8944 new policies represented the enormous sum of $25,591,719, making the total now carried $103,753,521, on 39,723 policies. From this it is evident that the full strength of the company is not only maintained from year to year, but that its well-earned popularity is extending. By referring to the statement of the Penn Mutual it will be seen that the gross assets of the company now reach the enormous sum of $18,551,338.30, and the net ledger assets $17,646,-877.81—a gain of $1,714,549.09 over 1890.

When a life insurance company can pay promptly $2,312,042.97 to its policyholders, and at the same time add to its net assets nearly two millions of dollars, it is self-evident that its affairs are in the hands of competent men, and that it is a safe company to tie to, as its system is based on mutual principles that have stood the test for forty-four years.

Forcible Testimony.

Department of Fire, No 367 Jay Street. Office of the Fire Marshal. Brooklyn, December 21, 1891.—Thomas Barrington, Esq., Manager Adamant Manufacturing Co., New York City.

DEAR SIR:—The Adamant Wall Plaster which was used in my building, at Pleasant Lake, Sullivan Co., N. Y., three years ago, has demonstrated that it is superior to any plaster or preparation now in use. I have found it exceedingly tough, hard and strong, requiring almost superhuman efforts to break it from the wall, while its adhesive qualities are all that can be desired. No cracking or other disfigurements can be discovered from its use. But, better than all, is its fire-resisting qualities, which I have practically tested in various ways; and I am justified in saying, after twenty-five years experience in fire matters, that had Adamant been in use in that period the record of loss of life and buildings would not have been nearly so great. Yours very truly and sincerely, Benjamin Lewis, Fire Marshal.

The New York Life's Tontine Policies Maturing.

It is stated that the most important event in life insurance circles that has transpired during the last twenty years is the maturing of the tontine policies that were issued by the New York Life in 1872. The results representing the increment to the cash investments made by those who had confidence twenty years ago in the future greatness of the New York Life, means a cash increase over cost of from 58 to 71 per cent.; in other words a tontine policy for $5000, and costing $4853, since 1872, is now worth in cold cash, just $8,238.45, the insured having been thirty years of age when the policy was issued, and fifty years old at its maturity. The prospectus of the company can be found among the advertisements in this issue, and the many advantageous features set forth therein will certainly afford subject matter for serious thought and consideration for the architects, builders and material men all over the country.

Railroad Rates Reduced to the National Real Estate Congress.

F. M. Cruzen, secretary of the committee having in charge the affairs of the Real Estate Congress, to be held at Nashville, Tenn., on February 17 next, informs us that arrangements have been made for reduced railroad rates and hotel charges for those who desire to attend. The full car fare is to be paid to Nashville, where, upon the presentation of a certificate issued by the secretary of the congress, return tickets will be issued at one-third the regular fare. Any real estate dealer or agent is eligible as a member of the congress.

CRAIG D. RITCHIE, formerly President of the Real Estate Title Company, D. C., Dallam and Henry Hazelhurst have formed a copartnership under the firm name of Ritchie, Dallam & Hazelhurst, Manhattan Life Building, Fourth and Walnut Streets. The new firm will conduct a law, conveyancing, investment and real estate business.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Equitable Trust Co., held on January 20, the following officers were unanimously elected: William F. Harrity, President; Frank J. Johann, Secretary and Treasurer; and Thomas Robins, Trust and Title officer.

OUR thanks are due to Levering and Garrigues, iron-bronze work for building purposes, 218 South Fourth street, for a very handsome gold bronzed calendar with black lettering.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The new Presbyterian church congregation recently organized at Oak Lane, and noted in a previous number of this journal, has concluded to purchase a lot in the vicinity of Seventh Street and Sixty-sixth Avenue, for building purposes, and at once begin the consideration of the kind of structure, material, etc.

The management of the Odd Fellows Home and Orphanage have decided to erect an addition to the institution which will accommodate about forty or fifty more inmates. Work upon the structure will not be started until the spring, and will be done under the supervision of James Neal, on behalf of the Board of Management.

Horace F. Weeks, Esq., 51 N. Sixth Street, has just taken title to three lots of ground at Fortieth Street Station, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, two of which front on Pennsgrove Street, and will at an early day improve them by erecting three handsome houses, somewhat of a different style from those now erected upon the adjoining property.

Contractors are now estimating upon drawings for the construction of the Train Shed superstructure of the Reading Terminal, extending from the south side of Filbert to Cherry Street. This will include iron work, chiefly, considerable plumbing, flooring, and general construction work, masonry, etc. These plans were prepared by Wilson Bros., architects, Drexel Building.

E. Frank Livezey, building contractor, 625 Walnut Street, has been given the contract for fitting up the offices of Phillips & Cunningham 136 North Delaware Avenue. The same to be fitted up handsomely in hard wood. Also, the contract to remodel two dwellings at Ashbourn, Pa., for Joseph Burr. The same to be fitted up with sanitary plumbing and hot air heaters.

B. H. Cramp & Co., brass founders, will at once begin the erection of a factory on east side of Thompson, south of Adams Street, to be 60 x 150 feet, two stories high, of corrugated iron. This establishment will be for the manufacture of the famous Driggs-Schroeder guns lately patented. Work will be pushed with vigor, and will be under charge of Maurice F. Smith, when complete. Considerable heavy machinery will be placed in the new building.

The Rev. Russell H. Conwell has just taken title to the premises of Wm. Maier, on east side of Broad, north of Ontario Street, for hospital work in connection with the Temple Baptist Congregation, over which he presides. He is also the executive officer in charge of the hospital work of the church, which has been established for some time. Some minor additions and alterations may be made to the property at an early day. Price paid was $15,000.

The Spring Garden Presbyterian Church and the Columbia Avenue Church, of same denomination, have decided to consolidate, and will hereafter be identified under the name of the McDowell Memorial Church, and the new structure, now being erected at Twenty-first and Columbia Avenue, the foundation only of which is laid, will be completed by them jointly. The committee in charge has decided upon all the furniture, etc., for the interior, as well as the work of constructing the new building.

The Board of Managers of the Odd Fellows' Home, at Seventeenth and Tioga Streets, has decided to erect an addition to the Tioga Street front of the present property. The addition will be large enough to contain forty rooms, and the estimated cost is about $17,000. Elias Johnson is President of the Home. Horace B. Wimpenny, Vice-president, and James F. Neall, H. A. Miller, James Bingham, Thomas Graham, Thomas Sipps, T. J. Harrison, G. M. Roth, A. R. Lukins and C. W. Hancock, Managers.

Mr. Gottlieb Schmidt, of Cincinnati, O., was a visitor in Philadelphia during the last week and has been exceedingly busy in the endeavor to fix upon a location for the establishment of an immense brewery which will be erected by a syndicate of which he is the agent. From present indications it is likely a piece of ground in the vicinity of Thirty-third and Girard Avenue may be taken, and Otto C. Wolf, architect, 1345 Arch Street, be engaged to prepare the plans. Also that the new plant will greatly exceed anything of the kind in this country or in the amount of production.

The Operative Builders' Association has elected these officers for the ensuing year: President, William T. B. Roberts; Vice-Presidents, Thomas G. Hunter, William T. Lindemann, James L. Stevenson; William C. Merritt, C. C. Moore, J. C. Moore, L. A. White, C. Pemberton, Jr., William C. Carman, Thomas H. Parks, J. H. Virkler, O. A. Guenthoer, William G. Serrill, Jacob Dowler, William Conway, Edward Darby, George H. Backmire, T. T. Rockett, H. A. Heisler, Samuel P. Ferrers, James Hastings, Daniel Adams, H. T. Cornell, M. B. Andress.

A movement is now on foot in the Manufacturers' Club, Walnut, above Broad Street, to have the organization represented at the coming Columbian Exposition, at Chicago, Ill., by a special building of its own, and the members, products of manufacture exhibited within. The building itself it is proposed to erect from voluntary contributions from members of the club, which would include architecture, masonry, carpentry, electric work, hardware, tiling, roofing, plumbing, heating and ventilating, bricks, lumber, plastering, etc. The size of the structure will be in accordance with the amount of ground given the club, and the whole to be a first-class exhibition of Philadelphia products.

At last a feeling of confidence is expressed as to the location of the immense Bourse Building which is now projected, and about to be realized. Mr. George S. Bartol, Chairman of the Committee on Real Estate, on the 22d inst., inspected very thoroughly the site bounded by Market, Third, Bank Streets and Elbow Lane, and is quite convinced of the availability of and its probable selection when the matter is acted upon, as this spot is very desirable on account of its central position in the business markets of Philadelphia, and accessible to all railroad communications. The matter will be brought up at the next meeting of the committee, but will not be definitely settled before all the money has been secured for stock subscribed.

Council's Committee on Municipal Government met on the 20th inst. in the clerk's office and bills to place on the city plan two plots of ground in the First Ward, to be used as public parks, were favorably considered. One of these parks is to be called the John Dickinson Square, in honor of Governor Dickinson, and the other will be named Mifflin Square, after Governor Mifflin. Dickinson Square is bounded by Morris, Fourth and Tasker Streets and Moyamensing Avenue, and Mifflin Square is enclosed by Wolf, Fifth, Sixth and Ritner Streets. The two ordinances were referred back to Councils with a favorable recommendation. An ordinance enlarging Weccacoe Square, in the Third Ward, was brought up for consideration. The square is bounded by Catharine, Weccacoe, Queen and De Kalb Streets. Mr. Meehan stated that Mr. Monroe had worked very hard to have the square enlarged, and, as it could be done with very little expense to the city, he thought it would be advisable to refer it back to Councils with a favorable recommendation. This motion was then made and carried. Mr. Meehan presented a deed for six acres of ground near Chew Street and Cheltenham Avenue, Germantown, from the Haines estate to the city, to be used as a public park. The tract is valued at from $20,000 to $30,000. The deed was presented to Common Council on the 21st inst. for acceptance.

The Secretary of the Treasury has asked for the following appropriations to provide for the care and preservation of public buildings in Pennsylvania during the next fiscal year: Philadelphia Court House and Post Office, $30,070; Custom House, $6200; Appraisers' Stores, $5520; Erie Court House and Post Office, $2940; Harrisburg Court House and Post Office, $2250; Pittsburg Court House and Post Office, $16,580; Old Custom House, $8940; Reading Court House and Post Office, $2130; Williamsport Court House and Post Office, $3660; Scranton Post Office, $2019. The Secretary of War has sent to Congress the report of the Board of Engineers organized to report upon a proposed national harbor of refuge for deep draught vessels near the mouth of Delaware Bay. The Board says: "The necessity of a harbor of refuge in this vicinity was early recognized, and it was provided for by the construction of the existing harbor at Lewes, Del., which was projected by a commission of distinguished officers in 1828. Notwithstanding the fact that the plans for this harbor have not been fully carried out, it has been of immense benefit to commerce, and numerous reports establish its great value and its national character. "At the present time this harbor is inadequate to the needs of commerce, and it will continue to be so after the work of Breakwater extension, now in progress, has been completed. Since this harbor was projected the number of vessels requiring its shelter has enormously increased. Its anchorage area is far too limited, and its low water depth of only about 16 feet prohibits its use by the deep-draft vessels of the present day. No extension or improvement can adapt it to the uses of modern deep-draft vessels. Major Raymond, engineer in charge at this port, has prepared plans for the new Breakwater, which are made the basis of the above report, and which will require about $4,000,000 to build.

—At Media, Delaware Co., a petition has been formulated by the authority of President Reilly, of the Media Fire Co., setting forth the necessity of the erection of a building to be used as a borough hall and engine house combined, at an estimated cost of $15,000. It is thought by some that this amount is excessive, and that a building suitable for the purposes intended could be erected for $9000 or $10,000.

—At Harrisburg, the following charters have been issued: To the Apollo Electric Co., of Apollo, capital $20,000; to the Central Cycle Co., of Philadelphia, capital $25,000; to the Henry H. —At Chester, the trustees of the First Baptist Church are considering a number of improvements which will probably be made to the present structure. One of the plans proposed will occasion an expenditure of about $3000, the most of which will be used in putting in a new steam heating apparatus. Some of the members of the congregation are in favor of purchasing a lot in a more favorable locality and of erecting a new edifice.

—At New Castle, Lawrence Co., a company has been formed for the manufacture of tin plate. Among those interested are John Stevenson, Jr., W. S. Foltz, S. W. Cunningham, M. S. Marquis, John Fahline, Frederick Ichberger and George Greer. The proposed plant will cost about $150,000 and about 200 men will be employed. The site of the mill has not yet been selected, but it is probable a location in the southern part of the city will be selected.

—At Chester, Delaware Co., Edward Dickerson, a member of Common Council, is negotiating for the purchase of a large plot of ground in the First Ward, upon which he will erect about thirty substantial brick dwellings. It is said a Philadelphia capitalist is interested in the operation. —At a meeting of the two branches of City Councils the appropriation to the Public Property Department was increased from $15,000 to $18,000 in order to provide for some improvements to Edgemont Avenue Pier, and to purchase a steam boiler to heat the public buildings.

And that we would also solicit the co-operation of the United States Senators from this State in this important matter.

—At Reading, Berks Co., a lot has been purchased by the Mutual Fire Insurance Co., on Fifth above Penn Street, for $16,000. The company contemplates the erection of a handsome new building in the near future. The structure will be of rough-faced sandstone, four stories high, and the interior will be handsomely furnished and supplied with all modern conveniences and improvements. —The Directors of the Poor House have decided to put a new floor in the hospital building at the Almshouse. It will require about 35,000 square feet of lumber for the work, and bids will be received for the same in a short time.

—At Scranton, Lackawanna Co., the Mayor, in his annual message, read Thursday evening, January 21, said: "It is a great disappointment to me and to a large number of our citizens that the municipal building has not been completed; for we are paying interest on the bonds and also spending a large sum for rents; and I hope and trust that if there is any way possible for the bond ordinance, which is now pending before your honorable bodies, to be passed within a few days, that you will exert your every influence to bring about such a passage, and that you will lose no time in providing for a contract for the final completion for the same, and endeavor to have it completed by the first of April next. We must not forget that it will be necessary to make an appropriation to furnish and equip the municipal building, as there will be no use in having a building without furniture and equipments. I therefore recommend that you make an appropriation for such furniture and equipments as will be necessary."

Architect Notes.

The plans for the new structure of N. Snellenberg & Co., to be erected at 932-4 Market Street, have again been placed upon boards for new estimates, certain changes and modifications having been made in the drawings by the architect, Frank R. Watson, 518 Walnut Street. The award of the contract will be made in a few days.

Willis G. Hale, the architect, 1524 Chestnut Street, has completed plans and details for erection of a handsome factory 64 x 170 feet, seven stories high, for William Weightman and to be located at 1010 to 1014 Race Street. When completed it will be occupied by the Heywood Chair Co. The plans contemplate a very ornate front of light colored bricks, stone, and probably some terra cotta work. The interior will be fitted with electric work, elevator service, steam power and heat, best of sanitary plumbing and all modern conveniences. Benj. Ketcham & Son, 1029 Brown Street, have been awarded the contract. Work will not be started until early spring.

George W. Plowman, architect, 1408 Chestnut Street, has completed all plans for the West Philadelphia Theatre, noted in the last issue of this journal, to be located at Fortieth and Lancaster Avenue, and has made blue prints for estimates of contractors. The structure will be three stories high and built of buff brick and terra cotta, with some iron columns and frames in front. The first floor will be fitted for stores, while the remainder will be included in the theatrical portion. An individual electric plant will be used to light the structure, and all the doors will be opened for exit by the same power. It will be heated by steam and will seat 2360 people, and the upholstery will be of the best. Unique proscenium boxes will be at either side and elegantly furnished. Extra outside iron stairways will be provided for exit from galleries, and iron lathing will be used to retain the plaster upon the interior of the building, and every means will be utilized to make it thoroughly fire proof. Work will be started as soon as contracts are awarded upon the estimates now being made.

A. W. Leh, architect, 214 Second Street, South Bethlehem, Pa., has made plans for a fine $10,000 residence on the colonial style for Mr. Harry Weiss at South Bethlehem, Pa. Also, for a twelve room high school building, 92 x 112, three stories high, for borough of South Bethlehem, to be of brick with stone trimmings. Also, two brick store buildings three stories in height, 40 x 75, for Mr. M. Conolly, South Bethlehem. Also, three-story store building 40 x 60 for Semmel, the shoe dealer, in West Bethlehem; to be of brick with stone trimming. Also, two store buildings, 43 x 100, three stories high, for Captain Wiley, of Bethlehem. This building is of Romanesque design and will be located corner of Main and Market Streets. The first story to be of carved stone and above that brick with stone trimming. Estimates are being made on a brick and stone residence for Mr. F. L. Nadler, the undertaker of South Bethlehem. The building is to be 30x58, and was designed by A. W. Leh, and will have hardwood finish throughout and all modern conveniences. Mr. Nadler will at the same time have a brick undertaking establishment built 30 x 70, with warehouse, morgue and stables combined. It is also the design of Mr. A. W. Leh.

P. Albert Welsh, architect, 429 Walnut Street, has on boards plans for a handsome office building for Broomall & Black, to be erected in Chester, Pa., adjoining the new post-office building, to be four stories high, of stone, slate roof, tile floors, vaults throughout, hardwood finish, electric work, steam heat, elevator service, and will have twenty eight offices fitted up, exclusive of the first floor, upon which Mr. Broomall will have a fine suite of rooms for legal offices. The structure will be known as "The Law Building." Same architect has plans for a house at Ridley Park, Pa., for Charles Faligan, to be three stories high, of brick, with shingle roof and all modern conveniences, steam heat, gas fitting, electric bells, and best of sanitary plumbing, etc. Also, just finished plans for large school house and preparing for estimates on the work of construction. Also, getting in shape for estimate on work of fitting up the hall of St. Michael's Roman Catholic Church with stage, machinery, furniture, etc. Same architect has submitted the plans for estimate upon the construction of the house of Robert Wetherill at Chester, Pa. Mr. Welsh is about to begin work upon the interior work of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, on Fourth Street, below Locust, which will be of a very fine character, and has been fully described by us in a former number of this journal. Also, getting in readiness to start work upon St. Agatha's Church at West Chester, Pa., for which plans have been prepared for some time. Mr. Welsh has been engaged to prepare plans for a fine Roman Catholic church to cost about $100,000, of which a full description will be given when drawings are complete. In a few days estimates will be asked for twelve houses to be erected at Sixtieth and Springfield Avenue for Mr. Dwight, who has built a number in the same vicinity. Work under the supervision of Mr. Welsh will at once be started on the parochial house of St. Agatha's Roman Catholic Church at Thirty-eighth and Spring Garden Streets. Estimates are being received on the frescoing, grates, stained glass, etc., for St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, at Lancaster, Pa. Mr. Welsh says he has only fairly opened on his spring work.

The Electric Lighter.

One of the most delightful accessories that electricity furnishes to the household is the newly invented "Electric Lighter," a beautiful ornament for home, and instantly responsive to a call for light, besides being serviceable in many other ways to the family. It is made of highly polished nickel plate, is but six inches high, and occupies only six square inches of space. Its construction is so simple that it can be taken readily to pieces and as easily readjusted to working order. It needs no wires or connections, the current of electricity being generated by chemical action within the cylinder. It is operated by pressing the little button at the top of the centre rod, the light instantly appearing at the opening under the ornament upon the upper band, and is perfectly safe and secure, and a child can operate it. The material used in the battery is sold by every druggist, and ten cents will purchase a supply sufficient for from thirty to sixty days of constant service. Its construction is so ornamental that it will readily find a place among the bric-a-brac, and it is easily portable from room to room. Though originally designed for a lighter, it has been found practicable to add several useful accessories. A medical coil with hand electrodes can be readily attached, by which either gentle or sharp electric shocks can be given to persons suffering from nervous affections, rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, sciatica, headache, etc. This attachment can also be connected by wire to doors and windows, thus providing a complete and perfectly reliable electric burglar alarm, besides which it can be connected by wire to the nearest police station. Another adjunct is the call bell, which is also easily adjustable, and operated by pushing down the central rod. This novel invention with its various accessories will be found a most desirable companion for business and professional men, for students and for housewives for domestic purposes of various kinds. It would be impossible to describe properly this invention within the limits of a newspaper article, as its beauty, quick service and simplicity of construction need to be seen in order to be appreciated. It is manufactured and sold by the Barr Manufacturing Co., at Nos. 17 and 19 Broadway, New York, and additional information may be obtained by addressing the company as above.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Equitable Trust Co., 624 Chestnut Street, held on January 20th, the following officers were unanimously re-elected: William F. Harrity, President; George M. Dallas and Daniel Donovan, Vice-presidents; Frank J. Johann, Secretary and Treasurer, and Thomas Robins, Trust and Title Officer.

Architect Notes.

George T. Pearson, architect, 427 Walnut Street, has made plans for a house for Mr. R. Rathbun, at Bethlehem, Pa., to be three stories high, of Ohio river bricks, tile roof, electric bells, steam heat and all modern conveniences. Also, plans for a fine residence for Mrs. Ivins, on Upsal Street, Germantown, to be of English style of architecture, Ohio river brick, green slate roof and all modern conveniences. Also, plans for a hotel and excursion house and engineer's cottage, at Mill Mountain, Roanoke, Va. Open timber work on interior and good modern conveniences.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Leonard Schwab, contractor, 940 N. Sixth Street, will at once begin alterations and addition to Mechanics Hall, Fourth and George Streets.

John R. Wiggins, 1536 Seybert Street, has the contract to erect a glass conservatory for the German Hospital, at Girard and Corinthian Avenues, and will begin work at once.

The Northern Liberty Gas Co. is about erecting a large boiler house at its works on Laurel, east of Front, to be of brick, iron, and cement work, two stories high, and 23 x 125 feet in area.

Archbishop P. J. Ryan has taken title to the old Scott property, on north side of Pine Street, east of Eighth. Price paid $20,500, to be used for diocesan work, and will probably be somewhat altered on interior.

Lewis Snyder & Son, contractors, 114 N. Thirteenth Street, will at once begin the erection of a boiler house at Reed and Swanson Streets, adjoining sugar house, to be three stories high, 38 x 64 feet, of brick, slate roof, etc.

The congregation of St. Mark's Protestant Episcopal Church, Frankford, assisted by the Brotherhood of St. Andrew's, have started a fund with a view of erecting a parochial building in rear of the church, which will cost about $10,000.

Thomas Dolan's Dye Works will be enlarged by an additional building at Front and Oxford Streets. It will be of brick, one story high, 40 x 206 feet, and contain the necessary steam fittings for the work. David Mayhew, contractor, 1426 Palmer Street, will erect the structure.

The building so long occupied as a storehouse by Leslie, Trinkle & Co., Delaware and Fairmount Avenues, has been condemned by the Board of Building Inspectors, and interior and exterior repairs will be necessary to place it in proper condition.

William Weightman, chemist, has purchased quite a large tract of ground in the vicinity of Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth and Carpenter Streets. Also another smaller purchase facing on Grays Ferry Road, and one upon Washington Avenue. These purchases at present are matters of investment.

The Harmonic German Society have bought of Benjamin Teller & Bro. the Spring Garden Presbyterian Church property at Eleventh Street north of Spring Garden, for $25,000, and intend to remodel it to suit the purposes of the society at once. No plans or details have been completed, as the transfer has only been recorded within a few days.

Oscar L. Wilson, 113 S. Eleventh Street, has leased with privilege of purchase, the premises at the southeast corner of Eleventh and Arch Streets, and will erect a handsome hotel upon the site. It is also understood that an adjoining property will be added to the premises, which extend to Cuthbert Street in the rear.

W. R. Brown, real estate dealer and builder, 3229 North Seventeenth Street, has bought of George H. Hill quite a large lot of ground at corner of Sixteenth and Westmoreland Streets, Tioga, on which to build a number of fine houses when the spring season opens; also a lot at Seventeenth Street and Atlantic Avenue for the same purpose.

J. C. Bell & Co., who lately purchased the property southwest corner of Orthodox and Richmond streets, known as the Jenks estate of ten acres, contemplate a large building operation of about 280 two and three story houses, in the early spring, upon the site. Already ground has been broken for about 43 on Orthodox Street in the way of grading.

The conditions of the union of the Columbia Avenue Presbyterian Church and the old Spring Garden Church are that the former shall raise $10,000 and the latter $19,000 upon the new structure now in course of erection at Twenty-first Street Columbia Avenue. The above has been agreed upon and the Presbytery will be asked to confirm the propositions and the union.

The work of demolishing the old buildings upon which the new offices of the Pennsylvania Railroad will be erected, at Broad and Market Streets, has been started, and the new building will be commenced at once under direction of the company's engineer and architect, A. Felspau, who drew all the plans. These have been noted in former editions of this journal in full.

The contract to erect the train sheds and work for the Terminal Station, extending north from the southern line of Filbert Street, has been given to Charles McCaul, contractor, No. 20 N. Eleventh Street, who has constructed the base work now ready for the superstructure. This work has been so fully described in previous numbers of this journal that no further notice is deemed necessary.

The Baldwin Locomotive Works is about to make an addition of two structures to its works on north side of Pennsylvania Avenue, west of Seventeenth Street, each being respectively 82 x 85 feet and 40 x 80 feet, each to be of brick and iron, the latter being a boiler house and the former a spring manufactory, which will require about $10,000 worth of machinery to fit up for that purpose.

George E. Goldbeck, builder and real estate operator, 4217 Lancaster Avenue, has purchased ground on north side of Master, between Fifty-second and Fifty-third Streets, upon which he intends to erect quite a number of fine houses, the fronts of which are to be of buff brick with brown-stone trimmings, and interior to have all modern conveniences, including hardwood finish, electric bells, sanitary plumbing, etc.

George F. Payne & Co., contractors for the handsome country house of Mitchell Harrison, at Chestnut Hill, including a large stable, is pushing the work forward with vigor. When completed it will be one of the finest in that locality, being 150 feet in length and mostly only two stories high. The centre of structure is in shape of an arcade, extending clear through and arched over. Messrs. Cope & Stewardson, 324-26 Walnut Street, drew all plans and will supervise the work.

Henry A. Hornick, Thirteenth and Sansom Streets, has just taken title to the property at northeast corner of Twelfth and Arch Streets, and will alter or rebuild entirely the present structure for hotel purposes. Mr. Hornick has considered some preliminary ideas or plans, but has not definitely settled upon what will be his line of action; but it is certain he will erect a very handsome and commodious hotel upon the site, upon which work may not be commenced for some time yet.

The Master Carpenters and Builders' Co. of Philadelphia held their annual meeting on the 27th inst. and elected the following officers: President, Stacy Reeves; first vice-president, Benjamin Ketcham; second vice-president, Rush J. Whitesides; secretary, Charles G. Wetter; treasurer, Thomas H. Marshall. The Board of Directors for the ensuing year will be Stacy Reeves, George Watson, Jacob R. Garber, Charles McCaul, Charles G. Welter, Jacob Myers and John Garrison.

The Caledonian Club have sold their property at 214 to 218 Pine Streets for $12,000, and in turn at once took title to the northeast corner of Thirteenth and Spring Garden Streets, formerly owned by R. D. Wood. The lot in size is 40 x 100 feet, and it is the intention of the organization to at once take measures to erect a handsome four-story club house upon the site, which will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000, much of which fund is now in hand. It is likely that John Ord, Architect of the Public Buildings, will prepare the plans for the structure.

J. R. Jordan is about to begin the erection of a fine three-story school house with basement at northwest corner of Frankford Avenue and Ontario Street. The plans were drawn by Architect Austin, and contemplate a red Hummelstown stone structure with slate roof and artificial stone pavement. Interior to be fitted with best of modern conveniences and improvements, inclusive of electric bells, best plumbing and gas fitting, sliding doors, book cases and closets, heated by air furnaces, etc. The structure will be erected under supervision of the architect.

The Haddington Y. M. C. A. Athletic Association is booming to the front more rapidly than any young athletic association across the river. They have purchased grounds at Sixtieth and Vine Streets, and will have them ready in the spring. The grounds will be much larger than the present athletic grounds of the association at Belmont and Elm Avenues, and will have a quarter of a mile racing track. The athletic department have just finished their gymnasium at the rear of the building, and will have it fitted up with the newest and most approved apparatus.

The High School Committee of the Board of Education of Philadelphia have decided to ask of City Councils an appropriation of $500,000 to erect a new High School for boys, and with a view to that end have directed preliminary plans for explanation to be drawn by Mr. Austin, architect. Two sites have for some time been in view for this purpose, the one at Broad and Green Streets, and the other at Twenty-sixth and Jefferson Streets; but the former seems to be the most desired by a majority of the Board. It is said that additional ground can be bought adjoining the present school, which would make it all that could be desired as a first class location.

At a meeting of the Builders' Exchange, Seventh, below Market Street, on the 26th inst. the following directors were elected for three years: Franklin M. Harris, John Kisterbock, Charles P. Bancroft, A. B. Barber, John P. Eyanson, Murrell Dobbins, William B. Irvine; and two years, Peter Gray. The officers will be chosen at a directors' meeting. The following will probably be the successful ticket: President, Murrell Dobbins; first vice-president, William H. Albertson; second vice-president, F. M. Harris; secretary, William Harkness, Jr.; treasurer, Charles Peers. All the superintendents will be retained.

The Property Committee of the Board of Education, at a meeting held on January 27th, formally accepted the plans for the new Normal School, to be erected at Thirteenth and Spring Garden Streets. They call for a structure four stories high, with a large basement, in which will be located a gymnasium, dining room, etc. It will probably be surrounded by an asphalt pavement. A committee was present at the meeting from the Master Builders' Exchange to submit certain points which it was desired to have embodied in future contracts for the protection of sub-contractors. Although at a loss to see how this could be remedied by the Property Committee, Chairman Kavanaugh agreed to consult City Solicitor Warwick, and, if possible, means would be taken in future to modify the contracts as requested by the committee from the Exchange. As soon as the City Solicitor has passed on the question of the contract, proposals will be invited for the new building.

Ordinances have been offered as follows in City Councils by: Mr. Henderson, to open Anthracite Street, from Belgrade Street to Aramingo Avenue; also to open Belgrade Street, between Anthracite and Huntingdon Streets. Mr. McLaughlin, to pave Pink Street, between Master and Jefferson Streets; also, to pave Philip Street, between Master and Oxford Streets; also, to pave Bodine Street, between Jefferson and Oxford Streets; also, to pave Palethorpe Street, between Jefferson and Oxford Streets. Mr. Bateson, to open Columbia Avenue, between Fiftieth and Fifty-second Streets; also, to pave Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Streets, near Aspen; also, to pave Viola Street and Columbia Avenue, between Fifty-first and Fifty-second Streets. Mr. Savidge, to grade Clarence Street, between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth. Mr. Adams, to grade Linden Street, between Jefferson and Bolton Streets. Mr. Knight, to grade Sepviva Street, north and south of Venango Street. Mr. Wilson, granting permission to W. G. Warden to drive an artesian well under his sidewalk on Quince Street, above Pine. Mr. Anderson, to build a sewer and lay gas and water pipes on Fifteenth Street, between Mifflin and McKean Streets. Mr. Garrett, from the Tenth Sectional School Board, requesting the purchase of ground to the west of the Edwin Shippen School House, Cherry Street, above Nineteenth. Mr. Hicks, to place a street on city plan, between McFerran and Broad Streets.

It will reduce the cost of plumbing also. We make them with seven inch or eight inch boiler holes, ovens on right or left of fire, with or without hot closets, and also to heat an upper room. Splendid bakers. Hot water in abundance. The latest and best of their class.

FIDELITY HOT AIR RANGE WITH HORIZONTAL BOILER.

Excelsior Double Oven Range.

If the kitchen is roomy and large, cooking capacity is sought. You will want a brick-set range with a vertical circulating boiler, set in the usual way. The

are acknowledged all over Philadelphia, in which city and vicinity some 75,000 have been sold as the standard brick-set range. They are furnished with ventilated ovens, oven-door pedals, rocking grates, and all modern improvements. Made in seven and eight inch sizes; single, double and hot-air ranges. Send for descriptive pamphlet, entitled "PERFECT COOKING."

THE WILSON HOME TRUST

PURCHASING HOMES FOR CASH AND SELLING THEM ON EASY PAYMENTS.

THIS PLAN IS PATENTED, COPYRIGHTED, AND ALL RIGHTS ARE RESERVED.

ITS OBJECT IS

To enable persons of small means but in regular employment to become OWNERS of a HOME of their own selection, on small payments amounting to little more than rent.

THE PLAN

We offer Instalment Certificates at a premium of $1.25, and a weekly payment of 75 cents per thousand, agreeing that at least one of such certificates in every Eleven shall mature each year, and all inside of seven years. Under certain conditions the number maturing could be largely increased. These certificates, as they mature, entitle you to a home of your own selection, which we will purchase for you, and we will furnish you with a ten-year Mortgage, at a cost to you of $2.25 (on every thousand dollars) per week in lieu of rent. At the end of which term you will own the property absolutely, without any incumbrance whatever.

Should you desire to pay about 50 cents more a week, we will effect an insurance, subject to a doctor's examination, with the Mutual Life and Insurance Co. of New York, whereby, in case of your death at any time after being placed in possession of your house, the property will revert to your wife, heirs or assigns absolutely free.

By doing this, should you live, the property will become your own, and a few years later one thousand dollars cash in addition.

ITS ADVANTAGES

1. No Cash Capital required to join.
2. Immediate possession on maturing of certificate.
3. Paying little more than rent and possessing your own home free of all incumbrance in ten years.
4. Privilege of life insurance feature at small additional cost, which in case of death at any time leaves the property absolutely unincumbered, or, should you live, you obtain the property at the end of the term, with one thousand dollars cash in addition.

EXAMPLE

A house costing $2,000 we would charge you $234 a year for, payable in small weekly instalments, giving you possession thereof as soon as your certificate matures, which might be within a few weeks, and in no event can be delayed beyond a term of seven years. This house would rent for $16.00 per month, or $192.00 per year, showing the small increase of only $42.00 per year, in return for the convenience which our easy system of payment affords.

The Graphite Industry.

The Graphite Industry is fittingly represented by the company whose founder first gave it birth. The Joseph Dixon Crucible Co., Jersey City, N. J., was founded by Joseph Dixon in 1827, who, at that time, began the manufacture of black lead crucibles, and completely revolutionized the crucible business. All crucibles used at the present day for melting brass, steel, copper, gold, nickel, etc., are made of black lead (the common name for graphite), and by the Dixon process.

The Dixon Co. have not only been progressive, but they have been aggressive, and have pushed their goods into all parts of the civilized world. During the past year they made extensive changes in their factories, located in Jersey City. Their graphite mines are at Ticonderoga, N. Y. and their cedar mills are at Crystal River, Fla.

The nature of graphite, sometimes called plumbago, or blacklead, is not generally understood; and therefore, its great value in the mechanical arts has not been fully appreciated. Graphite is one of the forms of carbon. It is not affected by heat, cold, acids, alkalies or any known chemical solvent. It is also the best solid lubricant known to science, a remarkable conductor of heat and electricity. The peculiar qualities of graphite have given it a wide range of usefulness. It is used in the manufacture of lubricants for all purposes, crucibles, stove polish, lead pencils, foundry facings, electrotyping graphite, graphite paint, etc.

The Dixon Co. are miners as well as importers of graphite in all its forms, and use no graphite that they do not mine or prepare. Their mines are located in Ticonderoga, N. Y., and they have every facility in the way of chemists and expensive machinery, etc., necessary for completely freeing the graphite from the silica, sulphur and other impurities which it contains when it comes from the mines.

The company's illustrated catalogue of graphite production is an interesting pamphlet and well worth reading. It is sent free on application.

A Rare Collection.

It is seldom that Philadelphia is afforded such an opportunity to examine and to purchase fine oil paintings as is now offered in the very choice collection on exhibition at the galleries of Davis & Harvey, 1212 Chestnut Street, and which will be offered for sale on the afternoons of Thursday and Friday, February 11th and 12th. The collection embraces works by the following eminent artists: Fortuny, Senet, Corcos, Gomes, Corot, Diaz, Meissonier, Willems, Rico, Gimenez, Rousseau and Detti. Besides these paintings, four rare gobelin tapestries painted by the celebrated artists, Brenda and Simonetti, and representing "An Agreeable Lesson," "Abundance," "The Mysterious Basket" and "The Acceptable Bouquet," will also be offered for sale. The collection is now on exhibition, and the public is cordially invited to visit the galleries.

Definite action has not as yet been taken, but will receive consideration by those interested at an early day.

The Fidelity Storage and Warehouse Co., located at 1815 to 1819 Market Street, intend at an early day to enlarge their present warehouse by the addition of an eight story structure upon the east including the Nos. 1811-13. The structure will to some extent be in architectural uniformity with the present building. On the interior it is designed to introduce some new features. A large store or salesroom will be upon the first floor, and powerful elevators for the purpose of transporting to any of the different stories the loaded vans of the company, also passenger elevators for accommodation of patrons, electric work, including light and bells, will be introduced. In fact, every modern improvement and convenience will be a feature. No contracts have been made, and it is proposed to invite competition in preparation of plans by architects. W. Douglass Halfman is the manager.

It is one thing to know just what you want when you are going to buy a piano, and quite another thing to see that you get it. You may have the most accurate ear for discriminating between the false and the true in chords and yet be deceived. It is in the nature of things that pianos must be bought, to a great extent, on faith. The point about which there must be no dispute is the reliability of the maker. One thing that is sure is that you will make no disappointing discoveries with the Weber.

A Few Quiet Words with House Builders and Owners.

If the kitchen of your house is small, you need to economize room. You can do this by using a range with elevated boiler, such as the

"FIDELITY."

It will reduce the cost of plumbing also. We make them with seven inch or eight inch boiler holes, ovens on right or left of fire, with or without hot closets, and also to heat an upper room. Splendid bakers. Hot water in abundance. The latest and best of their class.

FIDELITY HOT AIR RANGE WITH HORIZONTAL BOILER.

Excelsior Double Oven Range.

If the kitchen is roomy and large, cooking capacity is sought. You will want a brick-set range with a vertical circulating boiler, set in the usual way. The

are acknowledged all over Philadelphia, in which city and vicinity some 75,000 have been sold as the standard brick-set range. They are furnished with ventilated ovens, oven-door pedals, rocking grates, and all modern improvements. Made in seven and eight inch sizes; single, double and hot-air ranges. Send for descriptive pamphlet, entitled "PERFECT COOKING."

MECHANICS INSURANCE CO. OF PHILADELPHIA, 500 WALNUT STREET,

Insures Property against Loss by Fire, either Perpetually or for a Term.

Washington, D. C.

Bills have been introduced into the U. S. Senate asking for appropriations for public buildings at McKeesport and Washington, Pa., to cost $100,000 each.—The donation of Father McMahon to the Catholic University at Georgetown, D. C., having become available work, will be begun at an early date on the McMahon Hall of Philosophy.—Secretary Elkins has sent a report to the House of a commission of engineer officers upon an examination with estimate of cost for the construction of a deep harbor of refuge near the Delaware Bay. The plan calls for a stone breakwater a mile and a half long, and a row of ten ice piers across the upper end of the harbor. The estimated cost is $4,665,000.—The plans are now complete for the new post office which will be erected at a cost of $2,000,000. The main building will be seven stories high, and it will be handsomely fitted up on the interior with all modern conveniences and improvements. The proposals for its erection will be invited, it is thought, in a few weeks.—Messrs. Barr & Sanner will erect a block of eight dwellings on M Street, between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Streets. They will be of brick, handsomely finished on the interior, and furnished with modern conveniences and improvements. The estimated cost is $32,000.—J. H. Richards has had plans drawn for a handsome dwelling which he will have erected at 2108 R Street. It will be of brick, with a front of Indiana limestone, four stories high, mansard roof, covered with tin and tile. The interior will be finished in hard woods, and modern conveniences and improvements will be introduced. The cost will be about $10,000.—Plans have been drawn by Edward Woltz, for four dwellings, two to be erected at 2900 and 2902 P Street, Georgetown, to cost about $10,000, and two on Twenty-ninth Street, to cost about $7000. They will be of press brick, well finished on interior and modern improvements will be introduced. J. S. Clark is the contractor for the operation. The same contractor has been awarded the contract for quite an extensive operation at Eckington, a suburb of Washington. This will consist of nine dwellings for C. V. Riley, of Wyoming Avenue. They will be of brick, two and three stories high, and handsomely finished on the interiors. The plans have been drawn by J. A. Sibley.—Mrs. A. Lancaster will have a handsome dwelling erected at 209 New Jersey Avenue at a cost of $5000. W. J. Kolb is the contractor.—Plans have been drawn by J. A. Sibley for a new front and additional story to 203 North Capitol Street for Mrs. A. Brondriff. J. F. Talbert will erect a dwelling for J. H. Glick, to cost $5000.

Miscellaneous.

At Holyoke, Mass., it is reported that a new bridge will be constructed over the railroad tracks at Dwight street.
